

Burn the stick - To slide down a pole.
 Bushel - To cut logs for pay by the piece rather than by the day
 Bushtail - A horse.
 Butt - The trunk of a tree from which the branches have been trimmed.
 Camp-eye - Camp watchman.
 Camp Inspector - A logger who never works long at one job, moving from camp to camp.
 Cant - To turn logs with a cant-hook.
 Cant HOOK - A tool consisting of a metal hook or dog on a wooden handle.
 Cat-skinner - One who operates a caterpillar tractor.
 Cedar Saw - A one man crosscut saw for small logs.
 Cheat-stick - A log-scaler's rule.
 Choke-strap - A necktie.
 Clapboard - A thin board split from a log, used for boarding or roofing.
 Cackler - The camp clerk.
 Come-along - A tool for carrying logs consisting of a pair of hooks hung in the middle of a handle. Lug-hook, timber carrier.
 Cold deck - A storage pile of logs.
 Cold skidding - Skidding logs out of the woods at some future time after they have been cut.
 Cow's Mouth - A notch chopped in a tree to fell it.
 Crown - The top of a tree
 Crown fire - A forest fire in the tops of trees.
 Cruiser - A timber cruiser, estimator of the cut in an area.
 Cruiser Axe - A double bitted axe of the three quarter size.
 Chickadee - One who walks the hauling roads repairing them and placing hay on steep hills.
 Crutch - A pole used in place of a broken wheel, placed under the axle and fastened to the bed so that the wagon will slide.
 Cuff - To keep the log in motion in competitive birling, by kicking it with the feet.
 Deacon's seat - A large seat by the fireplace in a bunkhouse, regarded as a place of honour.
 Deadhead - A log partly sunk in the water.
 Dead man - A fallen tree.
 Dead log - A log that will not float.
 Doll Buggy - A two wheeled cart.
 Donkey Puncher - One who operates a donkey engine.
 Down log - A log that has fallen of its own accord.
 Double Barrel - A bunk or bed for two men.
 Drag one's feet - To ride the saw or fail to do one's share in a two man operation of sawing.
 Dugout - A water trough made by hewing out the inside of a log. A dugout boat.