ing; language, arithmetic, geography and history. In the vocational subjects, home economics; sewing; beauty culture; typing; printing; business; woodworking; carpentry; agriculture and mechanics, will help us to be useful citizens of Canada. We will try to remember the lessons we have learned here, and hope to meet what we cannot foresee, with courage.

"We express our thanks to the Province of Ontario for providing us with such an excellent school in which we have received such an excellent training.

"We shall remember the nurse, the doctor and the dentist for their careful attention during our illnesses.

"At our school we have had full and interesting sports' program, which has given us much pleasure and has helped to keep us in good health. We thank the sports' teachers for preparing us to compete with other schools in the various games. We have learned the rules of good sportsmanship and this will help us throughout our lives."

The day closed with the recessional, and the taking of many pictures.
