This attractive doorway on the Station Street side is the main entrance to Belleville's new Federal Building where eight local Federal offices have now been located for over two weeks. The above entrance will be the one generally used by visitors to the first floor income tax department.

Building directory at the Church St. entrance to the Federal Building is seen here. All departments with the exception of the post office can be reached through this entrance. All offices but the postal department and income tax department are on the second floor.
