

On the road again

BELLEVILLE

BULLS

Keep pace with the Bulls

Bulls games will again get extensive coverage on local radio and cable television.

All away games will be, for a 16th straight season, broadcast on CJBQ 800 AM with play-by-play man JACK MILLER.

As well, all Wednesday home games and selected Saturday games will be taped by Cablevue 4 and re-broadcast the following night. Miller will usually handle play-by-play for those games, with colleague TODD SMITH occasionally filling in.

Color commentary will be shared by The Intelligencer's TOM GAVEY and PAUL SVOBODA.

Cablevue's Bullseye, an interview and highlights program in its third season, will return with Smith as host.

Bulls are also expected to be featured once on Global TV's OHL Game of the Week on a Saturday afternoon. It wasn't known if the team would be on any TSN broadcasts of junior hockey this year.

Word of CTV getting a licence for another sports cable network meant the possibility more junior hockey will be broadcast and Belleville could be involved down the road.
