

Probing for Leaks

Many reports of possible leaks concern underground pipelines and Lakeland Natural Gas employs a gas-sensing meter to determine the exact location of them. Area supervisor John H. Pearce holds the device as serviceman John Skillen bores a hole deep into the ground for insertion of the probe.

Intelligencer, Sept. 14/71