

MORTON-PARKER

July 12, 1997

p. 13

SATURDAY
SMILE

"Disney, of course, I
doesn't like an act
- Alfre

Weekend EXTRA

Paul Woolsey, metal spinner at Morton-Parker silver company, turns a slab of pewter into an ice bucket, which will then be silver-plated. The company, which started in Trenton in 1945, makes electroplated holloware for both domestic and commercial customers.

D. 1