Greg Armishaw and Megan Richardson of the Odd Network (www.oddnetwork.ca) have set up shop in Belleville. The web design firm offers a variety of services, including the creation of animated websites.

part of the Quinte area, Richardson said.

"Our mandate is to get involved ... and a big part of that is to become active in the community in which we live."

Not-for-profit agencies, charities and other community-based organizations should contact the Odd Network for more information, Armishaw added.

"No website should be boring, in our opinion. When people come to us, we hope that they're coming because they've seen our work — that's the whole point," he said.
