BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, W

Mayor George Zegouras, left, was one of several given a guided tour of Northern Telecom's Sidney Street production facilities by Northern director of manufacturing, Chris Herriots, centre. Tuesday, plant employees, company executives and local press gathered for a satellite-fed news conference to announce the company's latest product line — a new phone switching system capable of handling a variety of functions. Production of the new product line will be split between Belleville and California at Northern plants and assures local jobs. See story, Page 11.
