Steel June 23/86 Bel - Business

Jim Moore, owner and operator of Quinte Computer Services, stands on what will soon be the site of an expansion that will increase the size of his 2,600-square-foot office to 6,600 square feet. The company, which started in the basement of the Hastings County Board of Education headquarters in 1974, has kept pace with the ever-changing world of computers and is even connected by satellite link to computers in Europe.
