

Story March 31/89 Bel-Industries

New line

Lab-Volt (Quintech Division) director of engineering Brian Milroy demonstrates one of the northeast industrial park plant's newest lines of equipment, a system designed to implement the new high school level physics program called "principles of technology." Milroy predicts it will become a major item in manufacturing and sales over the next few years.