

In 1963, this collage showed members of Belleville police and the old police headquarters on Pinnacle Street behind city hall. The building was torn down after the force moved to new quarters on Campbell Street.

Dale Ashbury retired from the Belleville Police Forces in 1977. Here Ashbury takes fingerprints off a metal bank in a tiny room he shared with four other detectives.