

But Scouting remains a favourite endeavour, he said.

There is always one kid with a problem and Fry said not letting that person fall through the cracks is his goal. When the child grows up to be a good citizen, Fry's happy.

"Somewhere long the line I had a hand in that youth becoming what he is today," he said. "If job satisfaction could pay, I would be a millionaire."

Contact Barry Ellsworth at:
newsroom@intelligencer.ca

Nicholas Fry