

Above: Intelligencer photo by Luke Hendry

In his lifetime as a percussionist, Brian Barlow has played dozens of big names, performing with Tommy Hunter and Moe Koffman and adding his musical touch to Sesame Street, film scores such as Moonstruck, and symphonic works. The Belleville-born musician, arranger, and composer now lives in Carrying Place and is about to release One Hot Summer Night, a live album recorded at the Regent Theatre last July during the Prince Edward County Jazz Festival.