Moves Up In Branch

Intell Dept
District forester at Pembroke for the past three years, Thomas W. Hueston has been named regional director for the eastern region of the Ontario Conservation Authorities Branch of the Ministry of Natural resources.

The Eastern Region is one of six regions set up across Ontario with the view providing closer contacts between the provincial department and the local authorities.

The Moira River Conservation Authority and the Lower Trent Region Conservation Authority are expected to be in the eastern region although a final decision on boundary lines has not been made.

Al. H. Peacock, former district forester at Tweed, is the director for the Central Region running west from the Quinte district. Mr. Peacock worked as a student on the original surveys of the Moira and Napanee watershed during the summers of 1946 to 1948.
