

George and Elizabeth
Taylor

Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor Happily Wed for 50 Years

AMELIASBURG — Residing in the village for the last two years a couple who lived in Belleville for 30 years celebrated their golden wedding anniversary here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor identified for many years as active workers with the Belleville branch of the Salvation Army were married during the First World War at Cain's Cross, Gloucestershire, England.

Earlier Mr. Taylor had come to Canada as an immigrant and was working on the railroad in Western Ontario at the outbreak of hostilities in 1914. His bride-to-be Elizabeth Barnes had been his sweetheart since childhood.

The nuptial ceremony was in the Anglican church with the Rev. Wilkinson Storey officiating. Their best man A. W. Wilkins, who settled at Hamilton, Ontario, later on came down during the weekend to be with them for the occasion.

Mr. Taylor went overseas with the 71st battalion recruited at London, Ontario, and then transferred to another outfit in the Canadian contingent — the 54th battalion from Coutney, B.C. He then continued his career as a railroader after leaving the army until in 1958, engaged as an engineer of long standing, he retired.

The Taylors moved to Belleville in 1929 and lived in the area ever since with the exception of six years when they made their home on the east coast to be near a son.

When they made their home in Belleville they devoted considerable time and effort to activities of the Salvation Army. Mr. Taylor served as secretary-treasurer of the local citadel for several terms.

Among the many cards they received was a special message of congratulations from Premier John Robarts.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have three sons — William at 66 Elizabeth Crescent, Belleville; Arthur of Niagara Falls and Donald at Halifax. They also have 14 grandchildren.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE TAYLOR