Dr. Greg Tucker (left), a Belleville Kinsman, got a pleasant surprise Saturday night as he walked into the service club's community hall to the happy greetings of 110 Kinsmen and Kinettes as they presented him with a life membership. Tucker, a city dentist, has held every executive position in the service club during his 13-year history with the organization. He was presented with a commemorative plaque, pin and badge during the annual awards banquet by club president Mark Valiquette (right). During the same banquet, Jim Spicer was given Kinsmen of the Year, and Rookie of the Year went to John Marshall.
