TRENTON — Mayor Duncan McDonald died Sunday of cancer in Kingston General Hospital at age 65.

He had been mayor for the past four years and also served from 1970 to 1974, when a job transfer took him to Ottawa.

He retired from Canadian Pacific Railway in 1978 as general manager of passenger service.

McDonald was first elected to town council in 1960 and ran for mayor in 1970, defeating incumbent Jim McDonald.

He returned to Trenton in 1978 and was elected mayor again with a landslide victory over incumbent Robert Patrick.

In November, 1980, he defeated Alderman Bob Wannamaker.

McDonald was born in Toronto and married the former Joanne Fillion of Trenton.

A funeral mass will be celebrated Thursday at 10 a.m. at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Trenton.
