Just after he married 70 years ago Harvey Murray started to build a house, a home he has lived in with his wife Margaret ever since.

On Sunday, four generations of the Murray family crowded into the Donald Street home to help the couple celebrate their 70th anniversary -- truly a highpoint in married life.

Harvey and Margaret were married in 1912 at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. They were united by Rev. A.S. Kerr whose wife and John Campbell were witnesses.

The couple had five children -- and now boast a family of 12 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren.

Mr. Murray worked for the Canadian National Railway for 45 years before retiring 24 years ago. Mr. Harvey and his son Peter are the only father-son combination members of the Canadian National Railways Pensioners Association. He was also a member of the Orange Lodge and railroad brotherhood. Mrs. Murray belonged to the Eastern Star Lodge. Both are still very active, doing their own housework and shopping.

The couple are also avid fishermen and have their own lakeside cottage.

In honor of the occasion, the Murrays received a variety of congratulatory plaques and telegrams from Pierre Trudeau, Joe Clark, Queen Elizabeth and Mayor George Zegouras, who was present at the celebration.
