Susan Nelles wed
in private ceremony

Nurse Susan Nelles married her long-time fiancé during an evening service at Bridge Street United Church Saturday.

Nelles, 28, was wed to James Robert Pine, a management policy advisor for the Ontario Ministry of Municipal Affairs, by Rev. Dr. Harold Wilson at the 6 p.m. ceremony, which was attended by about 120 guests.

The ceremony was private, with admission by invitation only.

Nelles wore a full-length, high-necked Victorian-style white gown with a 10-foot train. She was escorted down the aisle by brother, Dr. David Nelles.

The half-hour service had a Christmas theme and the couple were married under an arch of pine boughs and red ribbons at an altar covered with poinsettia. The couple helped write the vows used by Rev. Wilson.

Nelles is the daughter of Mrs. Barbara Nelles and the late Dr. James Nelles. Pine is the son of Mrs. Elmer Pine.

The Pines, who will spend their honeymoon on a ski vacation in Banff, plan to live in Toronto.
