

A. R. Lancefield's High Qualities Noted At Burial

A gathering of friends and long-time associates filled MacNeill Memorial Church Saturday afternoon for the simple funeral service which marked the passing of Allan R. Lancefield, prominent for many years in the business life of this city.

The Rev. W. T. Stevens, minister of the church, conducted the service; the Rev. Dr. F. W. Waters, McMaster University, led in prayer and pronounced the benediction.

There was no formal eulogy, but reference was made in the prayer to Mr. Lancefield's high qualities of character in both his personal and business life, and to his services both to the church and the community.

Honorary pallbearers were Mayor Lloyd D. Jackson, Dr. George P. Gilmour, president of McMaster University; W. H. Cooper, Peter Gordon, Stuart H. Lees, Dr. J. A. Simpson, H. D. Thomas, E. G. Wray.

Active pallbearers were R. W. Bradley, Paul Fisher, Ewart Dixon, Harvey Patterson, E. J. Ellis, G. T. Inch, Q.C.

Interment took place at Woodland Cemetery.

Farmed Area For 45 Years

Retired Aldershot farmer, Mr. Florindo DeLuca, 76, died suddenly Saturday, April 13, at Joseph Brant Memorial Hospital. Mr. DeLuca resided at 21 Plains Rd. East and for 45 years conducted a market garden business in the area. For years he was a familiar figure on the Hamilton market.

Born in Italy, he came to Canada in 1903 where he worked in Hamilton for Linkert Bakery. He returned to Italy, married and worked on his family's large farm there. He retained fond memories of this country, however and before World War 1 came to Canada once more, this time with his wife and family. For some years he farmed rented Gallagher property and then purchased land surrounding the present home from Mr. George Filman. For 34 years he farmed there until his retirement in 1952. His son, Joseph has carried on another aspect of the family tradition and is in the landscaping business.

Surviving Mr. DeLuca are his wife, the former Rosalinda Cupido, his son Joseph and his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Robinson (Mary), both of Aldershot and 6 grandchildren. Requiem Mass was said in Holy Rosary

Aldershot Loses Valuable Citizen

The sympathy of the Aldershot Community Council is extended to Mrs. John O'Brien and her family in their recent bereavement. Mr. O'Brien was a faithful and devoted servant of the community during his 35 years residence, serving as a member of the Council of East Flamboro Township for seven years and as Deputy Reeve for the last two years.

HIGHLY RESPECTED SISTERS—Miss Rhoda Bell, left, and her sister, Miss Mary Bell, Reg. N., are daughters of the late William Bell, who introduced the growing of strawberries in Ontario, and, it is believed, in Canada, at Campbell's Corners. Now residing in Burlington, they formerly lived in the home now occupied by Dr. W. J. Deadman and Mrs. Deadman. Miss Mary Bell, who was 89 years of age in January, is an ardent gardener.

Oldest Resident Dies

Miss Mary Bell, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, died at her residence, 418 Burlington Avenue.

Miss Bell was a graduate nurse of Grace Hospital, Toronto.

Funeral services were held Tuesday. She was buried at East Plains United Cemetery.

Celebrate Anniversaries

Held Tea

MR. AND MRS. William Brimmacombe, 951 Park Avenue West, Aldershot, were honored by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Morgan, at an afternoon tea at their home at 43 Ireson Road, Burlington, on December 23, in honor of their golden wedding anniversary.

Married in Colborne Street Methodist Church, Brantford, by the late Rev. C. Laggart Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Brimmacombe were both born in London and came to Canada in 1907 and 1909 respectively. Mrs. Brimmacombe was Beatrice Louise Abel before her marriage.

THE COUPLE moved to Hamilton in 1918 and Mr. Brimmacombe was employed by the Eaton Knitting Company until his retirement in 1937. They have resided in Aldershot for the last 14 years. They are members of St. Matthew's Anglican Church.

Besides their daughter Beatrice, they have three granddaughters.
