

Home On Leave

Home on leave after thrilling service with the Royal Canadian Navy in the Atlantic, Able Seaman R. W. Garvin, of Toronto, is loathe to talk of his experiences. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Garvin, 328 Donlands avenue, and joined the Navy in January, 1940, when he entered the RCNVR in Toronto.

"It's a great life, you can say that," Seaman Garvin said, adding that there was never a dull moment. The Toronto youth has crossed the ocean on convoy duty on many occasions.
