

LINDSAY AIRMAN HAD EXCITING

EXPERIENCES CHASING HUN SUBS

Mrs. M. Davis, Elgin St. was profuse in her enthusiasm regarding the return of her airman son to town and home. "Words cannot express how I feel. He has been two years overseas and working hard and I am glad he is back for a furlough" said Mrs. Davis, regarding her son P. O. Bernard "Bun" Davis. "Bun" arrived in Canada on Thursday and reached home late Friday night.

For sixteen months P.O. Davis was with the "Demon" Squadron, attached to coastal duty and engaged in bombing German convoys and supply ships. The squadron also was engaged in anti-sub searches and combats in the Bay of Biscay.

P.O. Davis recalls participating in a sub attack and was lucky, as he remarked, to have a part in sending it to the bottom of the ocean.

In October last the young airman married an English bride, who expects to come across to Canada as soon as transportation can be secured.

A sister of P. O. Davis is now attached to the CWAC stationed in Kingston.
