

During the recent Federal election campaign, the writer of "Main Street" purposely refrained from writing any article pro or con regarding the three candidates or expressing issues.

Four days after the close of the campaign and election day, a short article did appear in this column which joined in congratulating the victorious candidate and reference was made to the defeated candidate.

Friday evening, Mr. David Logan chastised the writer as being unfair and bigoted in referring to his loss at the polls.

It was not the writer's intention to reflect on the ability or talent of the Liberal candidate and possibly some readers read into our comment meanings that were not intended.

It might be added that David Logan's father, the late Dr. Hugh Logan, was not only a skilful Surgeon, a community-minded citizen and a former Mayor of the town, but that Dr. Logan's brother the late Dr. Fred Logan, was also a highly respected medical practitioner and later was Superintendent of the Toronto General Hospital.
