We wish our readers in the several villages of the County of Victoria would lend us their assistance in making our paper a medium of general intelligence. In almost every neighborhood something of interest occurs worthy of a place in the local columns of a County paper, and we would feel much obliged to have such incidents forwarded to us by our readers.

The Canadian Post. LINDSAY, C.W. THURSDAY, AUGUST 7, 1862.

THE WAR.

The position occupied by the Federal army is now much the same as it was five weeks ago, after being driven from its entrenchments and earthworks by a victorious Southern army. Of course sickness and disease must have thinned the ranks of both armies, but both are receiving reinforcements; so that even should there be no serious fighting during the hot summer weather, the armies must be decimated to a fearful extent.

The very thought of the war being continued till exhaustion produces a cessation of hostilities, is fearful to contemplate; yet we cannot shut our eyes to the real facts of the case. From what has already been enacted it is manifest that the balance of power is so equal that, supposing both parties to possess unlimited resources, the war may be continued to any indefinite period.

We had a few remarks on this subject in our last issue, when we expressed the hope that Mr. McGee would be at the head of the Bureau of Emigration. Our readers interested in the progress and well being of the Province, will regret to learn that Lower Canadian influence has prevailed, and that Mr. Cartwright will have charge of that department.

THE CATTLE NUISANCE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST. Sir,—Will you or some one of your numerous readers inform me whether people, having cattle roaming at large, have any right to complain of them by shooting a bull around their neck. Myself and no doubt others, are regularly serenaded every night of the week; and if the law will sustain me, I purpose taking action against the proprietors of the afore-mentioned animals; so that I would warn them to remove that overhanging 'single-lig'.

Some of our contemporaries are arguing pro and con on the probability of Mr. Geo. Brown's return to public life. It is well known that Mr. Brown, before he left England he had resolved to become a candidate for a seat in the Lower House, when a favourable opportunity occurred.
