TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
advances $3.00 it paid within the year
$2.00 if not so paid.

G. CRUICESHANK & CO., Pablishers and Proprieto

A Good Chance FOR PROFESSIONAL GENTLEMEN

allot ofcommerciants, once of he RAMESICANT of the 2dit, declaring nimera had come who wish to do CY A SAFE AND EXTENSIVE 4

BUSINESS !

THE "CANADIAN POST"

Inducements for Advertising 17 Never Equalied 41

By Advertising IN ITS COLUMNS !!

As a special inducement, and to meet the wants

A Discount of 20 per cent. will be allowed ON ALL CASIL ADVERTISEMENTS

LE LIBERALLY ARRANGED WITHI

As this is the best season for advertising, partie who wish to maintain and extend their business should give the above their consideration. Lindsay, Jan. 15, 1863.

Insiness Cards.

LINDSAY.

LACOURSE, Barrister, Attorney-at Lew, Coursyancer, des. Office Kornan rick Buildings, Kent Street, Lindsay, C.W. 114-tf Sout & 1801e . Sector act for LAMBERICK WHITT, Attorney at Law Conveyancer, &c. Kent Street, Lindsay.

T. A. HUDSPETH, Barristerat-Law, No. 11 tary Public, &c. Office-Mrs. Patrick's Brick Brick Brick Brick Brick Sept. 5. 1861.

WELLEN & MIDTHIEL, Beauserins and Attacage at-Law, Soligitors in Changery Naturios Public, Conveyangers, do., do., do., bind-say, Olies in Mr. Beliton's Building, op states. GRO. JAS. WRIGER. C. A. WRELERA 121-11 Indsage Jane 1862.

M. EADYEV, ATTORNEYATION and . Salis'ine in Chausery. Office—Medonnell's ficial Building, corner of Kent and William Sta-ton lary (above Broughall & Gimson's Store), little

R. L. BENSON, LL. W. Harrister and STARTER IN CHANGERS, STEARS PORCE. CONVEYANCER & COC

M. Dannyil's Mark, eyer Division Court. Links are Call Lana Serveyer, Respot Strate.

to a come of the state of the s One and open of the ne and William Streets, over the loops with the riffered F14-1

C. Surveyone Office In Mr. Kompt's Building.

JAMES H. KNIGHT (Love Ordered of Trenty Church, Gale) TRACTION OF THE PLANOFORTS AND Residence at Mr. C. Britten's, Ment Street, LINDSAY.

M Cashs, CUMBERLAND & STORM, Commission and Architects, ROMAINE BUILDINGS,

TORONTO. G. COX, House and Ornam W. Painter and Glasier, William Street, Lind-cay. Corntry and other work attended to with punctuality and desputch. 144-ti

HENRY HOWLAND, Plain and Orms, Stroot, Lindsayer Br All orders promptly and faithfully executed.

WINTERS & GOODWIN, Painters, Gla-linkers, Work executed promptly, neatly, and at the lowest prices.

JOHN DOUGLASS, General Agent and thocased Austioneer, Cambridge Street, Lindsay, Orders solicited, 125-41

J. Listle, Butcher, and Dealer in all kinds of Meats, William Street, three doors from Peel Street, Idulany. N.II.—Orders for every description of Meat solicited. 110-tf

(CIRCULAR.)

MRS. LAWDER RESPECTFULLY informs the Inhabitants of Inadesy that she has become a permanent resident amongst them, and that she is prepared to receive Pupils and give instructions on the Piane ate, and in Singing, on the most improved prin-

Mes. Le feels confident that she will be able to N.H. TERMS MODERATE, Lindsop, Nov. 10, 1862.

RARY, POLITICAL, EDUCATIONAL

LINDSAY, C.W., THURSDAY, FEB. 12, 1863.

Miscellaneous.

eiven to us, as the nurse gives the child a pretty

Unsiness

BEAVER ON.

S. G. WOOD, LL.B., Barrister and and proceeded to de SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY AND CONVEYANCES, MANTLIA, C.W.

GOOD LIQUORS AND CIGARS.

ADAM GORDON. DRY GOODS, GROCKRIES, HARDWARE,

MANILLA, C.W., BEGS leave to inform the Public that he still continues to purchase Wheat, Pork, and other farm produce, at the Highest Market Price. N.B .- Bran and Shorts for sale.

OAKWOOD.

BANKS' HOTEL, Main Street, Oakwood

WOODVILLE.

TORPHERN HOTEL, Woodville, C.W. A. P. Wood, Proprietor. Good accordances for travellers. Charges moderate, and industrious Octlers in attendance.

GUCHRIST & CAMERON. In returning thanks to their Friends the tiberal putronage hitherty extended them, are happy to announce that they are

Fall and Winter Stock.

hich, for cheapness and quality, cannot be ex-elled in the Back Country. Their TEAS and other GROCERIES are of the Their TEAS and other GROUERIES are of the same superior quality they need to keep.

They have received a very select assortment of POCKET BIBLES, with Fadres and Paraphrases. The public are respectfully informed that G. & C. deat with all who favor them with their custom, both at Woodville and Argyle, on very liberal.

Woodville, Oct. 9, 1862.

LAW PARTNERSHIP.

TORONTO.

1918 Unders ned have entered into pur norship as Attornies, Solicitors, Conveyancer accumies the style and firm of McNAn & McCan La Chice—Opposite Court House, Adelaid, 1861, Toronto. Toronto, dana 1863. WM. McDougald.

Advertising Essential to Business.

ECROPEAN and Coopial Advertising and General Mercantile, Shipping and Railway Agent, Wellington Street, Toronto, C. W., receives Advertisements for insertion in all the Canadian, European and States Newspapers and Periodicals, Asknowledged Agent for this paper. Jane 1869

QUEBEC.

FRED. TAYLOR, Parliamentary, Land, & General Agent, PATENTS FOR CROWN LANDS OBTAINED. Claims before the Department of Crown Lands presented,
Patents of Invention and General Rusiness with the Public Offices attended to,
Titles Examined and Legal Advice given Pres of h arge.

References: Hon. George S. Boulton, Cobour, T. R. Merritt, Esq., St. Catherines; Hon. L. Re, and Montroul; Hon. D. McDonald, Toronto; Ho. G. Alexander, Woodstook: Hon. J. Hamilton Hawkesbury; hon. D. Christie, Brantford; Hon. R. Matheson, Perth; G.J. Goodhue, London; Hon. A. Kierzkowski, St. Guarles.

OFFICE-Corner of Buade and Forth Streets, QUEBEC.

HENRY GRIST,

Departmental and Parliamentary Agent QUEBEC. Suvestigates and Adjusts Crown Land Claims

SECURES LAND PATENTS.

Designs,
Tukes charge of Private Bills during their pus sage through the Legislature, &c., &c., For parties who are unable to devote their own the tion to all who may patronise her, she DEEDS. MORTGAGES, ASSIGNMENTS, DISCHARGES.

> LEASES, in a cland all kinds of a the smalles MAGISTRATES' BLANKS,
> "Canadian Post" Book Store
> Opposite the Post Office.

Biterature.

Ranahan, the Murderer:

A sileuce ensued while Ranahan was finishing his dressing. - I then turned to Trelford, Comes Clerk's office, we'l pain, "tuion ad We then filed out of the house, and proceeded down the lane towards the river. Arriving again at what had been the ford, nended that a short piece of rope, which he Wat BANKS, Proprietor. 118-st. procured. We then pussed it through Ranaleaving two long ends, about five or six feet, one before and one behind. Two men then went forward, making their footing as firm as ssible, and holding hands as described in the first instance. I then gave the end of the rope to the third man, who followed, and I en desired Ramhan to proceed. About the id a pinnge, and Ranahan called out-"If you attenue to hold on, boys, I'll bring both of you to hel with me; so let out, I my !" and he plunged furiously. But he struggled in vain-they held on like men, being themselves held tightly by their omrades; and literally dragging our prisoner through the remainder of the flood, we got afely to the opposite bank.

All was now easy of accomplishment. The other streams -or cuts, as they are called were nothing but summer music in comparisau to the Red River, and we skipped across

It was now nearly clear daylight of the 13th of March which I found entered in the margin of my journal in a separate space for itself. a though the duty was continuous. If You

Wet soon arrived at Drumbola, where the rar which had fetched me was awaiting my return. Placing Ranahan on the ear, we promoded direct to the county town, where, befor evening I fodged the prisoner safely in and she described the murder precisely. When was, called on to identify the prisoner, she looked exclaimed - almem yahaati we elistan be length she became sufficiently recovered, and Brooke had gone on the night of the murder. this portion of her evidence. Nothing mat next witness for the Crown, but a short, thick, but I never could do so, with even tolerable black as an Ethopian's, while his eyebrows were long and heavy, and overhung the most furiously piercing eyes I ever saw. He was not more than five feet four inches high, but had a body and shoulders for a man of at least in the witness chair upon the table. While I

The eventful day of trial came, and Raia.

After loading again he drove to the chasm, put his shoulder to the wheet and upset the frightfully sharp print woman la shall have done. There—I see—I may speak head a body and shoulders for a man of at least to thom as I am? Say so, and God will bless in the witness chair upon the table. While I

The Shariff yielded of "But remember," he is thought I, "that he will be mad enough to attempt that wall; it cannot be less than twelve high, at the very least, horse, and all, into the gully. Scratching his head and looking rather doubtfully at his horse below him, he observed.

I was now almost certain of success, when, it must be thryin' to the baste?"

The Shariff yielded of "But remember," he is shoulder to the wheet and upset the frightfully sharp print woman la shall have done. There—I see—I may speak he socted blocking; and yet, he makes straight for it."

I was now almost certain of success, when, it must be thryin' to the baste?"

The Shariff yielded of "But remember," he is shoulder to the wheet and upset the frightfully sat, his shoulder to the wheet and upset the frightfully sat, horse, and all, into the gully. Scratching his head and looking rather doubtfully at his horse below him, he observed a door or and kept.

I was now almost certain of success, when, it must be thryin' to the baste?"

The Shariff yielded of "But remember," he is shoulder to the wheet and upset the frightfully sat, he will not the gully. Scratching his head and looking rather doubtfully at his horse below him, he observed a door or and the remember, and the gully sharing that will not the gully. Scratching his head and looking rather doubtfully at his horse below him, he observed have a supplied to the will have done. The care, he will not the gully sharing the made of f having been guilty of every known crime, "You have, you have!" interrupted the tances of the arrest, &c.; but you are already of him, with one spring he cleared it like a cquainted with the nature of my evidence: bird, and fell into the crowd below, which was manner; but one of the witnesses, as is frequently the case, swore too much for the defence, and completely broke down upon his cross examination.

The case closed. His Lordship charged for the swore free in vain sought an entry into the bayonets. The Sheriff rushed forward to the bayonets. The Sheriff rushed forward to the popular of quently the case, swore too much for the de-night, but for a little more than half an hour, that he would give fifty pounds to any one of at the end of which time they returned with a them who would do so:

be sent for, and it was almost immediately the jury would disagree, if they did not alto-procured. We then pussed it through Rana gether acquit him. He did not move, how dog would make through a field of standing han's arms and over one shoulder, something ever, as he heard the verdict;) and, save that corn, and it was evident that Ranahan was beto address him, you would not suppose he old have heard the fatal word. Such moments are, under any circumstances, deeply impressive; to me they were, just then, awful and sickening of T This to Transfell

His Lordship appeared overcome for some moments, and then addressed the prisoner. I shall not attempt to follow him. I never heard full from the lips of man anythic; to come near to it for beauty and feeling. Summing up all his energy for the last few fatal words. he passed the sentence of death upon him, to le carried into execution on that day three

Ranahan smiled, bowed, turned and went mounted police in front of the jail, at eleven o'clock. The fatal day for the execution of the indomitable Ranahan had arrived.

The crowd was immense; it outnum by ten-fold any assembly every collected in that place, upon a similar occasion. It was generally rumored that the unfortunate culpris had become deeply penitent, and intended to make a full confession—in short, that he would preach his first, his last, and his own funeral sermon on the drop. He was known to be extremely eloquent, and from his early learning much seemed to be expected from him, hence the vast numbers who flocked to the spot, and hence the almost irresistible pressure immediate'v beneath the gallows.

The moment Ranahan, who was dressed in have was placed withe bar. He was well his usual black frock-coat and trousers, had dressed, in black, and tolerably unconcerned, entered the press-room, he turned to the She Having heard the indictment, he pleaded "not riff, and, with a look of the most unmistake milty," nodding to Mr. D-, his counsel. able repentence and grief, requested permission Mrs. Brooke was the first witness put up, to address a few words to the crowd as he then "It is, sir," said he, "the request of a dy round, and fixing her eyes stendily upon Rana- ing sinner - one who trusts he has made his han, laid the white wand upon his head, and peace with Him who will never deny or refuse a poor penitent !"

"That is the man, and it's not because he's The Sheril' hesitated. Ranahan became there I say it, for I would swear to him in any excited, and rapidly followed up his request

There was, of course, a sensation at this "Oh, sir, I have but one object now to wish noment in Court. Mrs. Brooke fainted; and for -justice to the world, and forgiveness to it was a quarter of an hour before the Court myself. I implore you then, dear sir, as you permitted the examination to proceed. At stand in the presence of death -death in the to have him. prime of life death in the health and vigor There was not half a mile to the lake be-and its senses free: I entreat you, sir, as you a few random shots at the fugitive, if even stand beside a living corpse, about to be hasled, by a brother worm ten thousand times deeper steeped in guilt than myself, over that precipice whose edge is the entrance to a journey the end of which no man can know—I entreat you to deny me not. I was brought up and and she described accurately the transaction of by a brother worm ten thousand times deeper the following morning—as to Ranghan having steeped in guilt than myself, over that precicome in, his suddenly refusing the cup of tea, pice whose edge is the entrance to a journey and retiring abruptly on recognizing Mrs. the end of which no man can know—I entreat nutely in you to deny me not. I was brought up and the habit of addressing the people, and who ther it was from an over-enth I took it for granted that I would be the vent and nervous temperament, I know not stout-ball fellow was put up from behind the success, without accompanying my words to was as pule as death. His head and face were remarkably large and broad for his size, and his nose was very much turned up, showing a pair of red, wide-spread nostrils. His head was covered with short, thick, curly hair, as black as an Ethopian's, while his eyebrows were long and heavy, and overhang the most of death, he but like the lightning's flash.

involuntarily kept my eyes fixed upon him, I said, "I can give you but a few minutes; the trip and stagger forward, nearly on his face, moment I propounce your name you must for a tremendous spring. He made it, and although the question—of his coat, and appeared in great pain.

"Is he burt?" asked I.

Here he suddenly threw back his coat, and Great a scounded as he undoubtedly was, the below him. 1800 of below of below him.

two hours, and the jury retired to their chamic front of the drop, calling out to the police, for ber, not (is was auticipated) to remain for the God's sake, to catch him, dead or alive, and verdict of "Guilty!"

Ranahan and his friends had entertained some hopes, notwithstanding the evidence, that

I was on horseback at one side, with a few police and ten or twelve infantry men, whom I had kept together, and saw a move through round the skirts of the crowd, spreading my men, to endeavor to prevent his escape. Ly this time the Sheriff had came down, and was making his way towards me.

At this moment I plainly saw Ranahan right; nothing can escape that man !" "God help the first man that comes up with him." said a voice near me. Av. Jim, or the first four." said another for I saw him put a brace of double-barrel editor of the Bucyrus Journal a letter of in-or two, but were soon pounded. A dismounted, and throwing off sword-belt, &c., I followed at make straight for the demesne wall? salt of At this period, the cheers and shouts, relland whistlings, resounded from all sides in manner which I never before heard anything to equal; crowds were seen on every hill projecting blocks of stone seemed against him. He struggled hard; but fate appeared to have fursaken him, for, after clutching desperately for some moments, his strength failed him, sunk between the shoulders, with an air Wall, but turned to the left and ran along it.

O'CONNELL DESCRIBED BY GUIZOT

He appeared lame, as if hurt by the fall, and lagged considerably. Let a course gained fast upon him, and Ranahan, seeing that the game was lost, sat down, leaning against the wall, and holding out his hands to us in token of surrender. O'Shaughnesy was now up with him in a few seconds, as were others quickly after who were all winner their rather that they had once been his masters, and that now he exercised power over them;

The man had covered his face with the skirt at being invited to meet me. On our intro-extending his hand to O'Shaughnesy. France." This opening remark pleased him, which was, of course, assumed for the occa-sion, he was not even like him.

replied, "and I came from Paris to tell you so." "You thought, perhaps, that we passed our lives with him?" "No, I see evidently that you do not." All appeared glad of the opportunity to make themselves agreeable to him, and he seemed equally inclined to profit we cannot take with us-riches; which seems by it. He spoke much; he detailed the proornament or shell from the mantlepiece, to keep it quiet until it falls asleep, when it drops from its helpless hands, and is replaced to please other babies in their turn. LARGE PROFITS OF THE BLOCKADE BREAK-bumor or a lasting reform? He replied bumor or a lasting reform? He replied gravely, "If will last; we are a persevering race, as all are who have suffered much." He took pleasure in addressing himself to me—in calling me to witness the improved fortune of some distance, clear a stone wall about five feet high, and a greyhound across the fields.

"He's off, boys!" I roared; "there he goes, like a deer—after him—fly like the wind! Where's O'Shanghnesy? Oh, there he is; he has him already in view, and all's winds and sold at 40 cents; giu, price paid $2.50 per lb, sold at $3.60 Other articles in the same ratio. The master or captain of the calling me to witness the improved fortune of his country, and his personal triumph. I return the fields.

"Assau and sold at in Dixie:—Green tea, price paid in his country, and his personal triumph. I return the fields.

"Assau and sold at in Dixie:—Green tea, price paid to wards midnight, and was the first to go, leaving Mr. O'Connell surrounded by four cabinet ministers and five or six ladies of rank, who listened to him with a mixture, somewhat comic, of curiosity and pride, of deference and lib, sold at 40 cents; giu, price paid $2.50 per lb, sold at $16. Other articles in James in 1840.

AN ADVENURE WITH LIONS.

the same ratio. The master or captain of the vessel receives one-fifth of the profits, if suc-ABOUT BILLIARDS .- Somebody wrote to the We were waked up suddenly by hearing one of the oxen bellowing and the dogs barking. pistols in his breust before he took his shoes quiry as to billiards, to whom the editor replied It was moderately dark, and I seized Chifton's as follows: - "Yes sir, we can tell you all double rifle and rushed out, not knowing where, This was a pleasant prospective to the end about billiards. It is a game consisting of two when I saw the driver perched on the top of of the chase. Ranahan knew that worse than men in their shirt slevees, punching halls about a temporary hut, made of grass, about six feet hanged he could not be, and that that was certain should he be caught. I feared that poor o'Shaughnesy, at least, was doomed, and, processes these country, telling him to mark it down. perhaps, three others, if they had the plack to this last mentioned custom has given them on the top of him, not more than fourteen to the title of billiard markers. If you have a ollow after their comrade should be struck decided genius for the game, you will make a decided genius for the game, you will make a splendid player at the expense of $100. Black-smiths, carpenters, &c., play it for exercise. It was invented by a shrewd saloon keeper, of the sound, and just above the body of the lit was invented by a shrewd saloon keeper, or which I could distinguish tolerably well, as my best. O Shaughnesy, however, was far in advance, and several others also before me; to water it but the struggle of speed was evidently between Ranahan and O'Shaughnesy, who were at that time unquestionably the two best runners and jumpers in the province—perhaps in freland. Ranahan, however, appeared to have the best of it, and was gaining perceptibly on his pursuer; he had thrown off his shoes before he started, while O'Shaughnesy had not savered a moment to discount of the control of the started of the control of the started of the control of spared a moment to disencumber himself of a single article. Now he seemed to feel that he had no easy task to perform; he had found his match at last, and to business he must go in downright carnest, if he meant not to be disgraced forever.

Intelligence that he was wounded reached his knocked half a dozen somersaults backward off the hut, the brute striking me in the chest with his head. I gathered myself up in a started immediately to Washington, in company with a friend to look after him, arriving on the morning that the limb was amputated.

After he was safely through with the pairful. disgraced forever.

As he ran, I saw him tear off his pouch and belts, and stock. With one rip he opened his jacket from his waist to his neck, and cast it he brave hearted girl was united to him in marriage, sitting by the side of his cot while the solemn ceremony was performed. Leaving him commence to load, for in his haste he had not neglected to retain some cartrides.

Dead or alive, I saw that he was determined to have him.

Leaving him soon after in the care of faithful narses at the hospital, she returned to her lodgings, to seek the repose necessary to administer to his comfort on the morrow, ere the dawn of the hospital, she was summoned to the side of his one of them marched off a goat, one of the five that were tethered by the foot to the hit which we had so speedily evacuated.

Diza thinking he had a chance, fixed from the top of the waggon, and the recoil knocked him top of the waggon, and the recoil knocked him backwards on to the fent, which broke his fall.

It was a most hidierous hight altogether. After that we were utterly defeated, and the brutes were allowed to eat their meal unmolested, which they continued to do for some time growling fiercely all the while. The Kaffirs said there were five in all. I freed once again, but without effect, and we all sat shivering cold, without any clothes on, till near day-break, when our enemies beat a retreat, and I was not sorry to turn in again road. Being directed by the overseer, to good shot, as she was at least a hundred and move a lot of stones near by and deposit them in a gully on the other side of the road. He just behind the head, and travelled along the Paddy replied that he would know bether After loading again he drove to the chasm, and the