

Best Great STOCK OF DRY GOODS!

All Goods Marked in Plain Figures. ONE PRICE AND NO DEVIATION. Best Value for Ready Money.

LAW RESPECTING NEWSPAPERS.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

The Canadian Post.

LINDSAY, C. W. THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1863.

IMMIGRATION TO CANADA.

Owing to the distress among the working classes in England, the public mind has been much occupied with the subject of emigration to the British colonies.

It has naturally been suggested that a removal of the overplus population by emigration, is more beneficial than supporting them in idleness at home.

The present distress should continue, no doubt it will be impossible to sustain the working people in distress, but in the event of the war ceasing shortly, the demand for labor in the cotton districts will be as great as ever.

Australia and New Zealand are using strenuous efforts to secure a large influx of emigrants, and knowing that their reward is sure, the British emigrants have always been partial to those colonies.

For the last two years farming has been a losing business, and excepting those who have been able to save money in prosperous years, the farmers have been unable to pay their store accounts during the last winter.

Wreck of the Anglo-Saxon.

200 LIVES LOST. Wednesday Afternoon. We have received by telegraph the melancholy intelligence that the Anglo-Saxon, of the Canadian Mail Line, was lost off Cape Race, on Monday at noon, during a dense fog.

Letter from Quebec.

Quebec, April 21, 1863. A bill of Mr. Langerin's, to prohibit public executions, passed its third reading on Tuesday.

THE MINISTRY.

The Opposition is split up into an infinitesimal number of parts, and the Ministry have a stronger footing in Parliament than ever. The Mercury, remarking on the sanguine expectations of the Opposition, says—

THE WAR NEWS. Since the failure at Charleston, the belligerents in the east have remained comparatively inactive. It is not expected that another attempt will be made against Charleston, and the Federal fleet are only engaged in maintaining the blockade.

COURT OF ASSIZE. In our last week's issue we noticed the cases tried at the Court of Assize up to noon, but now give a fuller report of the whole proceedings.

POLICE COURT. Thursday, April 23. TRIAL FOR FURTRY. Henry C. Wolfman, one of the witnesses who gave evidence at the Court of Assize in the case of Crabtree v. Griffin, was suspected of having given false evidence, and on the information of Dr. Powers, was brought before the Mayor, assisted by Mr. Knowlson, Omene, and Mr. Thurston, Verulam.

Friday, April 24. (Before his Worship the Mayor.) ASSAULT AND ATTEMPT AT RAPE. On the accusation of Mary McFayden, Archibald Shaw was charged with the crime of attempting to commit rape on the person of Mary McFayden on the night of Tuesday, the 21st inst.

Saturday, April 25. BREAKING WINDOWS. On the complaint of Mrs. Lawler, James McNeill, who lives on the north side of the river, was charged with breaking Lawler's window, and creating disturbance in his neighborhood.

LITERARY NOTICES.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for May, 1863. Ticknor & Fields, Boston. $3 per annum. We have always held the Atlantic Monthly in high estimation, as being the best literary publication on the continent, and as containing matter incomparably superior to the general class of literature which floods the country.

FOUND DROWNED.

From the Cobourg Star we learn that a man named Hiram McEvers was found drowned in the lake on Friday morning. He fell into the water while in a state of intoxication.

CANADA.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT SIMCOE. A steam mill situated at Middleton Centre, and belonging to Mr. Vaneary, was blown up on the 25th inst., by the bursting of the boiler. The mill was totally destroyed, also part of a tavern about fifty yards distant.

DEPARTURE OF EMIGRANTS FROM COVENTRY. On Wednesday 28th inst. about 1000 emigrants, bound for the relief of the Irish famine, left Coventry for Liverpool, on their way to Canada.

BRUCE GRAVEL ROADS.—We learn from the Commonwealth that the people of Bruce have given their satisfaction to a By-law of the County Council, which proposes to expend $300,000 in the construction of Gravel Roads.

HAMILTON DEBT.—The bill for the settlement of the Hamilton City Debt, has passed the Council of that city by the casting vote of the Mayor. It reduces the interest to be paid to the creditors so that only fifteen cents on the dollar taxation will be required to raise the amount for its payment.

DREADFUL AFFAIR IN OTTAWA.—On Sunday night, a woman named Headwood, residing in Ottawa, cut the throats of two of her children, killing one, and severely injuring the other. The unfortunate woman, it appears, was subject to sudden fits of insanity, and had been twice confined in a lunatic asylum.

THE USE OF A BANKRUPT LAW. It may be asked how would a Bankrupt Law prevent such casualties. The answer is simple. In all the above cases the law, now before the house, would apply at least to a degree sufficient to afford creditors an opportunity for investigation, possession of the estate, a choice of assignee and annulling of a sale or judgment with intent to defraud.

GENERAL NEWS.

THE POLES.—The Countess of Shaftesbury, Duchess of Sutherland, Lady C. Paget, and other members of the aristocracy, have joined the society of benevolent ladies for the purpose of affording relief to the sick and wounded Poles.

DEATH OF A "NOTABILITY."—The London Star announces the death of Mr. J. Gully, who at one time was champion of England in the prize ring, who sat during two or three sessions as member of Parliament for Pontefract, and who has been a notability on the turf for a number of years.

ANOTHER PROPOSED ROYAL MARRIAGE.—It is reported that negotiations have been begun for marrying the Princess Helena, who is only about seventeen years of age, to a cousin of the Prussian Crown Prince—the son of the Prussian King's younger brother by the Princess, Marianne of Holland, from whom he was divorced in 1849.

A LION TAMER'S CHALLENGE.—A challenge, recently made by Crockett, the lion-tamer, now performing the Cirque Napoleon, at Paris, to pay £500 to any one bold enough to enter the cage with his lion, has been accepted by a person named Herbert, formerly a collector of wild beasts, who has been for some years past living retired at Havre.

THE STRENGTHENING OF THE WEST INDIES SQUADRONS.—The Racon, Captain Gleichen, which was to have brought Prince Alfred home, has been ordered to the West Indies. The Army and Navy Gazette thinks the decision, although it is a strengthening of the West India squadron, the Morning Herald says no half measures should be resorted to, since after recent experience, the length to which Admiral Wilkes may proceed renders it essential to be prepared for any emergency.

STRANGE MASQUINE SPECTROSCOPY.—The last sensation in Paris is a man who has a perfect genius for making a fitting women's dress. He is called the Pontiff of the Petticoat. He not only makes the ladies' dresses, but he puts the dresses on the ladies. Sometimes as many as fifty carriages are in front of his door at the same time, the feminine owners being upstairs having their dresses put on, as a dress should be put on.

A SKEWADLING QUARTERMASTER IN GRIEF.—John W. Howland, of the 10th Massachusetts Regiment, Brigade Quartermaster, ran away from the Federal service about the 16th ultimo, carrying off $170,000 belonging to the United States Government. Federal police officers traced him to St. Hyacinthe, Canada, where he was arrested by British soldiers. The manner of his arrest is amusing enough. As he could not be taken in Canada, it became necessary to get him upon American soil again.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon a married woman, named Brattan, alias Forbes, residing in a small cottage near the college, fell into the fire while in a state of intoxication, and was so severely burned on the head and chest that her life is despaired of.—Kingston News.

CATTLE Famine.—Within the last three weeks an immense number of cattle have died of hunger in the Eastern Townships. The scarcity of fodder is so great that in many parts the farmers are compelled to feed their cattle on dried leaves. Let us hope for a continuance of the weather, drawn has been continued more become active.—Quebec Mercury.

SEVERED MURDER.—About the latter part of November, Peter McElduff, who some years ago a resident of Trenton, disappeared in rather a mysterious manner, since which continued search has been made and no traces could be found of his whereabouts or of the cause of his disappearance, until Tuesday last, when some parties in search of floodwood, below the Trent Bridge, discovered the body floating among the wood and ice. A post mortem examination revealed the fact that the deceased did not come to his death by drowning. Evidence of foul play was found about his neck and throat.—Belleville Intelligencer.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.

THE PROGRESS OF A GREAT FAULT.—All Opposition Vanquished.—Plunge a stone into the middle of a lake and from the point where it falls ripples will spread in ever-widening rings until they reach a last every portion of its margin. So it is with a great discovery or invention; wherever it may be ushered to the light, its fame is certain in the end to fill the world.