A RESURRECTION !

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CANADIAN POST. Sir.-As you do not seem to be posted up in local events, and lest the event of last week should go unrecorded, I send you the following

A sickly looking sheet entitled the Lindsau Herald made its appearance in this Town inst week. It a mounces its resurrection from the ashes of that defunct old Tory rag formerly published here under the euphoneous name of the Victoria Herald, which died after a lingering illness of a virulent complication of disorders, not much regretted unless by a few oid fossils, hangers on to the tail of the Corrup ionist party of John A., Sidney Smith & Co. This specimen of the new sheet is but the shost of the old, its guant skeleton exhibits the harmless teeth minus the sting and virus of its departed relative. It is evidently badly in want of "pap", and unless it can procure nutriment from some quarter it cannot survive to a quarter the age of its predecessor.

As a sample of its mournful wailings I extract the following paragraph from the editorial article No. 1 :-

"Under the late Administrations, especially during the last six years, every week added largely to our population; the wild lands and wampy places were made fertile; the site of the Indian wigwam has become the home of the Augio-Saxon, and the horse and the ox now eat the luxuriant pasturage of the deer .at this prosperity has almost wholly ceased; our new administration have accepted the reports of incompetent parties, or parties interested in keeping out settiers, and, as a result, all our improvements have been stopped, and hundreds are annually forced to seek a home in the neighbouring States.

extent with the delivery of goods, but in the intervals of sunshine the grounds present a lively appearance. The road is lined withwazgons, coming and going. Booths are going up, flags are flying as well as can be expected of them, when drenched with wet. Various monstrocities in which the lovers of the uncouth delight are hastened to the ates, and everything betokens a brisk business .-

MONTREAL TOURNAMENT

TORONTO WINS THE CHALLENGE VASE.

The Montreal Rife Match commenced on Thursday morning at Montreal. His Excelleney. Sir F. Williams, in the absence of the Governor General, opened the proceedings by firing the first shot, and scored a "bull's eve at 800 yards range. There were competitors from all parts of Canada, as well as from several cities of the United States. The Chal ien e Vase, which is valued at $200, was won by Lieut. Edwards of Toronto, who seemed 27 You will see by the number of entries that points. Quebec was second on the list of ag-

The cover is pyraadmired twelve months ago, now fatter than of a rifleman kneeling with his weapon at the capping position. Two massive handles one on each side, represent illons rampant beautifully chased and wrought. There are two Jackson, Snell, Stone, Jeffry, Gay (Oshawa) shie ds, one brank for the name of the winner, the other bearing figures in bas relief emblematic of peace and war. It weighs about 60 ounces, and is worth two hundred dollars.

The Montreal challenge cup, presented by the corporation for annual competition among the volunteers of the city, is also a very handsome piece of plate. Its capacity is three pints. The handles are twisted grape vines, the cover of frosted silver in relief. Around the base is a branch of maple.
