1866. PROSPECTUS

The publisher of THE GLOBE has to announce that very great improvements in the publication of this journal will be made in the coming year. A new fount of beautiful type, cast specially for THE GLOBE, has been imported from the cele-brated Scottish foundry of Miller & Richard, braced Scottish foundry of Miller & Richard, Edinburgh. The quality of the paper used in printing the journal will be much superior to that heretofore employed. Arrangements are now being made for greatly increased Telegraphic facilities: and the corne of Written Department of the corne of t porters and Correspondents, will be strengthened. Increased effort will be put forth in every department to render The Globe more worthy than ever before of the immense circulation it has for so many years enjoyed throughout

The year 1866 is likely to be a most eventful period in the history of Canada—a year in which the current events of the day will be of the deepest interest to every inhabitant of the

The new Parliamentary Buildings will, early in the coming spring, be opened for the first time at Ottawa. The Government is pledged to present to Par-liament, at the opening of the session, either a Bill for completing the Confederation of all British America, or a Bill establishing a new Federal constitution for Canada alone, based on the principle of Representation by Population in the popular branch. On the 17th March, 1866, the American Treaty of Reciprocity will come to an end-and the negotiations for its renewal, or preparations to meet the change, will be watched with earn-

Arrangements for acquiring possession of, and opening the North-West territory for settlement, will speedily be made, and to these THE GLOBE will devote special attention, as it has hitherto done to everything connected with the subject.

With the settlement of the constitutional question that has so long distracted the Province, numerous questions affecting the material progress of this country will be thrown open. Among these will be-

The subject of Banking and Currency. Enlarging the Canals, and otherwise improving the Internal Navigation of the country. Reduction of the Customs' Tariff.

Interest on Money.
Opening up new Territory to settlement. Free land grants to actual settlers. A Homestead Law.

And many other vitally important subjects. In the discussion and settlement of all these matters, THE GLOBE will, as heretofore, take an active part; and from the sources of information at the command of its conductors, it is not doubted that in is columns the earliest intelligence and the most reliable information will continue to be found

THE DAILY GLOBE will continue to be mailed from the office at $6 per annum, payable invariably in advance; but can be procured regularly from the news-dealers in all the cities and towns throughout

THE WEEKLY GLOBE will also be much improved in the year 1866. Eighteenth of December next, 1865, The paper will be of superior quality, and the new Scottish type will give it a greatly improved appearance. An editor has been engaged, whose special duty it will be to condense and of Cannington, being composed of part of Lot arrange the matter for this edition, and to select voted to the publication of some interesting tale; will be put up in two separate parcels, namely, and the markets and prices current will con- Shop, Storehouse and Frame Barn. tinue to be given with promptness and accuracy.
