THE OLDEST CITY IN THE WORLD.

Damascus is the oldest city in the world; Tyre and Sidon have crumbled on the shore; Baalbec is a ruin; Palmyra lies buried in the sands of the desert ; Nineveh and Babylon have disappeared from the shores of the Tigris and Euphrates. Damascus remains where it was before the days of Abraham-a centre of trade and travel, an island of verdure in a desert "a predestined capital," with martial and sacred associations extending beyond thirty centuries. It was near Damascus that Saul of Tarsus saw the light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun; the street which is called Strait, in which it sheik, the ass, and the water-wheel; the merchants of the Euphrates and the Mediterranean still occupy these, "with the multifude of their wares." The city which Mahomet surveyed from a neighboring height, and was afraid to enter, lived in Boston. A countryman in search we solicit the patronage of "bacause it is given to man to have but one paradise, and, for his part, he was resolved not to have it in this world," is to this day what Julian called the "East,' as "Yes sir." it was in the time of Isaiah "the Head of Syria," From Damascus came the delicious aprioct of Portugal called dam- "Who? you?" asco; damask, our beautiful fabric of cotton and silk, with vines and flowers raised upon a smooth, bright ground; damask rose in troduced into England in the time of Henry VII; the Damascus blade, so famous the world over for its keen edge and remarkable elasticity, the secret of the manufacture of which was lost when Tamerlane carried off the artists into Persia; and that beautiful art of inlaying wood and steel with silver and gold-a kind of mosaic engraving and sculpture united, and bureaus, and swords and guns, are ornamented. It is still a city of flowers selves, perhaps we cannot do better then called damaskeening, with which boxes and bright waters; the streams from Lebanon, the "rivers of Damascus," the "river of gold," still sparkled in the wild-erness of Gardens.

THE reward offered by the American Government for the arrest of the assassins of President Lincoln has at last been apportioned. Captain Dougherry receives $7,000; Colonel BAKER, $8,750; Lieutenant Baker, 4,000; Sergeant Corbe T, $4,000. The balance of the 100-000 is divided among a large number of persons who gave evidence which furnished a clue to the movements of Booth and his accomplices; and to persons who, in various ment. This will ventilate ways, assisted in securing down the assas-sins. Dougherry, it will be remembered, is a Canadian; if we mistake not his parents reside in St. Hyacinthe, C. E., Colonel PRITCHARD, the valiant capturer of Jeff-DAVIS, receives $10,000 for his services to the Union cause. Milk may be kept sweet by having it constantly in the presence of fresh water. In a milk room provided with tubs, in which the water is changed twice a day, milk will not water is changed twice a day, milk will not between them comparatively free be soured, even by lightning.

It 1829, he went to Cassel to study with Spohr, but his reception was so cold as to almost entirely suppress his musical enthusiasm, which and thus far withstood both the frowns of his father and the disfavour of the professors. He then began the study of law at Gottingen, but soon recovered from the despondency caused by his interview with Spohr, and once-more determined to devote himself to his art, and went to Minden, where he gave his first concert with considerable success. At this place, a quarrel with a fellow artist resulted in a challenge, and in a duel which followed his antagonist was mortally wounded. Compelled to leave the country, he went to Paris, where he ledd a most precarious and wretched existence, from which, after being robbed of everything he possessed including, his violn, he attempted to release himself by drowning. INTRICACIES OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

The construction of the English language must appear most formidable to a foreigner. One of them, looking at a picture of a number of vessels, said, 'See what a flock of hsips!' He was told that a flock of ships was called a fleet, and that a fleet of sheep was called a flock. And it was pairing. added, for his guidance in mastering the intricacies of our language, that 'A bevy of thieves is called a gang, and a gang of angels is called a host, and a host of porpoises is called a shoal, and a shoal of buffaloes is called a herd, and aherd of children is called a troop, and a troop of partridges is called a covey, and a covey of beauties is called a to the finest Nansook Muslin, with cotton, linen, galaxy, and a galaxy of ruffians is called a or silk thread, from the coarsest to the finest horde, and a horde of rubbish is called a number. heap, and a heap of oxen is called a drove, and a drove of blackguards is called a mob, and a mob of whales is called a school, and a school of worshippers is called a congregation, and a congregation of engineers is said he "prayed," still runs through the city; the caravan comes and goes as it did called a band, and a band of locusts is called one thousand years ago; there is still the a swarm, and a swarm of people is called a crowd,
