The Victoria Railway.

In the memorial to the Lieutenant-Governor and in the letter elsewhere printed our readers have full particulars of the enlarged scheme for the construction of the Victoria Railway. Mr. faidlaw presents a very strong case in support of his plan; he has marshalled an array of facts and deduced numerous sound reasons that cannot fail to convince every unpreindiced reader that an enterprise con-Of all the projects that have been brought before the public none has been in so eminent a degree, a coloni-

Few railroads receiving provincial aid have projected beyond fairly settled townships; and these have been in their results so satisfactory to stockholder and settler that their limited experience would warrant the ples, ex-warden of this county, to bold policy adopted by the Victoria Railway Company. But in the case of the Victoria there are special features and advantages not possessed by any other project. It will be essen-tually a trunk line. It will go through the very heart of the province; and will no doubt form the basis of an extensive system of railway communicahowever, is the manner in which it proposes to open up and settle the extensive section between our northern townships and the Ottawa. Mr. Laidlaw's plan is the most practical that has been published; and it is most likely to be attended not only with immediate success, but with results that will show the wisdom of his liberal and enterprising policy. The eagerness of the wisdom, and the immense advantage it would have been to them, demonstrate that our predictions are consonable and well founded. The CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

Laden or unladen cars of other railways can thus be run over the entire length of the Victoria Railway." This is a very important change; and one that we are confident will receive the approval of the province, and particularly of this section. We observe the Northern Colonization Railway is bound to push forward to the (leorgian Bay, and has sent its Chief Engineer, Mr. C. Legge, to make the necessary surveys. This will afford another trunk connection, a fact that should not be overlooked.

I note that Mr. Thomas Maine Daly has been elected the local representa-tive of North Perth. 1 am very well acquainted, personally and politically, with Tom. By no means a bad fellow socially, Mr. Daly is really a political nobody. He gained a cheap sort of reputation in the House of Commons as a wit, but his wit consisted of the repetition of the relation of the relation of the repetition of the relation o tition of the stalest of jokes as a rule and their only power to create laughter and their only power to create length lay in the manner in which they were told. Were he a man of any power told. Were he a man of any power or a critic—for in these days the critical, analytical mind is that which is sure to prevail—I would welcome him to the House with all my heart. I have had frequent reason remark upon the incompetency of the present Opposition, and I am only afraid that their very incompetence may have an injurious effect on our own act as a check upon a Government, that Government will frame its measures just as if there really were no opposing power at all. There must be criticism power at all. Inere must be criticism—of any measure of public policy, as a matter of fact the only suggestions for amendment or modification of government measures introduced this session which have been introduced this session which have been be attended with costs.
