The SPEAKER ruled the question out baptizing Isaac Grandy on Oct. 23, 1859. He records 12 baptizing and 2 burials; no marriages or confirmations, and in six months after was compelled by ill health to leave the parish, and soon ceased to serve in the church militant to of order. The object of the questions, we judge, was to prove that although there were any number of occasions after the fourth of March, 1870—the day Scott was killed—on which Riel could have been arrested for murder, yet it was not until Riel had announced his intention of be-ing a Parliamentary candidate that the law was set in motion against him, and that it was then at the instance of a member of the Macdonald Government.

Were this established, it would be urged that the instance of a property of the past six years levelled at Mr. Mackenzie and his friends, that they should be attentions. that the issue of the warrant was simply a political move, made by Sir John, to hinder Riel's candidature. The question was not allowed to be put; how-
