ROUND TOWN.

THE ST. VINCENT DE PAUL excursion held last Tuesday was a great success.

THE CONCERT AT STURGEON POINT HOTEL on Thursday afternoon was not a success, as regards attendance. The programme was, however, very well rendered.

SIR JOHN had a rival in a fluent washing machine man on the Market square Wednesday. If he did not draw quite as large a crowd he gave better value for the money.

CROWDED OUT. The length of our report of the Tory picnic and the pressure on our advertising space necessitate holding over a quantity of news and editorial matter.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION. The Secretary of the Central Exhibition had up to 4 o'clock yesterday, received 1061 entries from 1?? exhibitors. Exhibitors wishing entries after Saturday will have to pay 10 cents extra.

REMARKABLE CANDOUR. One of the carriages in the Conservative torchlight procession at Cobourg contained Sir John, D'Arcy, Matt. C., Willie McD., and other lights of the party, and right ahead of them in the ranks was borne a transparency emblazoned with the motto "We Want Statesmen."

EXCURSION TO TORONTO. The Whitby Railway announce an excursion to Toronto for to-day, tickets good until Monday at the low rate of $1. The Victoria Railway have an excursion in connection therewith from points along the line at greatly reduced rates. Both will doubtless have large crowds.

PEACH FESTIVAL. A peach festival will be held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society in the basement of the Methodist Church, on Thursday evening, 20th, commencing at 8 o'clock. A good literary and musical programme will be provided. Admittance, 10 cents. Refreshments at a moderate price.

THE MODEL SCHOOL. The principal of the provisional new model school, Mr. F. McFaul, of Brockville, arrived in town on Monday last and entered on his duties at once. There are twenty-four pupils already and in a few days the work will be progressed with systematically. The male pupils had a holiday on Wednesday.

ALARM OF FIRE. A heap of rubbish on the bank of the river near the Lindsay st. bridge became ignited Wednesday from the burning wadding of Com. Rodden's two pounder guns which occupied a position on the summit. The firemen were called out in the evening and the water works were put in operation and the flames extinguished.

ACCIDENT. On Wednesday morning as the special train conveying Sir John Macdonald and party arrived at the Midland station the horses attached to a buggy took fright and made a dash to get away, resulting in throwing out the occupants, Mrs. J. Willox, of Mariposa, and child, and breaking the lady's arm. The horses were checked and no damage was done the rig.

A SUGGESTION. Com. Rodden wishes us to suggest that the Tory arches on Kent st. should be kept up for the Central Exhibition. He thinks they would keep green and would improve the streets, and graciously promises to have certain mottoes removed. We give the suggestion for what it is worth. A plebescite might be taken on the question of arches or no arches.

A WARNING. We are requested to notify those little boys and girls who put pins, nails, coppers and small stones, etc., on the car rails on Victoria Avenue that some fine day half a dozen of them will be arrested and put in gaol if the practice is not stopped. It is very dangerous as well, and may result in some little fellow being run over. The children will now take warning.

SUDDEN DEATH. We regret to record the death of Mr. John O'Connell, for a number of years one of the town assessors, which took place at his residence on Russell st. on Tuesday evening last after a very short illness. He was seized in the morning with a severe attack of inflammation and notwithstanding all that his medical attendants could do died in the evening. The funeral took place Thursday morning and was one of the largest ever seen in Lindsay. Deceased was an old resident of Lindsay and was held in high esteem.

QUOITING CHAMPIONSHIP. There are several quoit players in the Dominion who claim the championship and in order to settle the point a committee, of which Mr. Jas. Rennie, Toronto, is secretary, has arranged for a competition to come off in Toronto next Tuesday. The first prize will be a $50 grand gold medal and the championship; and there will be a large number of secondary prizes. A little paper called the Quoiting Herald is published in the interest of the game and is mailed free to Quoiters. The P. O. address is Box 858, Toronto.

TEMPERANCE. Mrs. Kent Mason gave a couple of her popular temperance lectures in town last week, which were attended by large and intelligent audiences. She is a lady possessed of good elocutionary powers, and the earnestness with which she handles her subject betokens that she has something at heart more deeply than the mere collection. Large numbers donned the blue ribbon, the emblem of the Murphey Wave, and we cannot but believe her visit has done good. Mrs. Mason returned to town yesterday and lectured in the Bible Christian Church last night.

ONTARIO LADIES' COLLEGE, WHITBY. This institution opened last week with a very good attendance. The college has been so successful that an enlargement, capable of accommodating fifty or sixty more pupils, has been rendered necessary. The work on this has so far advanced that the new building will be ready by Christmas. The college building, it will be remembered, is the magnificent residence built by Sheriff Reynolds at a cost of $70,000. The situation is very pleasant, commanding a charming view, and as it is convenient to this section its advantages will no doubt be made use of. The card will be found in our advertising columns.

A GOOD WASHER. We would call attention to the advertisement in another column of Calkins Washing Machine, manufactured by Messrs. Stockton, Rossiter & Co., Toronto. The agent of the firm, Mr. Fowler, has been in town for a couple of days, showing the machine, and all who have seen it pronounce it to be the correct thing. This machine received the highest award at the Centennial Exhibition, besides numerous diplomas at the various State fairs. It will be on exhibition at the Central Fair, and he who would save the weaker sex the dragging of the wash board should examine its merits and if satisfactory purchase one.

ROBBING ORCHARDS. We learn that several orchards and fruit gardens in town have suffered from the depredations of young free-booters, and perhaps of old ones, too. More annoying than the value of the fruit stolen in many cases is the fact that some rare fruit has been patiently and carefully watched and tended all summer, and now one gets up in the morning to find the tree robbed and perhaps injured. A couple of youngsters were caught in Squire McDonnell's garden on Sunday night, and one named Michael J. Burke captured. He was let off with a severe admonition; but parties hereafter will have to make an example of these offenders by prosecuting them when caught.

FALSE REPORT.—(To the Editor of THE CANADIAN POST.)—SIR,—Hearing it is reported in town that a silk dress, shawl or some such articles have been stolen from us and that we had placed the matter in the hands of the constables of this town; and hearing the names of respectable parties connected therewith, we beg leave to state that it is false in every particular, nothing of the kind having occurred.—Yours respectfully, S. & O. BIGELOW.

PERSONAL.—Mr. H. Maclagan, of Brooklin, N.Y., is in town on a visit to his relatives. Mr. McCarthy, Counsellor-at-Law, St. Paul, Min., is here on his annual visit. Mr. Chas. Robinson, Sr., of Beaverton, called upon us Monday last on his way home from a lengthy visit to the Lower Provinces and Eastern States, which he enjoyed to the fullest extent. He was accompanied by Mr. A. McKinnon, who was among the Beavertonians who visited Montreal on the late excursion. Mr. E. E. Henderson has been appointed District Deputy Grand Master of the Oddfellows. ....Mr. Walter Dunham, of Buffalo, youngest son of the popular manager of the Sturgeon Point Hotel, is here on a visit to the "old folks."...Among the gentlemen of the Press who were present at the Conservative Picnic, was Mr. N. F. Davin, well and popularly known in Lindsay. Hon. S. C. Wood, and Mr. J. B. Knowlson are camping at Georgian Bay.

THE "CANADIAN ACCOUNTANT."—Mr. S. G. Beatty, Principal of the Ontario Business College, has recently published a handsome and valuable volume bearing this title. It contains a complete elucidation of the science of accounts by the latest and most approved methods, business correspondence and mercantile forms, and although it has been designed for the use of educational instutions it will be found most serviceable in the hands of business men who may wish to become as thorough as possible in their book-keeping, while those who are not well posted should study its pages diligently, for careful book-keeping is essential to enduring success in business. This volume contains, however, not merely the forms of keeping accounts with the requisite explanation, but a large quantity of valuable information concerning the more advanced and intricate stages of business, where legal points come into play, and where precision is of more than usual importance.

CHILD LOST. Considerable commotion was caused on Friday night last among the residents on William-st., by the report that a little nine-year old daughter of Mr. Wm. Morrison, tinsmith, who resides on the corner of Peel and William-sts., was missing. The neighbours turned out and made a diligent search of the child's resorts but without success, and the alarm bell was rung. The search was continued throughout the night by the anxious parents and on the following morning the child was restored to them by a neighbour at whose door it had in its dread of being on the streets all night knocked for admission which was readily granted and where she had slept comfortably during the night. Mr. Morrison having recently removed to the dwelling he now occupies it is supposed the child had gone out of the front door to gratify its curiosity and finding the door closed on her return she became somewhat bewildered, being in a strange locality.

A GOOD INVESTMENT. As an instance of the rapid advancement in the value of farming land in this section during the past few years, we may state that Mr. Thomas Keenan realized from his farm which he sold on the 7th inst., the handsome sum of $16,750. The farm, which is the east half of lot 22, in the 4th concession of Ops, was purchased by him in the year 1847 for $800, and the west half being covered with cedar was purchased from the Government for $40. The total expenditure of the owner for improvements over that made by tenants was $1,000, which brought the total cost of the farm up to $1,840. The income derived was as follows: Twenty-nine years rental, $6,500, which, when the first cost of the farm is deducted, leaves a balance of net profit of $4,750, not to speak of the increase of interest on receipts over expenditure. On Friday last he sold the farm to Mr. William Blackwell for $12,000 which, added to the $4,750, makes the total profit on the investment, $16,750. Mr. Keenan considered as the property would only be used for renting purposes, that the interest on the money would realize more than the rent, and therefore sold.

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS.

PETERBOROUGH.

FROM THE ALTER TO THE TOMB. Mr. Hector Robinson, employed as foreman by McDougall & Ludgate, on Friday of last week, was seized with illness which resulted in his death on the following Monday. The circumstances attending his decease are unusually affecting as only the day preceding his attack he had been entered into the marriage relation. Mr. Robinson had been complaining during the summer of pains in his head and neck, but was in apparent good health on the day of his wedding. Much sympathy is felt in the community for the bride, so soon made a widow, in her trying affliction. [Times.

OMEMEE has contributed all her flags and bunting except the Orange to the Lindsay John A. impulse.

CAPT. COTTINGHAM's loss by the incendiarism of his shingles and shingle-bolts Thursday night is about $3,000. There was no insurance.

PERSONAL. Mr. John Elliott has been offered $100 increase of salary in Grey but remains where he has taught so successfully for the past six years. Mr. Griggs has been appointed in section 8, Miss Spence on the Orange line; and Miss S. Cornwall section 1, Cavan, Dr. and Mrs. Higginbotham and party are back. Their two weeks camping experience was delightful, the weather being pleasant.

CURIOSITIES. Among the contributions last week to the school museum by Mr. John English are samples of timothy over six feet in length and a bird's nest of unique construction.

REBUILDING. The Cottingham saw, shingle and planing mill is in course of construction upon the old site.

IMPROVED. Mrs. Bradburn is up to the times. Her stabling accommodation has been refitted and renewed throughout, being now among the neatest and most convenient in the country.

MILLBROOK.

[Correspondence of The Post.]

CARELESSNESS. A man of the name of Gordon, of this place, being about lending a gun to another party was asked if it was loaded, replied in the negative, at the same time raising and snapping the hammers. The first came down upon the nipple innocently enough, but the second sent a charge of buckshot through the window to the no small consternation of the parties. Fortunately at that moment there was no one on the sidewalk and the charge went harmlessly on its way.

CAMP MEETING. A monster gathering of this kind is in progress on the line of the Midland Railway between this place and Bethany. Last Sabbath over 5,000 people were on the ground. The services, which are of a very earnest and impressive nature, are being conducted by clergymen of the Methodist Church, and, if the "signs" may be taken as a criterion, are doing much good. The public appreciation of these gatherings would be greatly enhanced did a certain portion of the community either stay at home or learn to conduct themselves with at least seeming propriety. Some of the "sights" were of anything but an edyfying nature and "the less said the sooner mended." Parties on the way home to Cavan had three or four runaways, with broken rigs, etc., in every case. Half a dozen free fights and about an equal number of bench warrants on the war path Monday morning.

PICNIC. The heavings of our political mountain are to culminate in the long looked for picnic on the 21st inst. Just fancy, the Grits are being solicited for subscriptions for rearing arches, etc., and when one of them mildly hints that he is not of the party, he is told, "Pooh! what about that? we look to the credit of the place." Very good, gentlemen; the place can take care of its own credit and that is more than the Conservative party is good for; and further, heaven help this or any other place whose credit is dangling at the end of Sir John A.'s coat-tails.

LITTLE BRITAIN.

[Correspondence of The Post.]

ALL QUIET. Since writing you last nothing of importance has occurred to mar the pleasures or disturb the prospects of the inhabitants of this locality. Business in general has gone on in the usual tenor of its way and as I have no faculty for drawing imaginary pictures when I contemplate jotting down a few items for THE POST I am frequently at a loss for subject matter to write about. It is true I might dilate upon the number of births, deaths, marriages, surprise parties, exchanges among truant lovers, etc., but as my village cotem. the correspondent of the Warder has voluntarily assumed all of the business of this department, I quietly acquiesce, rejoicing in the fact that Little Britain possesses an able exponent in this line of work.

THE HARVEST. The farmers can now boast of a bountiful harvest which on the whole has been well saved, and instead of the monotonous hum of the reaper our ears are now greeted with the buzz of the threshing machine, which serves to remind us of the fact that all that is required to banish the cry of dull times and re-establish business upon a sure foundation is a large price for grain.

THE NEW CHURCH at Mr. Ray's corners is to be dedicated on the Sabbath of the 23rd inst.

SINGING SCHOOL.—Mr. Stiles has established a singing school at Valentia and Little Britain.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL has once more got into proper running order. The new department is completed and adds materially to the appearance of the place besides forming a useful addition to the school. Miss Keils, who formerly taught in the Lindsay schools, is employed in room of Miss McWatters, retired. I almost forgot to mention that the pupils from our school who passed the last entrance examination at the Oakwood High School were Edmund Yerex, J. A. Campbell, Henry Pearce and George Metherell. This makes twelve pupils from this school who passed that examination during the past year. Three of them, namely, Julia Broad, Sarah E. Sailes and Wm. Ramsey drew certificates at the recent teacher's examination in Lindsay; and William Broad, one of them, passed the intermediate examination.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN POST,
LINDSAY, Sept. 13, 1877.

The Barley Market

The Napanee Beaver says: "Notwithstanding the extraordinary excellence of the barley crop in this district, still it is not as good as was for a time expected it would be, as a considerable amount of it will be colored, and owing to the abundant crop in the States the prices will likely rule low this year. We would advice our farmers not to hold too long for high figures, as those who sell their barley early may do the best as prices are more likely to fall than to rise. Our latest advices from New York before going to press, quote barley "dull and nominal."

Quebec Wheat Crop.

The Montreal Star says: "The new wheat crop of this province surpasses the most sanguine expectations of producers. As a rule, Quebec has not been noted for any very extensive production of wheat, but this year's crop has demonstrated that it can be as successfully raised here as in other portions of the Dominion. The high price of flour at the commencement of the present war, which many farmers had to purchase, and the prospect of values ruling still higher, induced the planting of a larger area of wheat than has been attempted before in this province, resulting in the heaviest yield and finest quality ever remembered."

Butter.

In the course of its review of this important interest the Monetary Times concludes that the make has been large larger in the eastern townships where the weather has been more favorable than in Ontario. Still operators complain that the Americans have undersold them, by getting from producers their ordinary dairy and western butter cheaper than we could. The Times adds: "The Americans have further stolen a march on us by the development amongst them of the creamery system, which has proved so successful. If our Canadian trade is to be retained, our farmers must do as our cheese makers have done put up creameries and make a 'choice, mild, uniform, article.' This done, Canadian butter will be taken in preference to American, and the gain in price as well as in reputation will be a fortune to the country. The wet weather in England which has hurt the grain crops there, has benefitted dairymen, and the crop of butter and cheese is expected to be large in Britain. Still, we hope there will be an outlet ere long for the accumulation of butter now held at various points in Canada."

American Wheat Prospects.

We give for what it is worth the subjoined circular issued by Geo. Wright & Co., St. Louis: "Stimulated by high prices in England and southern Europe Russia may possibly export to the north and through Germany down to the Mediterranean one-fourth of her coming surplus, or 8,000,000 bushels, leaving 67,000,000 bushels of grain of the ordinary supply to be sought after elsewhere. Where is this balance to come from? England will need fully as much as she had last year, and if reports can be relied upon, France and the many importing towns of the Mediterranean will require more than usual. India will export to England much less than ordinary, and California at least 15,000,000 bushels less. Allowing that other exporting countries will ship their average quota, from what source is the unusual deficiency to be made good? Perhaps some of the Chicago 'bears' can answer, who have been trying to sell the whole crop at 90 cents. The deficiency can be made good by this country, but not at that price. In 1875-6 the United States exported in wheat and flour equal to wheat, 74,000,000 bushels; in 1876-7, 57,000,000 bushels. The bulk of these usual exports must come this year from east of the Rocky Mountains, and in addition, we shall be called upon to supply the deficiencies which we have mentioned from Southern Europe and India. In the face of these facts, we have hammered down our own markets to the utmost, and have literally pulled down foreign markets after us, all that was possible, still leaving, however, a better margin for shippers than has existed in the trade for ten years. The speculators, as if by combined action, and by every means known to the trade, have done their utmost to make the world, and our own producers especially, believe that our big crop was so large that to get rid of it we must almost give it away. When we have such a rare opportunity to control the markets of the world a chance which only happens once in a quarter of a century what blind and senseless stupidity impels us to accept as little as possible, when every interest, commercial and national, excites us to realize as much as possible, and, when all we have to do is to sit down and wait, knowing that the importing world must and will come to us and pay the prices we ask."

The English Grain Trade.

The subjoined review of the English grain trade and prospects by the Mark Lane Express is cabled: "Most of the English wheat crop is now cut, but the carrying of grain has been greatly delayed by the persistent rainfall which has been experienced in many parts of the Kingdom, especially in the northern counties. Fortunately the temperature has not been unseasonably low, so that the damage from sprouting has not been so great as would have been the case had the wheat been normally warm. Disastrous reports reach us from Scotland, where storms and rainfall have wrought irreparable damage, both in cereals and hay, which has fairly rotted in the ground under the excessive moisture. The harvest in the north would have been three weeks or a month late under any circumstances, but the recent storms render it problematical when the crops will be secured. The weather has also been unfavorable for potatoes, and the disease has been spreading in an alarming manner. The yield of cereals, taken altogether, is decidedly bad throughout the Kingdom, and the condition in which a good deal of the wheat has been gathered and stacked renders it improbable that the offerings at the principal markets will be on anything but a limited scale for some weeks to come. The quality of the new grain is decidedly inferior to last year's, and a considerable admixture of dry foreign will be required to render it fit for present use. Barley cutting has only just begun, but if the weather is anything like favorable for harvesting, a much better yield of this cereal is anticipated than appeared before the rain set in. A firmer tone has been apparent in the wheat trade, both at the Mark Lane and country markets, although the depressing effect of continued large importations of foreign grain into London has, to a great extent, deprived the market of the support it derived from unfavorable weather. A fair amount of business, however, was done at a shilling per quarter more money, albeit there has been nothing like excitement in the trade, and the demand has been of a consumptive character. A striking proof has been afforded, were any needed, of the inferior condition of some of the crops in the fact that Australia and New Zealand wheats, which closely resemble English wheat, have been purchased, doubtless for the purpose of admixture with some of our own growth, required for immediate use. It is, however, improbable that the recent firmness will lead to any material rise in values, as supplies continue on a very liberal scale. Our granaries are glutted with wheat, and the impetus of a continental demand, even if the French crop turns out as short as it is represented, can scarcely be looked for so soon after the harvest. A good deal of attention has recently been drawn towards maize, the imports of which for some time past have been on a very moderate scale. It appears likely that a rise in this article may speedily be looked for, as there has been a decidedly better demand of late, and large sales have been made at an advance of six pence per quarter.
