

ROUND TOWN.

IF FAIR.
If YOU WANT a new set of spoons get your old ones re-plated at W. Wilson's, gold and silver plater, Knowlson Block, William-st.—2-3.

WE HAVE ON EXHIBITION the most complete stock of general Dry Goods in Lindsay at the very lowest competition prices. Come and see.—BRADBURN & Co.

CALL at G. W. Stephens, next door to the post office, and secure bargains in watches, clocks and jewelry. School books, stationery and fancy goods cheapest in town.

CROWDS.—Up to a late hour last night the streets were crowded. Sleeping apartments were at a premium. Large numbers of visitors found comfortable quarters in the residences of private individuals.

FREE EXHIBITION.—The public are invited to call and see our large and varied stock of Fashionable Dress Goods, Millinery, Mantles and Ready-made Clothing at special job prices during the fair. SMYTH & BOWEN.—1-3.

"For the relic of ould decency,
Was the hat my father wore,"
That hat may do very well as a relic, but please give it a rest and go to L. A. McLean's and get a new and stylish one.—1-3.

AUTUMN LEAVES.—The ladies are now gathering autumn leaves from under the maple trees. Much of the foliage of several different varieties is already radiant with autumnal beauty, notwithstanding the absence of frost.

IMPORTANT.—Visitors to the Central Fair should not fail to go and see the large stock of Fancy Goods, Jewelry, Books, Stationery, Novelties, Curiosities, Pipes, Pocket Cutlery and Toys in endless variety. P. GRANT, sign of the Turk, Kent-st.—1-3.

THE MEDICAL HALL is the cheapest drug store in the county. Look at our prices this week. Lamp chimneys, 25c per dozen; lamps, 10c each. All our goods are marked with the very lowest prices. Just to hand a fresh stock of dye stuffs. Give us a call.—M. W. MINTHORNE.—1-3.

IF YOU WANT printing quickly go to THE CANADIAN POST job printing office, where three steam presses are constantly at work. A thousand "hodgers" run off before you can say "Jack Robinson"—we mean John Beverly Robinson—and if he (John B.) takes offence at this let him come on. If the Big Globe is afraid to tackle him then THE DAILY POST is not.

IT IS RUMORED that Hon. A. Mackenzie will shortly pay Lindsay a visit. He is doubtless looking forward with pleasure to the visit and the opportunity it will afford for enjoying one of George's oyster stews, for which the St. George's Restaurant is so widely celebrated. Go thou and secure the much coveted delicacy.—1-3.

THE CELLS.—The cells were full last night, the larger number of those confined therein being drunks. Chief Constable Smart is deserving of great credit for the excellent manner in which he discharged the duties of his office. No rows are reported and but few cases of drunkenness during the day. This is a gratifying indication of the respectability and good character of our visitors.

PERSONAL.—Among the representatives of the press at the exhibition yesterday were Mr. W. H. Hale, Orillia Packet, and Mr. W. H. Robertson, of the Peterboro Times. The former gentleman looked hale and hearty as ever and his presence in our office was as welcome as is his newy little sheet. Mr. Robertson was in his usual good humor and "took in" the exhibition with satisfaction.

GOOD TIMES AGAIN.—He was up to see his girl on Sunday night. He is a nice young man, careful in his ways, and with his best eye wide open to the main chances. In the course of the conversation he observed cheerfully: "Times are looking better, Amelia. I was reading in the paper last night that the stocks are firmer, and the crops were never more abundant. I shouldn't be surprised if the old prosperity came back to us this winter." "I hope so," said she, dreamily, "for I'm getting about tired of crunching on rock candy." The young man squirmed.—[Danbury News.

REMARKABLY fine and tasteful display in the windows of the stores in Dobson's block.

NEAREST DRESSER in Millinery and Mantles at the Golden Lion.—S. & O. BIGELOW.—1-3.

COCHES.—At midnight two styleless personages of this name made Kent-st. resound with their appeals as they made their way in a northwesterly direction. No political reference in this.

PERSONS INTERESTED in their teeth would do well to call at the dental rooms of Neelands Bros. and procure a copy of their book on the teeth. It is given to patients free. They continue to have splendid success in administering laughing gas for the painless extraction of teeth.—3-2.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

—Men with few thoughts are the least anxious to discover those of others.

—There is a man in a certain town who never lets a chance of making money slip by him. Last winter when he had the ague he hired himself out to a carpet-cleaning establishment to assist in shaking carpets.

—A soldier on trial for habitual drunkenness was addressed by the president of the court-martial: "Prisoner, you have heard the prosecution for habitual drunkenness; what have you to say in your defence?" "Nothing, please your honour, but habitual thirst!"

—A good story is told of a Quaker volunteer who was in a Virginia skirmish. Coming in very close quarters with a Secessionist, he remarked, "Friend, 'tis very unfortunate, but thee standest just where I am going to shoot," and, blazing away, down came his man.

—Some one observing, in a time of public calamity and danger, that the inhabitants of a certain district crowded the churches as they had not done before, said:—"It reminds me of the old Scotch lady at sea in a storm, who asked the captain what the chances were. 'Madam,' said the seaman, solemnly, 'we must trust in God.' 'Heh, sirs, an' has it come to that?' cried the frightened dame."

—Ladies, when they have new dresses, should never go to church until after the service has commenced. The best time would be when the clergyman is reading the lessons of the day, for then all the congregation would be listening attentively. They should walk up the centre and pretend not to observe the pew-opener; this would give them a fine opportunity of showing off their dresses.

—A Scotch farmer once took his wife out to see the wonder of the microscope. The various curiosities seemed to please the woman very well, till the animalcule professed to be contained in a drop of water were shown off. These seemed to poor Janet not so very pleasant a sight as the others. She sat patiently, however, till the "water tigers," magnified to the size of twelve feet, appeared on the sheet, fighting with their usual ferocity. Janet now rose in great trepidation, and cried to her husband, "Come awa, John." "Sit still, woman, and see the show," said John. "See the show! Gude keep us a', man, what wad come o' us if the awfu' like brutes wad brak' out o' the water?"

—Here is a bouquet of compliments "There are but two fine things in the world," says Malherbe, "women and roses." Lessing exclaims, "Woman is the masterpiece of the universe." Bourdon says, "The pearl is the image of purity, but woman is purer than the pearl." Thackeray writes, "A good woman is the loveliest flower that blooms under heaven." Balzac says, "Even the errors of woman spring from her faith in the good." Voltaire declares, "All the reasonings of men are not worth one sentiment of woman." Lamartine asserts that "women have more heart and imagination than men." Otway exclaims, "O woman! lovely woman! Nature made thee to temper man, we had been brutes without you." To which Mark Twain adds, "But for you we should be nothing, for we should not be here."

—An old Scotchman being informed by a betting acquaintance that "his friend the captain" would obligingly hold the stakes, the canny northerner replied, "Ay, ay, that's a' very weel, but wha's the hand the captain?"

—The trial of the English detectives accused of aiding and abetting criminals against justice, is not only revealing the most unpleasant things as regards the police system, but incidentally holding out the most glittering inducements to a life of crime. From the confession of the chief witness it appears that a certain Race-course Insurance Society brought him in £6,000 in three days—a rate of profit that is certainly effected by none of our more legitimate professions. His "transactions" were upon so large a scale that he spent in one season no less than £20,000 in advertisements, and whatever swindle he undertook appears to have prospered with him. The wages of sin will therefore appear very remunerative. And yet, if one considers, this prosperous gentleman had his cares, and even his losses; he was always at the mercy of the first confederate who chose to "round" upon him; he had, by his own account to support half the members of the Detective Department out of his gains; and he is now "doing" the first year out of a sentence of fifteen years' penal servitude.

The Calkins Washer Again Victorious
What the people say about it:

At a public demonstration of the practical merits of this Washer on Friday, the 28th of September, (on which occasion having Washers on exhibition were invited and challenged to but failed to put in an appearance) the following verdict was given:—"We, the undersigned, having this day witnessed the washing of the Calkins Washer on the grounds at the Ontario Province, 1877, unhesitatingly say that the work performed by it was ordinary. Very dirty shirts, collars, cuffs, handkerchiefs, woollen blankets, etc., were washed clean in less than one time that they could have been washed by hand, or with Washer we are acquainted with. In our opinion it was a perfect (Signed):
