RAIN.

Oh, the rain has many kinds of moods For the merry summer showers From the first carpe of the robin-breech To the sum of the roses!

Through the sunshine's gold her glitter steals,
In the dreamiest April weather, When the world seems trying how it feels
To be married and glad together.

THRO' THE RYE.

[illegible]

"Cole is very ill," say the secured from a distance. Can die, I ask, trembling, that a be cruelly infected with she dread giving it to the who sleeps with. But the soon be carried, and the roses on her healthy white cheeks, never changing, and he
As he went last night,

In very early morning, the cold light has gone and of the dawn has not yet I am awakened by a voice asking for "water." the very words that I have to each Wattie's baby lips I do not move for a mo-raise a tired creature who on by one lightning blow edged sword. I know what are. I know that Death ready taken away from me I rise softly, and bring water, by, rather than turn him to I lay the little head back blow. I do not kneel down or I fall down on my knees Wattie." God less urge me, and now he is my darling before and a man has Peppered with the pox on my knees again.
for the only son of a God, dear, and he was dying, and he has to go off with you, and I always knew that, for all her proud disdainful air, she would go—she would go. Don't suppose that I want to darken you from mine, on the contrary, if you do not, I will take good care that the country rings with the story of how I found my husband and Miss Helen Adair alone, at eleven at night, when all the people were away.... arranging an elopement between them. I wonder whether it would be you or I who would be hit most then for not having set on brother? I don't want to stop you, I only came after you to say one last Ha, ha! Have I not my revenge on you after all, Helen Adair?

Paul does not speak, only his hands clinch and one clinched the muscles rapidly, and his breast rises in short, quick pants.

"You taunted me once with the possession of a good name, that no man or woman could lay finger on," she says, in her mocking, dislike tone;
"do you think it is so white and soilless now?"

"Now," I say, little my hand back some, to her, "you will see as it me."

Like a woman who moves without her own volition Silvia leaves her place and follows. Again I lift my hand and beckon to Paul, who also comes slowly, like a man in a dream.

I open the door, traverse the short passage, and enter the bedroom, the husband and wife following. I walk to the bed and look round at them as they are standing by the door and lift my hand once more, and they see and stand one on either side of the bed — and they look down on the dead face of their little fatherless, motherless son Wattie.

"He died at six of the clock this evening," I say, monotonously; then something seems to snap in my brain, and I fall down like a log, with my arms round my little dead lad.

Under God's sky, a man stands holding my hand in his for the last time and asks me, as though I were his judge, to for give him the terrible sin and treachery into which his mad, sinful love and agony drove him; and I forgive him, yes, from the very bottom of my heart, and bid him G d speed, for I know that just as surely as that Wattie is laid away out of my sight under the brown mould at our feet, so shall never look on his father's face again in this life.....and so we say good-by reverently, tenderly, knowing it is our last farewell, and then he goes.

And on the night of the last day but one of August, in the yet early morning, he comes to me in my sleep, with the clear light of the immortals on his brow, and I awake, knowing full well that he is dead. Fourteen days afterward a letter is brought to me, and the superscription of the envelope is written by a Frenchman. I take it away to my chamber, and sit down with it in my hand: I am in no hurry to read it, for I know; then I break the seal.

"Madmoiselle," the letter begins, "I have a sacred duty to perform to you; I pray you to forgive me that it is so painful a one.....Before Sedan I fought side by side with M. Vasher, and it was toward evening that he fell, badly wounded. By good fortune I got him away to a place of safety, and a good Sister came and tended him, but he was past human aid. He gave me your address, and bade me tell you how he died.....Mademoiselle, he was the bravest man, the truest gentleman that ever took sword in hand..... He was very restless all night, but he never complained; and—forgive me, I had fallen asleep for a moment—toward the very early morning, I was awakened by his voice ringing out, loud and clear as a trumpet, 'Comin' thro' the rye—God's eye, Nell!' then he fell dead. We buried him, mademoiselle, at sunset, and laid on his heart a miniature he had always worn, as he bade us. An hour afterward a lady came; she was very beautiful, and seemed wild with grief.....Mademoiselle, she said she was his wife. With humble assurances of my sympathy, I am, your faithful servant,

"GABRIEL RISOLIERE."

Will they find each other up above, I wonder, my lost lover and my little lost angel? And since I shall go to them, but they will not return to me, I pant, I weary, I burn for the moment when death, "like a friend's voice from a distant field," shall call to me, and, taking my hand in his, lead me to the plains and fields that girdle round the shining city..... where shall I not see my darlings stepping to meet me through the unfading, incorruptible splendor of "God's rye!"

THE END.

SIMON PURE PHILOSOPHY.

An enthusiast is an individual who believes about 4 times az much az he kan prove, and proves about 4 times as much as enybody else believes.

Nature seldom makes a phool; she simply furnishes the raw material, and lets the feller finish the job to suit himself. Young man learn to wait; if you undertake to set a hen before she is ready you will leze your time and confuze the hen besides.

When you have bored the bull's eye, set down and keep still; folks will think then that you kan hit enny time you have a mind to.

I don't re-kollect ov ever doing enny thing that I was just a little ashamed ov but somebody remembered it, and was sure, once in a while, to put me in mind of it.—Josh Billings.

A RESULT OF RICH PROTECTION.

[Hamilton Times.]

A few years ago the Americans resolved to exclude, as far as possible, imports of English iron. To do this, a high protective duty was imposed.
The consequence was that all at once vast sums of capital were sunk in buying iron mines and erecting blast furnaces. The profits promised to be good, and so many plunged into the business that it was overdone. The result was that, on the 31st of December last, of the 716 iron furnaces in the United States, only 270 were in blast, 145 being closed. Of 52 furnaces in Michigan, only 9 were in blast; of 33 in Virginia, only 5 were in blast; and of 7 in North Car lina, all were silent.
Of Pennsylvania's 278 furnaces, 147 were out of blast. The productive capacity of the blast furnaces now in the country is about 4,000,000 tons, sufficient to supply the needs of the country for the next two years.

The young man was evidently honest in his intentions, but three years of constant courting had failed to overcome his excessive bashfulness. They were sitting in chairs at a respectful distance apart. Said the young man, having spent five minutes in search of a subject:

"How do you get along with your cooking?"

"Nicely," replied the young miss;
"I'm improving wonderfully. I can make a splendid cake now."

"Can you?" said the young man in a pleased manner. "What kind do you like the best?"

"I like one made with flour and sugar and currents and raisins and currants and a few of those things, and a beautiful frosted top," responded the young miss.

"Why, that's a wedding cake!" exclaimed the young man nervously.

MORE RETIRED MANUFACTURERS.

Protection that World "Benefits" the Farmer.

[Toronto Globe.]

Mr. N. W. Brown of Whitby is the chief partner in the Brown & Patterson Manufacturing Company, whose specialty is agricultural machine making, as the "Whitby Harvester." Referring to the operations of the firm, the Whitby Gazette says: "The Brown & Paterson Manufacturing Company is busy at work turning out another lot of four hundred of their Whitby Harvesters for which they have already orders for, and they hope to be able to get out another fifty ready for the present season. They have over sixty hands working in their machine shops night and day, and for the last week teams have been waiting all round the workshops ready to draw 'Harvesters' away as fast as they can be turned out by the manufacturers." Mr. Brown is also member for South Ontario in the local legislature, is an extreme Conservative, and he raises his voice as loud as any in the chorus of "struggling politicians" and greedy monopolists who clamor for "protection." Why should he not want protection? Cheap labor in manufacturing, accumulated gains have not lessened the itch of his palm for more.
He knows that if he had a protective tariff of 35 per cent. on his machines, which is what Sir John proposes, he could increase his profits by just $75 on every $200. Of course the farmer would have to pay it, in the increased cost of his machines; but what is that to Sir John in pursuit of office, or Mr.
Brown in pursuit of wealth? It is not unnatural, therefore, that Mr.
Brown should want protection, or that he should disregard the fact that he is doing a prosperous and profitable business under the 17½ per cent. tariff.
A higher tariff would give him more money, and naturally he goes for it.
But it would be the very height of suicidal folly on the part of the farmers of South Ontario, with these facts before them, to vote in favor of taxing themselves by an increased cost of $75 on the difference between the existing tariff and that proposed by Sir John on every $200 worth of machinery they buy, for the benefit of Mr. Brown, nor will they be so blind to their own interests as to do so. In electing Mr. Gibbs to Parliament they would return a vote in favor of Sir John Macdonald's proposition to place this additional tax on upon themselves, not alone upon their agricultu-al machinery, but upon all other luxuuries and necessaries of life. Coming nearer home, we find by the local papers that on Saturday last the Messrs.
Gurney Bros., of Brockville, were obliged to go to all their agents the following despatches: "We cannot furnish you with one machine. We are three thousand short of orders." Yet in spite of these facts, and the same gratifying evidence of the restoration of trade is to be seen in every manufacturing town in the Dominion—we find reckless politicians crying down the credit of the country, prating of prostrate industries and ruined manufactures, shutting their own eyes and trying to blind the eyes of the people to the abundant prosperity upon which we have entered, and asking the people to tax themselves and impose burdens upon themselves which the revenue does not call for, and which are opposed to every true interest of the great mass of the people, the consumers. We have faith in the intelligence and discrimination of the people of Canada, that they will not be deluded by "protection" sophistries into inflicting untold injury upon themselves for the benefit of a handful of monopolists, and of Sir John A. Macdonald.

LIVER IS KING.

The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper ac-tion, all kinds of ailments are the natu-ral result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all per-sons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symp-toms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Posi-tively sold by S. FERRIN, Lindsay. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.—979-eow.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COM-FORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of di-gestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a del-icately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating round us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, 48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Pic cadilly, London."—799-1y.

READ CAREFULLY.

SAMUEL OSBORNE, Sophiasburg, says: I was affected with Dyspepsia for nearly four years, my lungs becoming affected towards the last. I was induced to try the Shoshonees Remedy. After using three or four bottles I felt much bet-ter and gained strength rapidly, my health im-proved steadily and rapidly, and when I had taken three or four bottles more I was quite re-stored to health and strength, and have experi-enced better health than for forty years before. I had been under the treatment of a number of physicians before, but never received any material aid until I used your remedy.

A. McKAY, Truro, N. S., says: He was very bad with Liver Complaint, but used the Shosh-onees Remedy, and in a month was as well as he had ever been in his life. I am now in business and wish you to send me three dozen by steamer.

A. WOOD, Jonesboro, says: That he has tried the Remedy for Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia with great success. I have also used the Shosh-onees Pills and find that they are as good as any I ever tried.

HENRY KING, Geneva, N. Y., says: My wife was intensely afflicted with dyspepsia for a long time. We consulted physicians of three different schools, and received no benefit. She has taken three bottles of the Great Shoshonees Remedy, and is now hearty and well.

Rev. JOHN SCOTT, says: Mr. McKenzie Botting suffered from an attack of Rheumatism, and was unable to move without help; but after taking a few bottles of the Shoshonees, was able to walk as well as ever. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, $1; Pills, 25 cents a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

THE SECRET OF BUSINESS SUCCESS.

It is claimed that Vanderbilt exhibited great nerve and shrewd business sagacity in the pur-chase of cracks and railroads controlled by him. Yet, whenever he made an investment he received in return an equivalent either as his own or as collateral security. Dr R V. Pierre has invest-ed many hundred thousand dollars in advertis-ing, depending entirely upon the superior popu-larity of his family medicines, and the annual in-crease in their sale attests in arguments stronger than words of their purity and efficiency. If the blood be impoverished, the liver sluggish, or there be tumors, blotches and pimples, Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will effect a speedy and perfect cure. If the bowels be consti-pated use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. Debilitated females suffering with those peculiar dragging-down sensations and weaknesses, will find Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a safe and certain remedy. Prompt relief and a permanent cure have so universally followed its use, that the doctor now sells it under a positive guarantee

OAKLAND, Douglas Co., Oregon, Jan. 23, 1877. DR. PIERCE, Buffalo, N.Y.:

Dear Sir,—Your Golden Medical Discovery has cured my daughter of goitre, after many physi-cians had failed. Inclosed please find $5.50 for a copy of The People's Common Sense Medical Ad-viser. With us it takes the place of the family physician.

Yours truly, AARON ALLEN.

MT. VERNON, O., July 10, 1876. DR. PIERCE, Buffalo, N.Y.:

Dear Sir,—Four bottles of your Favorite Pre-scription has entirely cured my wife. We em-ployed three different physicians and many reme-dies, but found no relief. With a thankful heart, I am,

Ever your friend, AUGUST WARRING.

REMARKABLE RESULTS FOLLOW.

Pain ceases, swelling subside, fever abates, and a natural and healthy state takes place after using this great and wonderful preparation known as Thom-as' Eclectric Oil. Thousands testify to the happi-ness resulting from the use of this preparation. Why not procure a bottle at once. The cost is common sum. One bottle has cured bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity time back of eight years standing. The following are extracts from a few of the many letters that have been received from different parts, which we think, should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical:

Thomas Robinson, Farnham Centre, writes: "I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried 'Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil,' and since then have had no at-tack of it. I would recommend it to all."

See what the Medical Faculty say: Dr. Beau-doin, Hull, P.Q., says: "I have sold 'Thomas' Electric Oil' for two years, and I have never sold a medicine which has given more thorough satis-faction. I have used it in my own case on a broken leg and dislocated ankle, with the best results."

A. H. Gregg, Manufacturer of Mowing Mach-ines, Tunenasking, N. Y., says: "My thumb was caught in a gearing and badly injured, being away from home, for two days, was obliged to apply such remedies as I could get, but with-out relief, until I procured a bottle of your Lini-ment. Immediately upon reach-ing home I applied the Eclectric Oil, with almost instant relief. I have a large number of men em-ployed, and your oil has established for itself such a reputation that nearly every one of them keeps it."

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of "S. N. Thomas" is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are known in the bottle, and refuse anything else. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cents. Masson Manufacturing Co.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS.

The MASSON MAN'F'G CO OF OSHAWA,

Would call particular attention to their new

COMBINED SUPERIOR SPRING HOE BROADCAST SEEDER AND DRILL.

With Steel Spring for Hoe, a new and very important feature in their business. It is so constructed that by a very simple contrivance it can be changed from a Drill to a Broadcast Seeder, or from machines for nearly the same price as formerly charged for a single machine, and it only wants to be seen to strike the farmer at once that he cannot do without it. Of their Single Drills or Broadcast Seeders, very little need be said here, there being over five thousand of them now in use in the Pro-vince, which have won for themselves the name they bear, "superior," and have proved themselves to be far ahead of any other machines of their kind in the market.

THE GALLOWAY RAKE.

The best Rake on the Continent is called the Galloway. 1,600 sold the season of 1877. Every one a success. For the trade of 1878 we will build the Galloway Rake with J. B. Armstrong's new patent tapered teeth, all of which will be warranted for the season. Examine the Galloway Rake before purchasing. We can rake the largest winrow, rak: the cleanest stubble, and dump the easiest of any Rake in the market.

The Masson Man'f'g Co. have made a specialty of these machines, and having kept the lead in the past are determined to do so in the future, in all the latest improvements.

From the report of the Special Committee appointed to superintend the heating and ventilation of the Court House and County buildings:—

"Having fully considered the best mode of carry-ing out your instructions, and having made due en-quiry and come to the conclusion that the method introduced by Mr. Stephenson had the merit of combining great economy in fuel with an improved ventilation, your Committee thought it in your best interests to adopt it, and gave a con-tract, which will be laid before you, to Messrs. Steph-enson & Thompson, for the completion of the work; as to its success you now have an opportunity of as-certaining by personal inspection.

Your Committee, however, beg leave to express their approval of the manner in which the contract was carried out."
