SPRATT & KILLEN. The Most Popular Local Paper in the District.

TWO MONTHS FREE!

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

Sell Off Commencing in September, BETTER VALUE THAN EVER.

The reputation of THE CANADIAN POST as one of the best local papers in the Province is now so well established that little remains to be said with regard to the work of the coming year except that all the various features that have made THE POST popular and widely read will be maintained with increased efficiency, and that greater value to the reader is promised all the year round. Owing to the encroachments of advertisers upon the space that ought to be devoted to news, we have decided to issue a large supplement sheet every other week, or oftener, and this, with other arrangements that have been made, and are to be made, will provide for the readers of THE POST a quantity of reading matter not inferior on the whole to that given in most of the city weeklies, while it will far surpass them in local and special interest. THE POST will continue, as in the past, to devote special attention to local news and local interests, and as such it solicits local support.

The residents of the County and adjacent townships will find in THE POST a prompt and interesting record of home events, such as cannot be found in the city weeklies, and will find its columns valuable for the advocacy of local interests, the promotion of sound local projects and the exposure of local wrong-doing.

The fine harvest and good prices for all kinds of grain and produce will enable every farmer in the district to take his local paper. Our friends throughout the district are therefore requested to bring before their neighbors (not now taking this paper) the merits of THE POST. At this time the market reports will be of special value to farmers, and attention is directed to the 'Markets by Telegraph" in THE POST from all local points of importance, and to the large amount of general market information which indicates as well as may be the state of the great markets of the world and the prospects of prices.

A new story of surpassing interest will be commenced in a couple of weeks. Large instalments will be given each week. The story is one that will QUEEN, be read at every fireside and will be up to the standard of careful selection for which THE POST is favourably known.

The agricultural department will be increased in quantity and value. This has been one of the most popular and useful features of the paper, and has had no little influence in leading on to improved methods of farming, and to the keeping of improved stock. This is now a very important matter, and will, with the live stock markets published weekly, render THE POST still more valuable to the farmers.

Send in your names at once. $1.50 will pay to the 1st Jan., 1883, for new subscribers. See club list rates in another advertisement.
