THE MIDLAND RAILWAY
CALAMITATION
The new Midland railway provincial section has been completed by the purchase and amalgamation of the Whitby and Victoria railways. The transfer will not doubt take place at an early date, and the new line will be the one main effect of this will be that it will run from Toronto to Hamilton via the Whitby railway to Hamilton station, from which place the four-mile line to Wick will be built at once. The sections to which will be built as quickly as possible, and through the purchase of the system of the new line will be made use of for going on down east. This will give a new route through the centre of the province.

CALAMITATION
The absorption of the Victoria will be a local disappointment, probably, but it is not of this nature to presume an opinion as to the results. It is not likely that much will be done towards its extension by the proprietors of the new system, but as part of the policy of the combination is to reach out to the South there may be more than compensating advantages to be derived therefrom.

THE MIDLAND RAILWAY
CALAMITATION
The question is, however, that our own council and manufacturer's committee should deal with an early day.

THE MIDLAND RAILWAY
CALAMITATION
Several of our exchanges have discussed the question of value of city and county papers, and by the Toronto concern now engaged in the plan of "running" each other down.

The Waterloo competition now going on between the two papers, the Globe and Mail, and the Waterloo Free Press, is one of the most interesting in the history of the city.
