

G. A. Weese.

she is, a clever lawyer could soon worm all out of her in the witness-box, and then what a flare up there would be among the gossips of Drumellan! Wouldn't they make a nice thing of it, and smear at us for evermore, even though I am to be the proprietor of The Lion, and Bessie my lawful wife. Yes, I'm glad she's a fool; it's a deuced lucky thing for me.

For once his soul turned from bar-rooms and billiards, and soberly skirting the town he went home to the farm. Though he was not conscious of the fact, the shocking events of the night before had made a change even upon his light and evanescent nature. He already felt that he had a new life before him, fresh responsibilities and new dependents hanging upon him. His father was snatched away; already he felt something of the spirit of a father stirring within him that latent manliness, with a share of which even the most selfish are blessed. He took the path by the river, all the way wondering if he was treading on the foot-prints of the murderer. He even paused at the side leading up to the fatal spot, and tried to picture to himself the dread struggle and the delivery of the fatal blow, but imagine as he could a cloud of mystery enveloped the form and features of the murderer.

ERROR. An error was made in last correspondence. The work was done on the 3rd quarter line instead of on the concession as stated.

ENTERTAINMENT. The teacher and scholars at Aros public school intend having a grand entertainment at the close of the present year. Active preparations are being now made.

SUCCESSFUL. Several hunters have gone north, but none appear to have been so successful as some were last Saturday (homereward bound) who had thirty-seven deer and one bear with them. They came from Goudwood and had been gone about two weeks.

FLEETWOOD.

SUNDEPLAND.

[Correspondence of The Post.]
A GRAND CONCERT under the auspices of Rev. P. F. Rohleder will be given here on the evening of Saturday, 31st December. The talent will consist of the leading members of St. Mary's church choir, Toronto. The success of these young ladies and gentlemen on a former occasion assures us in looking forward to a rare treat. No pains are being spared to make the entertainment a grand success. The same party will also give a concert for a similar purpose in Beverton on the following Monday, after which a dance will be given.

MOVING. Mr. C. Kelley, harness maker, is about moving his business to L'Abbe.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Mr. A. M. Reekie having secured the shop recently occupied by Mr. Stonehouse, is opening out an extensive stock of agricultural implements and sewing machines, as well as a choice selection of musical instruments. He will no doubt very much increase his trade.

RAILWAY BUILDING. Sub-contracts are already being let on the branch line from Wick to Manilla. Mr. Huxtable of this place is one of the contractors.

LITTLE BRITAIN.

[Correspondence of The Post.]
OBIT. The funeral of Philip Mark, an old settler, took place last Friday.

SERVICES. Services are still being carried on in the B. C. church.

CHRISTMAS TEA. Preparations are being made for the annual tea meeting in connection with the C. M. church of this place.

FARMERS CLUB. I notice by the last number of The Post that the agricultural editor is still advocating the benefit of a farmers club in or about Oakwood. I think the propositions advanced by him last week should be acted upon at once, if once started it would be a success, a vast amount of instructions would be derived from such a meeting, especially in the winter months when the farmers are not generally busy, could attend in large numbers and discuss important questions of import.

IMPROVEMENT. Mr. John Cowles has taken out a cellar for a large building which he intends putting up in the spring. It will add greatly to the appearance of the cottage.

CURSES.—The shingle mill is in full blast. Mr. Stevenson's new jewellery shop is opened. The Manitoba fever is high.
