BRECHIN, RELEATOUS SERVICES, - Last week Bre-RELICIOUS SERVICES,—Last week liver chin was visited by two esteemed missions aries from Toronto, Rev. Fathers Miller and Coutte. The former is of Swiss origin, the latter German origin. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather and bad roads the church was crowded both morning and evening, at least four hundred attending each serinen. Hev. Father Miller displayed fine and remarkable oratorical powers, and the eyes of the congregation were rived on him as they drank in his momentous message. Although the rev. lather was obliged to remain away from the church on several occasions ow. rev. Inther was obliged to remain away from the church on neveral occasions owing to a severe cold, yet his zeal for the salvation of souls was manifested in the deep interest he exhibited in carrying on the duties of the church at home. The zeal of the flev. Father Courte cannot be questioned, nor yet the abilities he showed in trying to inculente the secret tender. trying to inculcate the sacred truths of religion to his hearers. Many will be the blessings upon the pastor of this church. Her. Father Rey, for it is owing to his untiring efforts for the spiritual welfare of his congregation that Brechin has been favored with such distinguished visitors. layored with such distinguished visitors. Old and respectable residents say they never saw the same amount of people with such good order shown not culy in the church but during their stay in the village. The untiring administrations of these services in this vicinity will be long remembered. bered, not only by the congregation of this church but the people of Mara a neerally.

THAVELLING MUSICIANS. Our village was visited last week by a troupe composed of three boys, one with an organette, the other two with violins. They wore high polled hats, with the word "hum" on the front in large letters. Suspended by strings were papers advertising a inferent articles, we heard no one say they were from Ger.

We would be absence the horse, a powerful and spirited one, was frightened by some dogs, and, beaking the halter by which he was tied, ran away across the rear of two or three lots until he collided with Mr. II. D-yman's stable, where he was captured. The primate was not injured, but the cutter and harness were both broken. we heard no one say they were from Ger-may, but from their mode of procedure we would suppose they were. After play-ing a tune they passed around the hat for

QUALITY CONSIDERED!

AN APPEAL TO YOUR POCKETS!

To all who propose to practice economy in its true form, a word in season.

QUALITY and QUANTITY sometimes go hand in hand, but quantity without quality often proves to be a very poor investment.

QUALITY should be the first consideration when you need GROCERIES or PROVISIONS or FRUITS or other living necessaries.

QUALITY is one of the leading features of my stock. Another feature that should be kept right in sight is the prices at which the goods are sold.

For Freshness, Strength and Value I can offer my Goods with the fullest confidence that they must prove satisfactory.

And the prices are low as living decent business requirements will let them be.
