There's a ride in the affairs of men, which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune, taken out undurt through a hole in the and many of our old Lindsay friends have roof. practically demonstrated the truth of the practically demonstrated the truth of the poet sadage. These, or nearly all of them, whom it has been my pleasure to meet, are leading honorable lives and encayed in tural society, was held on Wednesday, as whom it has been my pleasure to meet, are leading honorable lives and engaged in respectable business ventures. Whether they are found in the commercial centres or on the order confines of pior cer life they re cheerful as d industrious and pursue their avecations with an ambition indicating their dem conviction in the onward ceased. and up and invertal progress of the hu-man family. This brings me to mention the won level progress of the great North west and especially of the young towns and effice detting its vas extent. The growth of Grafice, the county's at of Walsh county. D. F., about forty miles north of Grand Forks and thirteen miles west of the Red Biverof the North, bas been truly wonderful. One year ago the 31st day of last Aug-tist I purchased the ground upon which stands the First National Bank of Grafton. nigh At that time there were but three buildings in course of creation in the whole Its population to-day is 1,200. It has four immense, elevators, a flouring mill that cost $50,000, with a daily capacity of $50 barrels, four churches, six hotels, achool homes, and in a short time will have a magnificent court house. And the growth of Galton is not of a musbroom character either, but a steady, wholesome, healthy one. What is true of Grafton may be said of nearly all the railread towns in Dakot and Manitoba, I visited Winnipeg a few we ke ago and that young and giant city is indeed a marvel of human progress. Its phenomenal growth to superlative prosperity, its immense resources, its solid wealth, its electric strides "through good and evil report" from the insignificant preportions of a hamlet in 1874 to the gigantic dimensions of a grand commercial emperium and a metropehtan city in 1882 are without a parallel in the field of human activity and challenge the admiration of even the most thoughtful and stolid My business, calling me as it fre quently does into the very heart of the great North west, in the very nature of things forces. It is the intention of the city authorime to a close observation of what I see the of Ottawa to re impose the income tax passing sround me. And when I realize that to day the trip from St. Paul to Winder the payment of the tax be resisted, as it no the payment of the tax be resisted, as it no the payment of the tax be resisted, as it no the payment of the tax be resisted, as it no the payment of the tax be resisted, as it no the payment of the tax be resisted, as it no the payment of the tax be resisted, as it no the payment of the tax be resisted, as it no the payment of the tax be carried to the privy council for final decision. An entire the payment of the tax be given his opinion that the exemption of government employees from the payment of the income amazed. When I contemplate the fact that what was yesterday an almost limitless waste of rich and fertile soil, whose wealth had not yet been touched by human hands and over whose luxurious surface no white man had trodden, is to-day dotted with happy homes and thrifty towns and vilray beart swells with gratitude that it has fallen to my lot to participate in this onward march of civilization toward the setting sun. These are the things that stimulate into action the dormant energies of the human soul, that makes man "screw his courage to the sticking place," that give him "spurs to prick the sides of his intent," and the only danger to be apprehended is his "vaulting ambition" which may overleap itself.—Yours, etc.,

NEWS OF THE WEEK. HOME AND FOREIGN ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The lose by the burning of the Interco-lonial railway offices at Moneton is about $30,000. Many valuable papers were ide-stroyed.

-Mr. Rose, the head master of the Victoria school, Hamilton, was fined $10 last week for severely whipping Charles Rac, Some miscreant the other day administered poison to the two young cub bears at the Zoo, Toronto. They died, after enduring terrible tortures. The Outario investment association of London is going to make good a defalcation of $50,000 on the part of an English agent by an assessment of $1 on every share.

The London Times says that as a result of the recent floods in England all the fall wheat is supposed to have rotted, and that the same state of affairs exists all over Europe. It is now generally believed that Sir Alexander Galt, Canada's high commissioner in London, will be recalled at the close of the present session, to be succeeded by Sir Charles Tupper.

Diptheria is reported to be very pre-valent in the county of Prescott, especially in the vicinity of Vankleek Hill. A farmer named John Sharpe recently lost five children by the dread disease.

Mr. Allan Grant of Ottawa, lost a fine team of horses during the month of June last, in the Mattawa district. The animals were found last week still alive and well. They must have lived on boughs during the winter months.

Mrs. E. A. Jewett of Georgetown, Mass., coasted down a hill on a hand-sled the other afternoon, her 90th birthday. Though the sled went faster than a railway train, she said she liked it as well as when she were short dresses and brogans.

G. B. Elliott, of the Brandon Mail, who was taken to the general hospital at Winnipeg a few days ago with his feet badly frozen, has had both feet amputated. Dr. Delahoyeof Portage la Prairie, is also suffering from frost bite, has lost several to have its illegality declared. The miserable girl, Islian Leishman, who attempted to ruin the character of the Rev. Mr. Beattle, of Brantford, has unwittingly been the means of adding to the general respect in which the reverend gentleman is held, and of cementing more closely his relations with his church and congregation. At a meeting of the latter held last week a series of resolutions were adopted expressive of the unwavering confidence Mr. Beattie's flock have always reposed in their pantor, and congratulating him upon the complete break down of the odions charges brought against him by an unprincipled woman. And to give weight to their protestations it was announced that the congregation had decided upon giving Mr. Beattle a tangible testimonial of their confidence and respect in the shape of an addition to his salary. All this will be gall and wormwood to Mr. Beattle's amiable persecutors.

The institutions of the United States are so jealous of the liberty of the subject that in the majority of public schools corporal punishment is prohibited as being an assault upon the pupil. But in Lancaster, Pa., recently, this cherished doctrine was reversed. A teacher there whipped a boy for swearing during school hours, for which he cursed her to her face, and she whipped him again. The boy brought suit for assault and battery against the teacher; but the jury decided that it served the boy right, and the mistress of the rod was acquitted. quitted.

-Last spring a young student had a remarkable escapade at Kingston. It will be remarkable that a young and handsome girl came from the west and fascinated the medico to whom she was about to be married, the impression being that she was immensely wealthy. There was a hitch in the matrimonial arrangements, and while an effort was being made to adjust matters an effort was being made to adjust matters the woman shot herself. The circumstance on account of the romance becoming quite sensational, the young medico went west, located in Manitoba, became manager of a brickyard, and made off with a large remittance placed at his command to meet manufacturing expenses. -- Ireland has lost one of its most influential and devoted friends in the death of Cardinal McCabe. He was not only a faith ful friend to the Irish people, but a faithful friend to law and order; an enemy to the tyranny of the landlord, to the midnight marauder and the assessin. Cardinal McCabe never crased to proclaim that honesty must ever remain the standard of utility, and that a just cause did not require the aid of wicked deeds and unhalowed associations. No man of our day has labored more unceasingly to promote freedom and good government, to put an end to oppression, by means consistent with justice, mercy and truth, than did Cardinal McCabe. We can wish for the people of Ireland nothing better than that one equally just and enlightened may be found to take his place.

-Last Monday evening a collision took place on the Great Western division of the Grand Trunk between Hamilton and Dundas about two miles from the later place. The Pacific express was two hours late, and drew out of Hamilton to make Dundas to meet the day express east. It was drawn When the trains collided they must have been going at the usual rate of speed, as the engines and several cars were a heaped mass of wreckage. The two engines of the west-bound train had truck the other engine, and both jumped to the north side of the track and lay side by side, while the east-bound engine jumped to the south side of the track. The engine, cabs, and tenders were a heap of uins, an so broken and mixed up that it the belonged to either engine. On top of the engines were piled the east and west bound express cars - the east bound a total wreck - in which Expressman Mitchell and Baggageman White, escaped without a rious injuries. Conductor Thorne was in charge of this train, and Wm. Offard in charge of the engine. Offard and the fire-man jumped before the collision occurred herefore they were not injured. The westbound fist express suffired the most dam-ige. It was in charge of Conductor James Hamilton, with Teddy Mason of Hamilton. one of the oldest engineers on the road, in charge of the pilot or first engine, and with Frank William fireman. Peter Temple was the engineer in charge of the second engine. There being a heavy tog and curve in the read the trains were near each other and could not be stopped. Mason stood to his post, reversing his engine, and did not jump in time to save himself. He wis killed almost in tantaneously. Temple, the other engineer, and the two firemen jump ed for their lives and saved themselves. The second express car was considerably broken up, while the third one, in which was expressman Billy Regers and brake-man Walsh, telescoped with a smoking or second-class car just behind it, sweeping the stove and all the seats within a few feet of the length of the car. The scene was heartrending. From the ruins was taken a young man about 25 years, supposed to be Charles Douglas, on his way to Guelph. On his person he had considerable money and a draft for $1,800. His head was sma-ted so as to be almost unrecognizable. Others who were injured were John and Others who were injured were John and Wm. Lacement, Geo. Laceford, Mrs. Wm. Myers, and Mrs. Wm. Kelpin. The latter received a terrible cut in one of her feet. The others are injured internally. The last five named were Germans from Rochester, and were on their way to Wisconsin. The trainmen and passengers quickly got to work and had the injured car d for.
