W. A. GOODWIN

NEW ROOM PAPER of the best quality and leavest prices. Also the Pictures & Picture Frames in stock or to order. Now is the time to get vour work done before the rise in price of glass. lumber, See, takes offset.

MINHOUS AND MODLETINGS at Toronto trices, Old frames renewed. Mirror plains resilvored. W. A. C. will farnish the colobrated Oil Painted Window Shades all widths, plain or ornamented, by the yard or piece. Call and see samples. Agency for Pickinis Formto Steam Dye Works. Artists' Macorials S. M. Nordles, etc. Baker's Block, Near the Market, Kent Street, Lindsay.

W. R. Skitch.

SKITCH'S CARRIAOR WORKS. W. R. SKITCH

the Works, William-St., Lindsay,

The Canadian Lost.

LINDSAY, PRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1889.

FATED FAIRFAX.

A STORY OF LOVE AND WAR

ontaining the mock certificate was quietly lamp he was infectly incapable of stirring or ortingui hing it, so he and his house and the marriage register were all consum-

Miss Meson received the news as a polite but totall, disinterested listener; but as she rolled done the dusty reads in her cor-reage on her way home she thought all the time of her little joke and its probable days was so surprising out that moundhar low a parious Stagapore chale, drop her book in her last, and indules in a long and evidently delightful reverse, bewildering her feelish old father by anodry the of whelly now a disease suppressed laughter.

THE THUNDSHINGET. Alice, Miss Fane and Geoffrey were seated at the breakfirst table one driveling December morning. The post had just come in. Geoffrey, baying unlocked the bag, was distributing the letters.

"Om for you, Miss Fanes looks like a bill and had had been been tooks like a hill, said he mischievensly. Two young lady letters for you. Alice, and one from Fairfax, of course. I wonder he does not writes, it contents to the construct of the construction of the contents of th

Phop were never weary; they seemed each day
Fresh egatics to imbibe;
And they eased in each other's eyes in a way
That I willy can't describe.
And once it was my lot to see
What shocked my sensitive inste;
They were sitting as close as way, and be Itan his sem about her waist.

That you never did, you rude boy, Here, give me my letter at one, sir!" cried Alles, half rising.
"Manam, take it. You need not blush she that; it mikes me quite het to look at you. After all, you never did shock my sonsitive taste as yet, and I hope you never will. Now for the newspapers," diving will, Now for the newspapers, diving again into the tag. Hallol here's another letter, Alice from India, I declare, and a good fat one to. Who is your corresponding a former discussible admirer writing from the East to upbratel you with your Nonannae, Gooff; how can you talk such ufter nonzens. I'm sure I den't know who it can be from. Chestaporet I know no one there."

"Well, I ok sharp and open it, and you will soon see. Most likely a bill of Heiders."

aid's t thought he was a mady money man," said to direct, austrely, Orgatly bowildered, and with trombling thanks, blice unfolded the inclosure, and general at it for some time before the exactly understood what the was looking at. Copy of Cartificate of Marriage, All Saints' Charch, Chertapore, Briginali Mosiya Fairfar, bacholor Fanny

Maria Fox and John Fox, witnesses,
White as a short and trembling like a leaf, Alice handed this, along with the lef-(hite spinster

If cannot make it out," she said at leat, "It safems to less perfectly correct copy of a confillmate of marriage, does it not, Gooffeep?"

in; it's only tour house by faile Wife that | Alice, warmly. "I know him, of course, dof pushing back his chair and looking at Alice interrogatively.

"Yes, do, my dear Geoff; and go at once," she cried eagerly; "for though I know it is a ridiculous missale, still I led guite edd and frightened. But perhane," she added, after a moment's passes, "we should wait till Regin ild comes home the dry after to-morrow; he will clear it up. Yes; second thoughts are always bent; we will wait, thank you; Geoff, all the same,"

"No, no, iny dear," said Miss Fane, emphatically, "the scoper the matter is quite cleared up the better. I must beg you to take my advice on the subject as a person much older and more experienced than either of you. Geoffrey can easily catch the ten o'clock train. It is now a quarter past nine."

past nine."

After a short discussion, during which the clder lady carried all before her, it was settled that Geoffrey was to start at once; so he quickly bolted his breakfast, and in half an hour was quickly speeding up to London as fast as an express could carry him. Thinking it better to consult some o'der head, he drove from Waterloo Statio to W. sax Gardens, where Mr. and Mrs. Ma) hew, Sir Reginald's first cousins, lived.

The ilonorable Mark and his wife were at luncheon when Geoffrey entered, and without any beating about the ours b unt without any beating about the blish b thit ly loid his effentd.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayhew examined the certificate with the greatest incredulity, and laughed at the idea of Rex above all prople committing bigamy, "he so upright, so honorable, a man of stainless character, who had never been known to make a love made and the vy to where stations.

In the part of the heat seasoned timber which he will sell only a large number of the country and the very and the very which he will sell at the country and the very still a large number of the very and the very which he will sell at the very sell of the very and the very sell of the very se Neverth-less there was the certificate, "and just to show that it was a forgery and to just to show that it was a forgery and to relieve Miss Fane's mind, you and Geoff will take it to some respectable solicitors and quietly ask their opinion," said Mrs. Maybew. So they took it to Bagge and Keepe, an intensely correct firm; and Mr. It gas, after estefully scrutinizing the certificate for some seconds, unbestatingly pronounced it to be a genuine copy, and swore to the handwriting of Rev. Hugh Parry, who had been one of their clients for years. "I can show you apprompted for years. "I can show you any number of his letters, and you can judge for your selves, gentlemen," preparing to open a brown japanned box, on which "R. and H l'arry" was emblesoned in large white

The little hatchet faced lawyer, with his petietrating grey eyes and mutton-chop whiskers, seemed so perfectly confident of the identity of the signature and the truth of the certificate, that Mr. Mayhew's breath despatched to Lady Fairfax.

I should here mention that when the old clerk called for the register and his ten repers, and got them, he hastened to the Hazarand laid in a time supply of strack, which he conveyed to his solitary "go down." His crey was on such an extensive scalathat when he upsets lighted kerosene lamp he was perfectly incapable of stirring series that when he apach of stirring series that when he apach of stirring series that when he apach of stirring series that we had to the back of his head, series that we had to the back of his head, series that we was perfectly incapable of stirring series that we was perfectly speaking, quite taken awa, metaphorically speaking, quite taken awa, and the gased from him to Geoffry whose viage had visitely speaking, quite taken awa, and the gased from him to Geoffry where viage had visitely speaking, quite taken awa, and the gased from him to Geoffry where the gased from him to Geoffry where the gased from him to Geoffry where viage had visitely lengthened with away, and the gased from him to Geoffry where the gased from him t seratched his grively locks, and obviously obtained some kind of mental inspiration.

for at last he found words:

"It is of no consequence at present, Mr. Hagge, I'm obliged to you all the same, And a you are quite certain of this" flourishing the certificate—"being Mr. Parry's signature" "Quite certain. You can compare it yourself. Hancock," to a clerk, "just reach down "Never mind not to-day another time, "Sweet is revenge, especially to women "I forzer who wrote that, but it is true," she murmined. "Mine is even more complete that I had expected. Mr. Parry is dead; the clork and the register burnt: the witnesses, John and Jane Fox, gone to Australia no riv two years ago. Clear vour aff if you can. Sir fleginald Fairfax: I'll not help to i; and I think you will find I have given you a difficult task."

Such were Mas Mason's reflections, and there ago a three business, Geoff," exclaimed her smalllivy for the next two or three mind not to-day another time, "Come along the door. "What you say never, rever dent and the door. "What you say never, rever dent and the door. "What you say never, rever could be true."

"Stay, stay," cried Miss Fire, fell wing her briskly; "I would not have it all tune if I had not altogether your guedatheart. You had not hisk it can be pleasant for me to doubt my own nephew?" but it was very pleasant—"I only want to open your and if have given you a difficult task."

It is a queer business, Geoff," exclaimed her amade entry from the door. "What you say never, rever could be true."

"Stay, stay," cried Miss Fire, fell wing the briskly; "I would not have it all tune if I had not altogether your guedatheart. You surely do not think it can be pleasant for me to doubt my own nephew?" but it was very pleasant—"I only want to open your a deal of the door. "Stay, stay," cried Miss Fire, fell wing the could be true."

"It is a queer business, Geoff," exclaimed worst. There is no one to perform this it. I have given you and if I had not altogether your guedatheart. You had not altogether your gu

Mr. Mayhew, once they found themselves in the street; "a very queer business!" striding along at a tremendous pace, and looking very red in the face; "but Reginald is sure to make it all right, you may take your oath on that. Just leave it to him to except upwars, to lock herself up to her settle. Ife'll be back in a couple of days. Mind you don't miss the train- it's now a quarter past five. Here's a hansom, hop in or you'll a late tive Alies my love, and tell her it's all right; it will be all cleared up when Rev. comes home. Waterloo, 'to

"All very time," inuttered Geoffery, as he "All very line," inuttered Geoffery, as he was rattled over the pavement; "I wish he had to face Miss Fane, with Hagge's opinion, instead of me. She'll get it out of me before she sleeps to night, so I suppose I had better make a virtue of necessity and tell the truth at once. Won't she just make Allee having despatched Geoffrey, and seen him fairly off to the station, as test as the fratest harness hack could take him, ed by entrees of erown a gesto a. She had the worst prion of the word and everyindy i gen ral, an op nion who who had p udenti ken the sift. Anoffic in her own it decrete, such as this was likely to be, would afford her materials for letters and conversation for an indefinite time. It wont up to her own room, and there road her bushand's letter, from which her ationher husband's letter, from which her atten-tion had been so rudely diverted. It was a nice letter for a young wife to receive— not a spooney, love-lorn effusion, but a good, rational amusing letter, that had evidently given as much pleasure to the writer to write as to Alice to receive, and that, without fulsome extravagance, breathed a spirit of pure true, proud, tender love from the first page to the last. Till now yearer-day's had been to Alice the best and most precious of letters now to day's came to when it happened; I saw and heard everything with my own eyes and ears."

She had no respect for her nephew's name—she was not a Fairfax—no pity for his young wife. The excitement of a cause cause celebre in her family caused neither shame nor herror; quite the reverse. She knitted the heel of a stocking; made an excellent lunch of fish cutlets, curried fowl, tasts and exame tunk an airfing in the none. precious of letters; now to-day's came to out it iside, and would in turn give place to to-morrow's, for the last was always the tar's and cream; took an airing in the pony carriage; and awaited Geoffrey areturn with most prized.

Having cosd and reread her letter, Alice felt a double relience in her husband and a carriage; and awaited Geoffrey's return with imperturuable mein.

"Alice would return to live with her," she reflected, "if this turned out as she imagined; and she would make her a handsome allowance, say three thousand pounds a year, as before. Brighton or Cheltenham wouldsuit her best; she loathed the country, and would be able to give nice little dinners, card parties, and suppers, and keep a brougham and pair—baye or greys—iron-greys look dashing; mulberry livery and silver buttons, and of course a cockade—it looked so smart. Perhaps a soverign contempt for the marriage certificate, which must be either someone class or intended for a shameful hoax. Much emboldened and encour ged by reflection, Alice ran down stairs in search of Miss Fanc, whom she found knitting in the morning room, with an ominous purse on her lips and a frown on her brow.

her lips and a frown on her brow.

She was sitting in the window and merely raised her eves for a second as Alice came in. Alice approached her, and, leaning against the window with one hand in her pocket and surreptitiously grasping her precous letter plunged bold into conver-cockade—it looked so smart. Perhaps a victoria, too, for summer."

"Here her castle building was interrupted by the entrance of Alice, watch in hand—Alice, who had not tasted a morsel all day. She had spent hours alternately pacing the room and reading her husband's letter; at one moment revived with hope, at another sickening with despair, according as her own convictions or Miss Fane's came uppermost. Pale, but composed, she drew near the tire, and mechanically spread her hands towards the blaze. "Have you dissed yet, Miss Fane! I am very sorry to have Atten on: fin one loss cantiously and drow out a thin no e and a long slip of paper. The note ran as follows:

"Manager Can openious will show you think about it! For my own part, I most contain that for a long slip of think about it! For my own part, I most contain that for a long slip will never believe that Reginald the long state of the long slip will never believe that Reginald to any one but me. "Made with a not come will show you see the state of the institution of the has deceived others. He are not concern his amount of the second others. He is a wolf in sheep's clothing.

"One with known his week."

"One with known his week."

"One with known his week."

your mind why sak me?" returned Alias Face, coldly.
"Hecause I have no one clae to talk to about it. You are his aunt-his mether's sister. For would not believe such a thing of him, I know." Miss Fane drow in her lips and knitted factor and more flere, is then ever.

Alice, kneeling beside her, softly laid her

What does it mean. Miss Fancy' she say, Trust your husband? In my heart I what does it mean. Wise Fancy she asked abnotion whisper.

Miss Fanc, having adjusted her pincement carefully, took both and read them and as she read her countenance changed, from purple to vellow, from yellow to purple, Alice mean while devouring her with her yes.

It cannot make it out, she said at lest, after mother to be a perfectly correct copy of the second stemper, or I amy or I

"If shows to be a perfectly correct copy of a certificate of marriage, close it not, teed frog!"

Choofing stratched out a ready hand for the letter and certificate; but the first glance at the latter had the same appalling affect on him as on the two ladies. After a place and the filling of the cinders were distinctly audible, he pincked up courage to are an applicate to are."

"If were we to know that!" asked Miss if it was no distinctly and ble, he pincked up courage to get along with, had she been specificated in two and twenty. My brother is law was inconsolable; ne adored her, and spoiled her, and did the same for her son."

"On not say that Miss Fane, If Feginald the law are we to know that!" asked Miss in pincked up courage from the spoiled her could never have grown up as he has done so good, so honorable; so."

"If account to he a perfectly correct copy of and his mothet's temper, or I am v ry much initiaten. You would not have found her to the limit the limit the did not her found her two and twenty. My brother is law was inconsolable; ne adored her, and spoiled her, and did the same for her son."

"Do not say that Miss Fane, If Feginald the distribution of the could never have grown up as he has done so good, so honorable; so."

"Ten, yes," interrupted Miss Fane irritable. "All bridge of two of three months aby."

"There are very few like Regionid," said very tipe; and teat in the ferrett by the mantelepiece, she kep her eyes fixed upon the door.

Miss Fane's favorite motto, "Hope for the best, prepare for the worst," was suddenly curtailed by sounds in the hall.

Geoffeey's face, as he entered with a would be cheerful look, spoke volumes, quite sufficient for Alice, who knew every expression of his familiar features. Her dry lies tried to form a question, but no sound came from them.

"Aice!" he abruptly blundered forth, "they say it's a correct copy, and all that sort of thing. There is no use concealing the truth. Mark and I are certain that Reginald will clear it all up; it's some frightful mistake, but nothing more. I swear it is not," he said, taking her ley cold hand. "Don't you fret yourself about it," he added carnestly, for Alice's whire face and stony fixed expressional armed him that a little.

"A correct copy, did you say!" screamed. "A correct copy, did you say?" screamed.
Miss Fane, "Good heavens what an imprincipled wretch Reginald must be! It's will his father and mother are in their graves. My worst fears are confirmed,"
"Alice, my poor child," turning toward her with outstretched hands, "you will always have a friend and guardlen in me."

Hut her future ward did not hear he;
Alice was laing at Gooffrey's feet insenbotter thus any one, now."

"Or you think you do," interrupted Missiane, "which cames to about the same ITO BE CONTINUED. thing."
"I mow I do! I dow't believe he has a thought that I might not share; he is true, upright, unseifish. Self he never thaks of; I am his first thought in everything. He leves me far too dearly to bring any such dreadful grief near me as this certificate hints at. I will put all thoughts of it out of my head till he comes home. Don't you think I am acting wise?" she asked carnantly. THE PETERBORO CENTRAL FAIR. Annual Mosting at Millbrook. The Milbrook Messenger says that the Iodia; and she, finding this econd marriage too much for her for itude, has sent you this marriage certificate! What do you

"So I will if this certificate proves a false one; but if not, have you hought, my poor girl, since I must speak plainly, of the position in which it places you?"

met, how unkind of you to talk to met ka indeed," taking Aire n oher bony embr and k ssing her effus ely. A lee, on the verse of his tries, he bran reening, gladly oun to m for the remainder of the day, underst ad Mi s Fine's i was where she had imo e leds re to digest and no love for her nephew, and, so far as the u the certificate was concerned, he was thoughts and conversation all turnen in that direction, and she was an alip at servi-gup he monde iest de hof cam !

would give her a certain importance, too to say; "I was in the house at the time when it happened; I saw and heard every-cockade it looked so smart. Perhaps a yet, Miss Fanet I am very sorry to have left you slone, but really my head sched so badly there was no use in coming down. Goffeev will be down in ten min-

"The minion or inn easing will know your fate, sid Min. Pine, I y ne ber anitting down and lak neat be quek.

"Oh, t's an e to be all right" replied

Ali e beavely, int white as ash Sto the very uper on ten is no beverfully the man-thepiece, she kep her eyes fixed upon the ut - if the rain is punctual."

think of that idea!"

annual meeting of the central association of the district comprising the counties of Northumberland, Durham, Peterborough estly.

"Yes, in a certain sense you are. But if it is not cleared up you will be all the more unprepared to receive the shock. My motio is, "Prepare for the worst, hope for the best, and take what comes." This is a and Victoria was held at Millbrook, in the council chamber, on the 7th instant. The president, Mr. J. Westington, occupied the chair. The minutes of the last annual very serious matter, and requires serious thought. I have been turming it over in my mind for the last hour. Shall I tell you what I think!" gasing solemnly over her glasses at Alice, who was still kneeling at her side. meeting were read and confirmed. The following gentlemen were introduced as delegates from the different societies in the district, viz: From West Peterborough-Mesers. John Young, T. E. Beil, Alex. "Oh, yes, of course. Please do," she re-Scott, John Garbutt, H. Davidson, Geo. plied eagerly.
"I think you are by no means the first girl that Reginald was in love with, or that was in love with him."
"Oh, but I know I was," cried Alice with assured confidence. "He told me so over and over again," she added with a lovely Fitzgerald, Jos. Walton, H. Collins, Wm. Rutherford, John Riddell and John Carneuie; East Durham-Johnston Beatty and Major Howden; South Victoria-John Conpolly and Col. Deacon; West Northumberland-W. J. Westington, Geo. Cockburn, Wm. Beatty. W. Riddell and R. Cullis.

"Stoff!" replied Miss Fane, victor-ly spearing her ball of worsted with a knitting needle, "And you betteve him, you little goose! Do you think," she proceeded in a col, ironical tene, "that an extremely handsome young man like him had lived seven years in the army without as many love affairs to match! I tell you and I am an experienced old woman—it tell you no The president then read the annual address, to whom the thanks of the meeting were tendered, and a request made to him that it he printed for the information of love affairs to ma ch? I tell you and I am an experienced old woman -1 tell you no, ten thousand times no. I con't say that I ever heard of any special affire. I did hear a whisper that shen he jined he was one of the wildest of wid boys; but I believe, thanks to his father, he soon steadled down. But take my word for it, young men in the cavairy are a wild bad lot."

"Do you mean - that - Reginald - i" cried Alice, struggling to rise.

"No, no, no," replied Miss Fane, keeping her down by laying her hand heavily on her shoulder. "Be patient, and hear what I have to say. I only mean taking them generally—noone in particular. Reginald," she resumed, "has spent a great deal of time shroad. Who knows," she proce-ded mysteriously, and dropping her vo co to a whisper, "but he may in some mad moment have madried a half case girl; and then, tired of her; and ashamed of his folly have bribed her to silence and left her in India; and she, finding this second marriage too much for his folly have bribed her to silence and left her in Joan Carnegie, the re-elected member to the council of the agricultural and arts as-sociation of Ontario, then took the opportunity to thank those present, represent-ing the different ridings in this district, for the confidence placed in him, being again returned to the council of the association for another term.

The continuing of the central exhibition for another term on the basis of the last four years was considered and discussed at considerable length, when it was moved by Col. Deacon, seconded by Wm. Beatty, that it is desirable in the interest of agriculture and arts in this district that the system of central exhibitions should be continued.
After considerable discussion on the resolution it was put to the meeting and car

It was then decided that the next fair be heid at Peterborough, provided the dele-gates present from that county would guarantee the required financial support as specified in the basis, and that the said delegates be requested to report at once. After retiring a short time to consider the "Think of the treat alice, jumping to her feet, and almost inarticulate with passion. "I think it a very wicked, horrible idea to entertain of your nephew, and you ought to be asshamed of it?" above, it was accepted, and finally agreed to by the meeting.

The following gentlemen were then elected officers and members of the executive committee for the central fair, to be held committee for the central fair, to be held in Peterborough the coming fall of 1883.

President, Jos. Walton, Peterborough; vice-president, W. Beatry, Baltimore; secretary, John Carnegie, Peterborough; treasurer, John Best Peterborough. Executive committee: from Peterborough, Messra. H. Davidson, Thos. E. Bell, John Garoutt, Alex. Scott, John Young, H. Collins, Jas. Compbell, S. McKibbon and Wm. Rutherford; South Victoria, John Connoliy and Col. Deacon; West Durham, Marshall Potter; East Durham, Johnston Beatty and Major Howden; West Northumberland, W. J. Westington and George Cockburn. Auditors, J. H. Kright and John J. Hall. General committee: The ex-presiposition in which it places you?"
"What do on mean?"
"I mean that if Reginald was married more than two years ago, as shown by the certificate, you are not his wife; you are nothing but Miss Savile once more, with your name and fame for ever blighted."
'How dare you say so?' cried Alice, crimson to the roots of the hair. "How cruet, how unkind of you to talk to me the this! I will never never speak to you a ain as long as I live. You have a hist unch in table heart," she added, moving the ard the door. "What you say never, rever the door. "What you say never, rever enterpresentatives and ex-representatives." do ta and officers of the central; the presen' representative and ex-representative to the council of agr.culture and arts as

The president-elect was then called to the chair. He thanked the meeting for the A hearty vote of thanks was then ten dered to the retiring president, treasurer and secretary, after which the meeting adjourned to the call of the president.

LONG AND SHORT YARNS. The difference between a long and short yarn is very well illustrated by the difference of one's feelings in holding a skein for one's grandmother or one's sweetheart.

The well-known strengthening properties of iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexies.—25-2.

The price of a wife in Siberia is eight dogs; in her op nion. A domestic tragedy, such but what worries the Lowell Courier is that not as this promised to be, was her glory and delight. Slander and gossip of all kinds delight. Slander and gossip of all kinds were as the breath of her nostrils; her let-The Very Latest News. "Have you heard the news?" said one city swel to nother. "No; do tell me what it is." "Well, I have at last got rid of my corns by one trial of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, and as I know yours are even worse than mine were I cou dn't pass without telling you to get a bottle at your druggists. I'll guarantee it will fix 'em completely. It is sure, prompt and painless, taking the corns out at once, Sold everwhere. Beware of substitutes and imitations. N. C. Po son & Co., proprietors, Kingston.—26-1.

-Aunt (to small girl): "What are you always thinking about, Idal" Ida: "I am always thinking about nothing, auntie. I never think aboutant thing unless I happen to think of something to think about,

Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. la it not worth the amail price of 75c. to free yourseif of every symptom of these distressing complaints. If you think so call at our store and get a bottle of Shi oh's Vita izer. Every and get a bottle of Shi oh's Vita izer. bottle has a printed guarantee on it; use accordingly, and if it does you no good it will cost you nothing. S. PERRIN, wholesale and retail agent.

A Pennslyvania inventor has evolved a new rat trap, in one end of which is a mirror. This may do for the female rats, but when a male rat notices that the bait looks double he will think he has had enough and go home.

Shileh's Catarrh Remedy. We have a speedy and positive cure for catarrh, diphtheria, canker mouth and headache, in Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. A nasal injector free with each bottle. Use it if you desire health and sweet breath. Price 50 cents. S. PERRIN, wholesale and retail agent.—i4-cow-26. - Women are called the "weaker sex." and yet up to the hour of going to press not one of her sex in this country has shown enough intel-lectual weakness to embark in the weather pro-phet business or attempt to eat sixty quail in thirty days. Oh, What a Cought

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the approach that more terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c. to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a millian bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. 14-eow-25.

Miscellaneous. CURE GUARANTEED.

For Old and Young, Male and Female. Positively cures nervousness, in all its stages, weak memory, loss of brain power, sexual prostration, night sweats, spermatorrhosa, barrenness, seminal weaknes and general loss of power. It repairs nervous waste, rejuvenates the jaded intelect, strengthens the enfeebled brain and restoressurprisingtone and vigor to the exhausted generative organs in either sex. With each order for twelve packages, accompanied with five dollars, we will send our written Guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not effect a cure. It is the CHKAPEST and BEST Medicine in the market. Pamphlet sent free by mail to any address.

Hastis Hagnette Hecticine is sold by druggists at 55 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.55, or will be mailed free of postage, on receipt of money by addressing Mack's Magnetic Medicine Company, Windsor, Ont., Canada. Guarantees issued by A. HIGINBOTHAM, Lindary.

William Howe.

LOOK HERE!

Merchants and others who have not yet selected their GAS FIXTURES walk into HOWE'S and select the same at once before the choice are gone.

We have the LARGEST and BEST STOCK IN TOWN and the PRICES ARE RIGHT.

STOVES AND TINWARE.

We are selling the balance of our stock of HEATING AND OTHER STOVES at A GREAT REDUCTION FOR THE NEXT THIRTY DAYS. Call early as they are moving out fast. Tinware Department COMPLETE in every line.

WILLIAM HOWE.

P.S.-Parties who have their accounts rendered will please settle before 15th February, as all accounts not paid by that date will be placed in other hands for collection.

WILLIAM HOWE.

Lindsay, Feb. 6th, 1883.

Henry J. Keighley.

TEAS! TEAS!

NO ARTICLE OF HOUSEHOLD CONSUMPTION IS IN GREATER DEMAND THAN TEA. I AM SUPPLYING TEA THAT-FOR ITS PRICE. SHALL NOT BE EQUALLED IN LINDSAY,

AT 30 CENTS PER POUND. I SELL A TEA OF EXTRAORDINARY MERIT, ON THE BUSINESS PRIN-CIPLE OF SHORT PROFITS AND QUICK I INTEND SELLING OTHER RETURNS.

THEY CANNOT BE BEATEN.

GRADES OF TEA AND FOR VALUE MAINTAIN THAT

HENRY J. KEIGHLEY.

MAN &

Albert Lea Route.

Lindsay. March 1, 1883.

"ALBERT LEA ROUTE."

A New and Direct Line, vin Senece and Kanine Rec, has recently been opened betwee Rickmond Morrolls, Newport News, Chattaneogs, Atlanta, Augusta, Neskville, Lonieville, Lerington, Cincinnational London, All Through Famul and intermediate points. The CREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE, a your nearest Taket Office, or address. R. GASLE, E. ST. JOHN, Vice-Pros. & Gen'17g7. Gen'17bb. & Pass. Age. GH'CAGD.

Wm. Dundas.

FARMERS! ATTENTION!

The best place to sell your woo is where it is manufactured into goods such as you was well

witnes

eristic

THE LINDSAY WOOLLEN MILLS you do not believe just call and see my goods and prices and be convinced. I am prepare

TO GIVE THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE IN CASH FOR WOOL or give you more Goods of my own make (warrant them to give satisfaction) than you work in town for the same amount of wool. Those wanting their wool manufactured can have a seed here and pay for MANUFACTURING IT WITH WOOL 20TS. PER LB. MORE THAN YOU CAN GET FOR THE WOOL IN CASY.

My Custom Carding Machinery has been thoroughly over-hauled and repaired and 1 villas. antee as good rolls as are made in Canada.

Those wanting Domestic Blankets of Flannel White or Grey, will find it to the state of the state A good assortment of Tweeds and Fancy Flannels always on hand, cheap for each or account?

WM. DUNDAS. Lindsay Woellen Mills, Corner Bond and William-Sts., Lindsay, On

James Wetherup.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Having determined to reduce my large stock of HARDWARE about one-third, I will, for CASH, for the next three months sell at the least possible advance on cost.

A full line of Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Glass, Nails, Shelf and Silver Goods on hand.

JAMES WETHERUP.