DISPLAY OF FIRE-WORKS. Dominion day, July 1st. falling upon Sunday, the holiday was observed on Monday following. In Lindsay flags were flying ail day Sunday, although those of strict Sabbath observing principles preferred to wait until Monday before running aloft. The day was ushered in by a morning salute of a great number of guns fired by Com. Rodden. At an early hour people were astir and crowds betook themselves to the wharves either to see the Sons of England excursion off for Fenelon Falls or to join in the trip. The steamer Ontario and scows took the party safely to their destination, and returned at an advanced

THE PROCESSION.

A large crowd assembled on the front street to view the procession. After waiting until nearly eleven o'clock the cavalcade filed into Kent-st., led by the Lindsay brass band. A very creditable display of agricultural implements made by the Sylvester works headed the procession. T. A. Middleton also made a capital display in this direction. Then followed representa-tions of several of the trades showing various goods in process of manufacture. But as a humorous, mirth inspiring cavalcade the procession was a failure. very few exceptions comments, if made at all, were those of derision. After moving through several of the principal streets the cortege managed somehow to loose itself in ome back alley. GAMES AND SPORTS.

The programme of games and sports was started on Kent-st, shortly after one o'clock. Several members of the band were engaged in playing base ball, and the inspiring strains of martial music were wanting. The different races on the programme were taken up and well contested, particularly the quarter mile, and 100 and 200 yards races. The street was crowded and the utmost interest taken in the program of BASE BALL MATCH. About two o'clock the match opened out between the Lindsay and Cobourg base ball clubs. The Cobourg men came in by the morning train and looked around town in the interval. At the beginning of the match Cobourg led, and having a very good team hid fair to distance the home club. After the fourth innings the luck went against the Cobourg and they were eventually defeated. Cobourg played nine innings scoring 21 runs, Lindsay eight innings with 48 runs. The score by innings is

Lindsay - 1 1 8 3 10 8 1 13 -18. Cobourg - 2 9 2 2 3 0 0 1 2-21. In justice to the Cobourg men it must be said that the ground was frightfully rough and rather wet and it was almost impossi ble for a player to keep his eye on the ball and make anything like speed with his

THE FIRE-WORKS DISPLAY. During the morning the fire-works had been unpacked and arrayed for firing. They were ordered from the house of Paimer & Co. of Rochester, N. Y. The evening was calm and clear and favorable for a full effect to be obtained. As many of the visitors in town were from the north and as the train was to leave at 9 o'clock, the display began before dark and lasted for an hour and a half. A large number of for an hour and a nair. A large number of rockets were let off and a very fine assortment of display pieces. A splendid bailoon marked "Jumbo," was let off just before the display closed. The bailoon rose gracefully to a height of about 500 feet and sailed off south-east of the town. The fireworks gave great satisfaction and were certainly the best part of the day's proceed-

THE CATHOLIC PICNIC AT HUTTON'S GROVE. The picnic at Hutton's grove under the suspices of St. Mary's congregation was, as usual, a great success. The foliage was never in letter and the beautiful grove was never in better condition. The attendance never in better condition. The attendance of members of the congregation and their friends was very large, and a most delightful day was spent. A special Midland train ran out to the grove every half hour and carried great numbers. Among those present were Rev. Fathers Lynch, Shes, Connolly, Sweeney, McEvoy and Keating. The arrangements were perfect. Daucing commenced at an carly hour to the music of the Harris' orchestra and was kept up with spirit until nearly all day. A bountiful dinner was served at noon, for which the ladles had made ample preparation and their skill was fully appreciated. A BIG FIGHT WITH ITALIANS. - Quite a sensation was caused here on Monday forenoon, when a report was received that a fatal row had occurred in Sherin's cut on the missing link about two miles east of Omemee, between the Italian navvies and the Canadian and Irish workmen. From particulars received, the cause of the row was as follows. Some two hundred Italians were engaged last month and put to work under Canadian foremen, and with other Canadian and Irish nayvies. Since their en-Canadian and Irish navvies. Since their engagement they frequently exhibited knives and revolvers which they carried while at work. This led the other workmen to arm themselves also in case, the Copper-heads, as the Italians are called by some on the road, should show fight. Things were brought to a final climax on Monday about noon, when the majority of the Italians struck for higher wages. (Another report states that the men were promised and paid $1.50 a day, and their wages had been reduced to $1.25. They were, therefore, really striking against the reduction and were insisting that the contractor who hired them would fulfil his promise.) Those who continued work together with the white men. were surrounded by the strikers, who tried to prevent them continuing work. A foreman was about reeiving a blow with a club from an Italian, but was prevented by Henry Poole. Another Italian was then in the act of firing at Poole, but a bullet was sent through his arm by another white man, which caused his arm to fall, and thus prevented a fatal shot. The melee then became general, and shot after shot was exchanged, but the Italians were getting the worst of the battle and quickly dispersed, but not efore several of their number were wounded. Some were shot in the face, others in the body. The Italian who drew the revolver on Poole, was run down and cap-tured. He was brought to Omemee and lodged in the lockup. An interperter was brought from Peterboro and the trial came off on Wednesday, before Dr. Norris and Thomas Stephenson, J. Ps., but the evidence giver by the witnesses was not ent to convict the prisoner as there was a difference of opinion as to who drew revolvers first, and also the originator of the disturbance. Judging from the evidence given by some of the witnesses, it would appear that the Italians were not fairly dealt with. Those injured are recovering at the time of writing. Dr. Kincald of Peterboro dressed their ROWDYISM.—Three of our citizens went the other evening to Woodville with the intention of clearing everything before them. Shortly after their arrival they hoisted one man out of doors, two of them attacked the proprietor, and his wife tried to give him a little assistance, when the third man laid the horsewhip on her. The constable was sent for, but they made their escape that night by having a fast horse along with them. Next morning there were three constables after them before they were out of bed, and made prisoners of them, took them back to Woodville and had each of them fined $10. We think a few lessons of this kind will teach those smart men to behave themselves when they go away from home again.

DOMINION DAY.—The 2nd of July passed off very quietly here. Most of the young people went to Lindsay or Manilla to spend the day. The band came on the streets in the evening and played several national and patriotic airs in capital style, although they have only been practising for a few weeks. If they improve as rapidly in the future as they have in the past we may look for some choice music after harvest.

OBITUARY.—The funeral of Thomas Smith, a young man living near the village, took place last Saturday afternoon. A GLIMPSE AT RATHBURN. -I suppose that the greater number of the readers of THE Post hardly know that there is such a place in Mara as Rathburn, after hearing so much of Brechin, with its learned doctors and athletes, and Uptergrove, with its model farmers and numerous widows. Now, we have no doctors here, as we live in that part of Mara that is almost free from disease, the land being high and airy aitogether from the southern portion and western part of the township. We may have widows here, but we will let them speak for themselves. As far as we know of any they are all respectable women, and would not wish to have their names made use of so much in public print, but I must acknowledge the fact that we have some of the best farmers in the county in this section. Prominent amongst these I might mention the name of Mr. Bernard Duffy—a man who by honest industry has acquired considerable wealth. He has two hundred and sixty acres of the best land in Mara, and it would be interesting for those farmers mentioned by your Untergrove correspondent, who have been visiting Mr. Thomson's buildings, to have a look at Mr. Duffy's barns before building, as they might see some modern improvements that might be beneficial to then Two of his barns are 60x40 ft., with large stables built under, capable of holding one hundred head of cattle. He has every convenience in these buildings for feeding his stock. He generally keeps on hand from thirty to forty head of cattle, the sales each fall bringing him in a large surplus. He has this year fifty acres of wheat that cannot be beaten in North Ontario, and fifty acres of how that will a version two two to fifty acres of hay that will average two to three tons per acre. He has probably the best farm in Mara. I might mention the names of other enterprising farmers in this part, of whom I may speak later. Spours AND PASTIMES.—I notice con-siderable blowing from the Bushin and to the people of Beaverton than the last one. Trains going south for Toronto leave at 7.28 a.m. and 5.03 p.m.; going north, at 10.17 a.m. and 7.42 p.m. burn that can beat their best man. I sup-pose the next thing they will be pitting their champion against John C. Sullivan.

CROPS DAMAGED. - A great deal of damage was done in this vicinity by the heavy storm of Tuesday night, levelling whole fields of heavy grain, out perhaps it will rise again. If not, it will be serious.

PERSONAL. - Our kind, obliging and highly esteemed station agent, Mr. Maguire, who has been here for many years, left us last week, having been pro moted to the Beaverton station agency. His removal is a loss to the general community. While we regret his departure, we rejoice at his promotion. Our Beaverton friends have cause for satisfaction in getting such an obliging station agent. We rest satisfied Mr. Maguire will give a good account of himself among them.

POINT MARA.

[Correspondence of The Post.] BASE-BALL AND DANCE.-A game of base-ball was played between the pupils of s. s. No. 1 and 2, and resulted in No. 2 gaining a very easy victory. After partaking of an excellent tea provided by the ladies of Point Mara the greater number of the picnickers amused themselves in tripping the light fantastic until late in the evening to the music of an excellent string band.
SCHOOL PICNIC.—The second quarterly examination and annual school picnic for s. s. No. 2 came off on Tuesday, the 3rd inst. The examination took place in the forenoon, and the manner in which the pupils acquitted themselves was highly creditable to Mr. Hart, the teacher. Ad-dresses were given by Messrs. P. McRae, F. Warren, F. G. Gillespie, J. Malone and N. Jones, and each spoke in the very highest terms of Mr. Hart as a teacher. After the close of the examination all repaired to Warren's grove, to take part in the amusements, which had already com-

HYMENEAL. - The marriage of Miss Bella McLauchlin, fourth daughter of Mr. A. A. McLauchlin, license inspector, Victoria, was quite an event in the social life of the village. The ceremony was per-formed by Rev. Mr. Byam, M.E. minister at Kinmount, the happy man being Henry F. Drader, of Middlesex Co., Ont., son of Mr. Ernest Drader, oil producer. A large number of guests were present, and many relatives, the clite of the village being well represented, and Montreal, Uxbridge, Oakwood and Norland having representation. The bridesmaid was MissAlice Carey McLauchlin, the bride's sis-ter, and Mr. A. B. Church, of Coboconk, was groomsman, and they got through their difficult part very nicely. The dresses were very fine, and were gotten up by Miss Mitchell, Lindsay. The bride was presented with many very nice presents. and a superb tea was given at the bride's

SONYA. [Correspondence of The Post.] A DEER HUNT.-It will be news to some of your readers to hear that there are moose to be found in this part of the country. Mr. Yarnold, P. L. S. of Port Perry, came up the other day to organize a hunt. He succeeded in forming a party, but as it turned out they were mostly spectators rather than participants. It was decided, although the conditions were somewhat unfavourable, to adopt the method called still hunting or stalking. One of the most experienced hunters was chosen and he proved very successful. He stalked the deer all right enough in short order although he sadly violated the principal of the still hunt. He found however that one Stalker against two Moase was not enough and the probability is that he would have suffered for his temerity had not some other of the hunters come to his aid in the nick of time. One of the latter was slightly wounded and received prompt attention from a medical surgeon whom Mr. Yarnold had with wise forethought invited to join the party. The sufferer is now doing well. It puzzles the rustics to discover what Mr. Yarnold intended to do with his surveying instruments in connection with a deer hunt. They conjecture that he intended to survey the situation. If the supposition be correct he was certainly well paid for his trouble. FISHING SUCKERS.—Two residents of this neighborhood had a rather singular experience a couple of weeks ago. In a railway culvert south of Sonya they found one fish each of the species called suckers. Of course these were not the common suckers for the season is long past for them, and these differ so much in size, colour and shape, but their habits are evidently in many respects so similar that any other name would be a misnomer. Our fisher-men had some difficulty in securing their prize as the water was deep and the night dark and the fish had all the proverbial slipperiness of their kind. It is thought e fish escaped from someaguarium and had been brought up by hand, for each one had a bottle attached containing some liquid which they eagerly drank when set IMPLEMENT SHOP.—Mr. Wm. Rundle, agent for the Massey Co., has purchased a building from Mr. Jos. Stevenson which he is fitting up for an implement shop. Mr. Bundle is doing a good business and as he is thoroughly reliable and works for a company that is perhaps the very first in their line in the Dominion, his business is likely to increase. Mr. Rundle has bought a farm on the 2nd of Mariposa from Mr. Www. Becrott for 36.008.

Wm. Becrott for $6,000.

CHANGE OF STAND.—Mr. Alex Staward has rested the upperstosey of Mr. Rundle's implement shop and it is now being fitted for his business of harness making. Mr.

Stewart is a first-class workman and a good business man and aught to succeed.

A BEAR.—A bear has been seen lately near Sonya. Mr. Yarnold and the stalker should try again. The situation might be more interesting than ever.

THE CROPS.—The crops generally are looking well. Turnip sowing is slowly nearing completion. There has been too much rain but the damage as yet is not

JANETVILLE.

[Correspondence of The Post.] PRESENTATION TO REV.J. WHITLOCK AND MISS WHITLOCK.—At the meeting of the young people's asociation held in the B. C. church on the evening of the 12th of June after the program for the evening had been efficiently rendered a number of presentations were made. First, to the Rev. J. Whitlock, who for the past four years has had the pastoral charge of the Manyare. had the pastoral charge of the Manvers and Cartwright circuit, but is by the appointment of the B.C. conference, recently held in Exeter, Ont., to take the pastoral charge of the Hampton circuit for the se-cond time. The following complimentary and appreciative address was read by the Rey. T. Brown in behalf of the friends of the circuit. The address was accompanied with a splendid pocket-book and its contents. Following is the address: To Rev. J. Whittock.—REVEREND AND DEAR SIR.—After four years of life and labor in our midst we recognise in you a good neighbor, a true citizen, a Christian minister, a faithful pastor, a diligent seeker for souls and a loyal servant of the most high God. In consequence of the earnest and unwearied efforts you have put forth for the moral well-being of this neighborho od throughout and the upbuilding of the cause of truth, we few have thus met for the purpose of presenting you with this purse, not as a reward for your toil, but as a manifest token of our appreciation of you and the service you have rendered, and we unitedly hope that where'er your lot and appreciative address was read by the ed, and we unitedly hope that where'er your lot may be cast in all the future of your life that the smile of high heaven may rest upon you, that you may be prospered abundantly in the work to which we believe God has called you and for which we think you are eminently fit-fed, and that when your great life work is seted, and that when your great life work is ac-complished you may hear the sublime com-mand—

Servant of God, well done. Ceased from thy loved employ.
The battle is fought, the victory's won,
Enter thy Master's joy.

To this Rev. Mr. Whitlock with manifest emotion replied in substance as fol-

Respected and Dear Friends.—It affords me great pleasure to know that my humble efforts for your spiritual welfare are so highly appreciated by you, and the spirit of affection, goodwill and Christian kindness expressed in your beautifully worded address are sincerely appreciated by me. I shall often look back with pleasure to the happiness I have enjoyed in social intercourse and Christian fellowship with you. I thank you for your kind consideration of my temporal comfort, and let me assure you that wherever in the providence of God my future lot may be cast I shall not forget you in my prayers that He may supply all your needs out of His rich fullness in glory by ChristJesus; and whether I come to see you or be absent from you I may hear of your affairs that ye stand fast in one spirit with one mind, strong together for in one spirit with one mind, strong together for the faith of the gospel; and I hope when the toils of this earth are ended we shall meet and worship close by the throne of God.

An address and a well filled purse was also presented to Miss Annie Whitlock, daughter of Rey. J. Whitlock, who has efficiently discharged the duties of organist in the B. C. church, Janetville, for the past three and a half years. Following is the address: and a half years. Following is the address:

To Miss Annie Whitlock.—Dear Friend.—To
you. Annie, we present this purse, not as a recompense for the service you have rendered, but as a mark of our good will towards you in consequence of your willingness and ability to help both in church and other work. In the days of your separation from us we shall, if arrend often think of you of the sid you have days of your separation from us we shall, if spared, often think of you, of the aid you have afforded us in varied ways, and the very cheer-ful manner in which you have always given that aid. Your readiness to help and your pleasantness in rendering that help have won for you our highest esteem. We have to con-fess, too, that we shall miss you much when you are gone; but this we know, that our loss will are gone; but this we know, that our loss will be some one else's gain. Whate'er your future course may be we trust that your life may long be continued to bless the church and the world. and that when you have served your mission in this life you may enter into the more immediate presence of God and receive the reward He awaits to give you for your labors. A suitable reply was made by the Rev. T. Brown. Miss A. Whitlock wishes to say to her friends at Janetville that she has only been doing her duty while leading the service of song in the great congregation, and God has blessed her with His smile and approval while singing His praise. She wishes to thank them for their kindly feeling and good will as expressed in the wellchosen words of the address, and she hopes as we have sung God's praises together in the earthly courts of his house we shall sing his praises in that house not made with hands eternal in the heavens. She will long remember the happy nours spent among her numerous friends in the Manvers circuit, and from her heart wishes them peace, joy, happiness, temporal and spiritual prosperity. An address and a pocket-book with contents were also presented to Rey. T. Brown, who has labored in this place for the past year, but by conference is appointed to the Huntingdon station. The address is not to hand at this writing. This was a very pleasant and enjoyable meeting, after which "two is company, three is none" was put in full

-A frightful calamity occurred on the —A frightful calamity occurred on the Clyde on Tuesday, involving terrible loss of life. The steamer Daphne, which had just been launched, capsized with two hundred workmen on board, of whom one hundred and fifty were drowned. The boat left the ways very fast, and on gaining the water she rolled from side to side. The persons aboard faving she would capsize persons aboard, fearing she would capsize, ran to and fro, when the vessel reeled over and nearly disappeared beneath the water.

-There were 125 deaths from cholera at Damietta on Tuesday. The situation between Cairo and Port Said in one direction, and Alexandria in the other, is deplorable, and can scarcely be exaggerated. The extent of the cholera plague owing to government precautions is not actually known; but the statements of those who escaped from the infected districts, and whose very presence is shunned by every-one, reveal a terrible state of affairs. There one, reveal a terrible state of affairs. There are scarcely enough well natives to bury the dead in some of the comparatively isolated villages along the Mediteranean and in the low Nile Delta districts, between Lake Menzaleh and Lake Borlas. Deaths are announced at Elburg, Shirhin, and other new points. The numbers are not stated. The atmosphere at Mansora, where Hamondvi, the famous Arab physican, died, is said to be absolutely fetid. The dying are left alone in the houses, friends and relatives fleeing, and their bodies have remained unburied for days. Dead bodies in some cases have rotted in the sunshine in the streets of villages deserted by all except the dying and the convalescent, while many of the latter were helpless and while many of the latter were helpless and starving. Anything like a grave has been unthought of for a fortnight, and in the low delta ground where water is found at a depth of two or three feet the trenches have been dug so shallow and filled so full that the first wind blew away the covering of sand, or the first rain washed away the castle. Ever where the actions hadden or sand, or the first rain washed away the earth. Even where the rotting bodies were not uncovered and exposed they were so near the surface as to rot under a het sur, and allow the surface.
