[From an occasional correspondent.]
CAUGHT IN FLAGRANTE DRIJETO.dur village is rapidly arriving at that excellence which is the natural outcome of "modern civilization." It now boasts of a man who believes himself to be a paragon par excellence, a model for all. Human perfections he possesses in an eminent de-gree. At the same time he never allows an opportunity to slip of canvassing and exposing the failings of his neighbors. In fact according to him all are bristling with defects. But people who live in glass houses should be careful how they throw atones. Hehold this perfect man has been discovered to have a failing. He has been taken in the act and a fact proven which people had long before suspected and many known. He was discovered pyriolning the fruits of another man's toil. It is hard to account for that perversences of human to account for that perverseness of human nature which causes in some men a desire to secure by stealth a neighbor's property the small still hours of morning when as yet sleep and oblivion reign over all our friend, this son of Vulcan, stalks forth. He views his own woodpile with no doubt a feeling of pride. He looks upon it as something that must not be touched. It would be too had to disturb a stick, to dewould be too had to disturb a stree, to deface its symmetry or destroy its completeness. That woodpile must be preserved, While other wood piles are tumbling to ruin and vanishing away this one stands defiant and majestic, undiminished by the seige of time or fire; it is a noble relic of Chunks of bread, rolls bacon, early rose potatoes and butter in unweighted quantities were simultaneously conveyed to the aperture and his nese, with a facility to which users of the knife and fork are strangers, the whole supply being interlarded with cups of hot tea with an eye to expediting the passage of the exophagus. The feat lasted some twenty minutes and was wall austriand. ty minutes and was well sustained throughout. There will be another entertainment when the next one calls, in which the "tramp" suspended outside the gate with the seat of his unmentionables tightly clenched in the teeth of Towzer will appear. HAYING.-The farmers in this vicinity are busy at their hay harvest. It is a fine crop this season. PERSONAL. - We regret to learn that Mrs.

School Acr. - Being not a little interested in our school at Schepeler I have upon various occasions visited it, and I think it is nothing more than fair to say that seldom if ever have I visited a school in which I saw so little to condemn and so much to admire in this school. The teacher as a lady and a scholar seems to have a frue and just conception of what education is and has a happy way of impressing the same upon the minds of her scholars and with storing their minds with facts as well. To store the mind with facts is one thing, to cultivate the mind-that is to learn to think-is quite another. Good teacning I think consists in combining the two as far as possible, and in my visits to Miss O'Connor's school I was forcibly struck with the happy and successful manner in which she appeared to succeed in this particular. Where the blending of the theoretical and the practical is so well performed children under her tuition can scarcely fail of making rapid progress.

For a few years back they have been going to some watering place but as we have so much water all over this year they decided to enjoy the bracing air in Mr. Jas. Much thanks are due to Mrs. Stuart and the Misses Stuart for the trouble they took in preparing tea for the party.

An old and much respected resident of this place passed away very suddenly on Monday last, in the person of Mr. A. Morrison. In the morning a telegram was received announcing that he was sick and shortly after that he died. Mr. Morrison was residing in Toronto where he occupled the position of fenceviewer to the Toronto & Ostawa railway and the cause of his sudden demise was inflamation coupled with heart disease to which he was subject. Mr. Morrison was about the best known of all our citizens, he having lived in this neighborhood for upwards of thirtyfive years during which time he was engaged in various enterprises which brought him in contact with almost every one in the townships round. His cheerful disposition made him many friends and he was universally liked. His widow and family have the sympathy of all in their sad affliction. Deceased was sixty-one year.

of your paper. I noticed you asked all who had been benefitted by the letter published in your valuable paper about a year ago to write you the facts for publication. The letter from Dr. Bates created a great amount of excitement in this vicinity, as he is well and favorably known by vicinity, as he is well and favorably known by everybody here. His reputation as a man and as a physician gave everybody the utmost confidence in all his statements, and this of course soon made the name of "Kendall's Spavin Cure" not only familiar but very popular. In reply to your request, I will say: about nine years ago I slipped on the ice and sprained my right himb at the knee joint. I was very lame and suffered excruciating pain much of the time since, and some of the time thought I should be crippled for life. Dr. Bates' letter printed in your paper gave me so much confidence in the virtues of Kendall's Spavin Cure that I tried it for my knee and less than one bottle completely cured me so that I have had no return of pain or lameness, for which, of course, I cannot feel too thankful. Since my recovery I have visited friends in the west and found that the following parties have used it with the grandest results in that part of the country: The Rev. John Rice. Hematute, Mo., used it on his own person for an injury of 35 years standing and performed one of the most wonderful cures I ever heard of. J. L. Mc('lure of Strong City, Kansas, cured a badly lacerated and poisoned hand, from a hog bite and also removed an enlargement near the hip joint which had become large and troublesome. He also used it for pleurisy and found that bathing his chest with it relieved him at once. To my surprise I found that this wonderful remedy was better known in the west than it was in the east, and I found that they were using it there for animals as well as on the human flesh with the very best results, and I find so many cases wherever I go to confirm the favorable opinion I had already formed of it that I am glad of an opportunity of telling the readers of your valuable paper what I have learned in regard to it. Hoping to hear from others upon this very important subject, especially important to those who have suffered for years like myself. I remain, Yours etc.. J. A. Royce. Elmira N. Y.
