--Rev. Father Ryan, from the Jesuit seminary, Montreal, preached two very eloquent sermons in St. Mary's church last Sunday morning and evening. - Peterboro is convulsed because the telephone company have dared to lay their vandal hand on the streets of that town and to erect poles on the street known as Charlottest. —Mr Thomas Graham of Sturgeon Point reports that he had twelve acres of barley that threshed out only nine bushels to the acre. The crop was from a rolling field that had always done well before, but this year a good deal of it was drowned out by the frequent rains. The drawing of a skull and crossbones was surrounded by the notification that "all arrangements made by parcel post," the whole winding up with the caution: "Don't you forget that dynamite yard." The whole thing is of a very fair brand of joke, although there is such a thing as carrying the blackboard too far.

—Coun Cfandell's cow by-law was read a first time at the council meeting on Monday night. The hush that came over the vast assemblage of councillors and audience was painful and the failing of a plug of chewing tobacco would have sounded like a thunder clap. At the next meeting the by-law will be read a third time and finally passed—unless the fall-and-winter elections are painfully near. What connection there should be between an election and the cow by-law is not clear, but it is a municipal fact that the poor man invariably remembers to vote against the reckless councillor who pronounces against allowing the poor man's cow to pasture on the public streets.

—An excursion party from Port Perry comprising the Sons of England society of that town and friends arrived in Lindsay on Wednesday evening. The excursion left Port Perry at nine o'clock a.m., and reached Lindsay shortly after four o'clock in the afternoon. The trip was made on the river by steamer "Stranger" and scow. Head winds kept the fiotilla back and further detention was the result of running into a beg near the head of the river. The party were accompanied by the Myrtle brass band, an amateur organization. The band headed a procession of the Sons of England, in regalia, through the principal streets. A start was made on the return trip about eight o'clock.

The long delayed excursion and picnic of the Methodist Sabbath school will come off on Monday of next week. Adams's beautiful grove near Port Perry and on the shore of Lake Sougog has been secured for the day. The grove can be reached by train from the union station leaving at 8.30 o'clock on Monday morning. A September day is after all the day par excellence for a holiday. Just warm enough—just cool enough—in fact just about right. This combined with pleasant company, unlimited provender, a speedy trip, and the entire absence of anything approaching a political demonstration will make the occasion—the last of the season—one that should be taken advantage of. Games and sports will be under the management of a committee who will see to it that all competitors take first prizes. For tickets: adults, 50c., children, 25c., apply at Porter's. day of next week. Meetings are held nightly by the salvation army on the market square. After half an hour of exhortation, interspersed with songs and reof exhortation, interspersed with songs and relating of personal experience, an adjournment is made to to the hall where hostilities are renewed. At the grand parade of the army held in Toronto on Monday last Lindsay was represented by Capt. Frere and Lieut. Woodyard and a squad of converts. The Lindsay contingent "deployed into line" and marched with the procession. Returns were handed in at a general meeting, among which statistics it appears that over 129 converts have been made in Lindsay. It is to be sincerely hoped that this latter statement is correct, and it may be intimated that there still remains about 3.471 more sunners upon whom the army can, with advantage to the community, exercise a regenerating influence.

nouncement of the death of Mrs. Cordelia Minthorne, wife of Mr. John Minthorne of Mariposa, in her sixty-sixth year. Mrs. Minthorne was one of the first settlers of Mariposa, and saw it during her thirty-eight years of residence transformed from a howling wilderness to one of the garden townships of the province. Mrs. Minthorne was born in Genesee Co. N. Y. and came to Ashphodel, her people being U. E. loyalists. They afterwards moved to Mariposa, where she met and married Mr. Minthorne, also of an U. E. loyalist family. Five sons and two daughters blessed this union. One died in infancy; the others are J. W. Minthorne of Brantford; M. W. Minthorne, recently of this town: Mrs. Cliffe, Wisconsin; A. L. Minthorne, lately of Fenelon, now living on the homestead; and A. E. Minthorne, now living in Fenelon. death of Rev. A. Clarke, B. C. minister, near Campfellford, on Saturday week. Mr. Clarke Campfellford, on Saturday week. Mr. Clarke was for several years in Mariposa, where his earnest zeal and warm sympathetic nature made him highly esteemed and beloved. We take the following from the Observer of last week: "Some time before the last conference he was seized with a paralytic stroke, and though his death was then expected he rallied sufficiently to move around. Five weeks ago he, in company with his daughter, went to visit his relatives near Campbellford. Two weeks afterwards there were symptoms of a relapse. In a few days these became so intensified that it was seen the end was drawing near.... Bro. Clarke wards there were symptoms of a relapse. In a few days these became so intensified that it was seen the end was drawing near.... Bro. Clarke died at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. W. Gibbons, three miles from the village. At the hour of two p.m. on Sunday a large number of triends had gathered to join in the funeral ceremonies. Rev. E. B. Roberts read the scripture and joined in prayer. Revs. T. R. Hull, Browning (C.M.), R. T. Courtice, G. Copeland, G. Dunkley and J. Harris acted as pall-bearers. The procession of about eighty carriages then formed and proceeded to the Bethel cemetery, in the Clarke's settlement, where the president committed the mortal remains of Archibald Clarke to the grave toawait the resurrection of the just. The service was resumed at the church; Rev. J. Harris announced the hynn and engaged in prayer; Rev. R. T. Courtice read the scripture; Rev. G. Copeland and Rev. T. R. Hull closed with singing and benediction. A very hallowed and soul-subduing influence prevailed. Bro. Clarke, by a peculiar providence, after being in the ministry of the church twenty-three years, was brought home among his own kindred to die in the presence of his brethren and be buried in the sepulchre of his fathers.

High and Public School Matters.

The high and public schools of the town renened on Monday of this week after the usual mid-summer vacation. Some slight changes have been made in the public school staff occasioned by the resignation of Miss Hunter, one of the most valued teachers on the staff. Miss Buck has been transferred from the east ward to the central school building to take charge of the class lately taught by Miss Hunter. Miss Ada King has been appointed to take the place held by Miss Buck in the east ward school. Miss king succeeded in taking the only first class A. given in this locality at the recent teachers examinations. In the high school staff a change has been brought about by the resignation of the late science master. His place is not yet filled but will be this week. The master appointed to this position will also have charge of the model school. When this appointment is made all departments of the school work will be provided for... The attendance in the public schools is about the same as last year. In the high school the atmid-summer vacation. Some slight changes same as last year. In the high school the attendance is not so large for the opening week but will fill up later on. It is very important that those who intend becoming pupils should enter at once... The school grounds have been enlarged and are now one of the finest if not the best—in the province. A new-floor has been put down in the hall and entry which while not being neatly done will answer the purpose. The black boards have been re-painted.

-An early-hour marriage service was that elebrated at the Methodist church at six o'clock on Wednesday morning, the contracting parties being Mr. George R. Harper, architect, young-est son of Mr. John Harper of Toronto, and Miss Cecelia Wright, second daughter of Mr.A. Wright of Lindsay. The marriage ceremony was skillfully performed by Rev. Mr. Emsley. Wright of Lindsay. The marriage ceremony was skilfully performed by Rev. Mr. Emsley. The wedding was strictly private, none other than the relatives of the bride and groom being present. The bride was supported by the sisters, Misses Sadie and Lilly Wright, and her niece, Miss Winnie Gregory. The groom was accompanied from Toronto by his brother. Mr. D. Harper, who acted as groomsman. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the residence of the bride's father, where breakfast was partaken of. Congratulations were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Harper by friends, when they drove to the station and took the 8 a.m. train for Toronto. The wedding trip will include doing the St. Lawrence and Montreal and a further visit to Quebec and several Canadian watering places, returning to Toronto in probably two weeks, where Mr. and Mrs. Harper will reside. In leaving home Mrs. Harper severs warm ties of friendship, and while all regret her departure the assurance of a happy wedded life will compensate them for the loss. In musical circles Mrs. Harper will be much missed, and the absence of her ready aid and assistance in church and other work much regretted. Many handsome and valuable presents were sent by relatives and friends as momentoes of the happy occasion.

-An event of much interest in many circles in Lindsay was the marriage Wednesday morning of Mr. M. M. Boyd of Bobcaygeon, son of the recently deceased "lumber king," to Miss DeGrassi, the amiable and accomplished daughter of Dr. DeGrassi of this town. The ceremony took place in St. Paul's church, which despite the early hour was thronged by friends, acquaintances and interested spectators. Rev. Rural Dean Allan of Millbrook, and by Rev. S. Weston, Longs, inclumbent, were the efficient quaintances and interested spectators. Rev. Rural Dean Allan of Millbrook, and by Rev. S. Weston-Jones, incumbent, were the officiating clergymen. The bride was attired in an elegant costume of white satin, with train, and was the admired of all beholders. Miss Bridgeman, a cousin of the bride, made a very pretty bridesmaid, in white muslin. The graom's best man was his younger brother, Mr. Willie Boyd. After the ceremony the guests, who were limited to relatives and intimate friends, repaired to the fesidence of Dr. DeGrassi where a weddingbreakfast was partaken of. The happy couple left by the ten o'clock train for the east, amid a shower of slippers, rice and warm congratulations. The wedding presents were numerous, costly and elegant. Among them we may mention a magnificent solid silver tilting ice pitcher and goblets, presented to Mr. Boyd by his employees. The valuable piece of plate was accompanied by a very flattering address. Mrs. Boyd also receiving at the same hands a beautiful silver fruit stand also accompanied with an address. The gift of Dr. and Mrs. DeGrassi was a magnificent silvertea service. Rdwards & Co. of Bobcaygeen, sent a very valuable ice water service. A large number of handsome gifts were included in those received from relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd.

The pretty little church at Eden, North Mariposa, was last Wednesday morning the scene of a pleasing event of great interest to a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. The event in question was the wedding of Rev. F. M. Whitlock, the popular pastor of the Orange-st. B. C. church, Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss Beacham, only daughter of our esteemed friend, Mr. D. S. Beacham of "Pinchurst," Mariposa. The church, it is needless to say, was crowded by interested friends. The knot was tied by the father of the groom. Rev. J. Whitlock of Hampton, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Dunlop, Methodist minister. The bride was attired in cream India auslin, with the orthodox train and veil, and it was the general opinion that a lovelier bride has been seldom seen in Mariposa. The bridesmaid was Miss Florric Maclean of Lindsay, who in cream mustin was charming, as bridesmaids always see. They had very fine boquets of rose and heliotropes sent from Toronto by the groom. Mr. W. Beacham "stood-up" with the groom and heliotropes sent from Toronto by the groom. After the ocremony the wedding party and about forty guests repaired to the residence of the bride ware numerous, elegant and costly. The happy couple came to Lindsay and took their depasture by the 5.35 p. m. train for Toronto and Niagura Falls, whence they go to their home, where they will have a condial reception from the Cleveland congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Whitlock bear with them the heasty congratulations of numerous friends. The removal of the bride will occasion quite a blank in social electes in the town and country, but these things will take place, and all who know Mr. Whitlock will congratulate the happy man on his good fortune. posa, was last Wednesday morning the scene of

WHAT SHALL WE SAY?

What more can we say? What more should we say in praise or description of our Handsome New Stock than we have already said? We have told you truth as far as we have been able to, the whole truth, and certainly nothing but the truth. Happily, however, truth will stand repeating and some there may be who even as yet have missed the oft-told tale. Who knows?

Anyway one reads advertisements differently under different circumstances, one's needs being the measure of one's interest and attention. In the past you may have marely glided over them—this one perhaps you mey read to some purpose. Who knows?

To make a long story short we are in receipt of our new Dress Goods, and to portray their beauty would require more space than we have at our disposal. Suffice it to say we have every Quality and Shade of Fabric produced and an elegant display of Trimmings and Buttons to match.
