We do not undervalue the benefits which philosophy and science conver to our race. But there are heights and depths in the hunash life which they connot reach. Phose who contend, that in the advantion of children, the anhier of religious should be excluded, with the reflectal powers of the child are matured and he, unidesed by any provints instruction in that direction, be in a position to form an intelligent judgment for himself in the mature, lose sight of the fact that according to their method one part of the nature is shally neglected. pared to receive higher and breader views of truth and be taught to apply these to the practical details of life. If the cultivation of the rangious side of the measure of culture and religion, remerks, "even if these the highest and loveliest things, which culture without rangion could never engender. Purity, distuterantedness, reverence—these the highest fruits of the spirit, could not deme to meanify in any sourbut one when lived as habitually in the divine presence and under the power of the world to come." It is desirable then, that every child in our land should with the dawn of intelligence be instructed in the knowledge of (lod, and that this instruction should be conveyed by word and precept, collected; mental and moral portion of the nature.

EDUCATION HURTFUL WITHOUT RELIGION. 2nd. Religion is an important element in our system of education, because education without it, is not merely defective but positively hurtful. This statement may not appear correct at first thought. A little reflection will show its truthfulness. In our community menand women of beautiful life and upright conduct who have never made a profession of the faith of Christianity are held forth as examples of what education without religion will accomplish. The inference in the case is not legitimate. By examining the various causes which aided in moulding the moral character of those persons, it will be found that religion exerted astrong influence. The character of our nation is essentially religious. Our educational institutions are essentially Christian. Much that issues from our passa is of a high moral tone. Our literature as a whole breaths the spirit of religion. Our schools are taught by those who reversee God. The sound of the gospel is heard throughout the land. It is no wonder then when these agencies are taken into account, that of the faith of Christianity are held forth these agencies are taken into account, that we meet worthy men and women who have not experienced personal religion. If have not experienced personal religion. If we wish to see fair examples of what education without religion will do we must look for them among cultured pagan nations and not in a christian land. We are not eye witnesses of the real fruits of education disorted from religion. To give a child a literary and scientific education independent of religion is to place in his hands a mighty instrument for mischief. All the discoveries in the arts and aciences, when not subject to moral restraint, are instrument as many response for destroying the when not subject to moral restraint, are just so many weapons for destroying the peace and welfare of the community. If the value and sacredness of an oath—if the home with its affections and associations—if the fear of flod be all swept away, where shall we look for profection against fraud, violence and infidelity? Without the steady, lixed principles of the christian faith to control a man's infine, a mere secular education will prepare him for the extinction of all that is good and fair and noble. One can easily imagine the immense power for evil which a knowledge of the laws which regulate the body, the mind and the material world puts into the hands of bad men. It fits them for villany of the worst kind. Hence we see the need of religious training to control and sanctify of the worst kind. Hence we see the been of religious training to control and sanctify that which is secular. I do not maintain that our public and high schools should be theological colleges in any sense or that denominational views of religion should be taught in them, out it is ny immediational views of religion should be that the might be my immediately presented. taught in them, out it is my firm conviction that the great fundamental principles of religion should be taught, and that along with literary instruction, the end of his existence and his relation to God should be impressed upon the mind of the pupil in his childhood and youth. Our system of education one has said, should be placed education one has said, should be placed on the basis of a sound scriptural religion and guided by the unerting spirit of pure christianity. This is true in a large measure of the foundation upon which our school system rests. It is in harmony with the scritment of Dr. Hyerson which was quoted in a paper read at the provincial teacher's association in Toronto a few weeks ago, "Christianity is the basis of our system of education." When we reflect on these facts and view the results of our system of education we shall be ready to take advantage of the provision which it has made for imparting a knowledge of the scriptures, and when we remember that our popular and henevolent institutions owe their origin to christianity, and that what religion has produced religion shall have the lirst and largest place in the education of our youth.

As the bear appeared to dispute their passage, they waited until their mentiff bull dog came up, he being following just behind. The dog engerly rushed forward as soon as he caught sight of the bear. The ominagity was 100 minch for his bearship, and he took to the woods, followed by the dog, and the two men, and compelled it to take to a tree. The brothers had no guis, and it was decided that William should climb the measure tree and watch developments, while John went for frearms and to arouse the neighbors. Very soon, however, the bear got lived watching and sprung from the tree, right over the dog, and made his eneage.

Dr. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—Having used a good deal of your Kendall's Spavin Cure with great auccess I thought I would let you know what it has done for me. Two years ago I had as speedy a colt as was ever raised in Jefferson county. When I was breaking him, he kicked over the cross bar and got fast and tore one of his hind legs all to pieces. I employed the best farriers, but they all said he was spoiled. He had a very large thorough pin, and I used two bottles of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and it took the bunch entirely off, and he sold afterwards for $1.500 (dollars). I have used it for bone spavins and wind galls, and it has always curwards for $1,800 (dollars). I have used it for bone spavins and wind galls, and it has always cured completely and left the leg smooth.

It is a splendid medicine for rheumatism, have recommended it to a good many, and they all say it does the work. I was in Witherington & Kneeland's drug store, in Adams, the other day and saw a fine nicture you sent them. I tried to buy it, but could not; they said if I would write to you that you would send me one. I wish you would, and I will do you all the good I can. Very respectfully,

I was taken home and carried into the house. I do not think amputation of the leg would cause any more pain. I went for Kendall's Spavin cure, it was all I used, and in six days I could walk around. About three weeks ago my team ran away and threw me out of the wagon, the hind wheel struck my knee. After applying several highly recommended liniments without obtaining any relief, I went for Kendall's Spavin Cure. My leg was drawr up and my knee swollen badly. THE OLD TIME CURE.

OLD DR. WARREN'S BALMofLIFE

An Infallible Remedy for the arrest of Inflammation in all its forms.

READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIALS Gives Immense Comfort.

Woodville, Aug. 1, 1883.
Mr. McKinnon, Oakwood, Ont.—I have been Asthmatically affected for a number of years and never used anything so effectual for it as Dr. Warren's Balm of Life. I can say it has given me an immense amount of comfort and recommend it to those thus affected. Yours indeed, MRS. D. SMITH.

A Victim of Asthma Cured. OAKWOOD, AUG. 12, 1883. OAKWOOD, AUG. 12, 1883.

Mr. A. J. McKinnon, Oakwood.—Sir.—Since I was two months old I am told I have been a victim to Asthma. My parents tell me they tried many remedies for renef, but to no effect. I have used about one dollar's worth of Dr. Warren's Balm of Life, and believe if I continue it I will be radically cured. I have got cured of pain in the stomach also by its use. W. H. RICH.

18 Years Asthma Cured.

MANILLA, Aug. 22nd, 1883.

Arch. J. McKinnon. Oakwood, Ont.—Sir. I have suffered over eighteen years from Asthmatic affection brought on from immediate exposure to cold after overheating. I applied to many Physicians and used many different kinds of medicines for it, up till the summer of 82, but all proved a total failure. I finally used Dr. Warren's Balm of Life, and to-day I can cheerfully testify to its virtues as a grand specific for fully testify to its virtues as a grand specific for the disease, and would ask all sufferers from the disease to give it a fair trial. Your old acquaintance, EDWARD ASHTON. Chronic Pain Cured.

SUNDERLAND, AUG. 2nd, 1883.

Mr. McKinnon, Oakwood, Ont.—Sir.—For six or seven years I have been afflicted with chronic pain in the side. It always troubled me when I lay down more than at any other time, and was accompanied with a copious water-brash. I used three dollars worth of Dr. War-ren's Balm of Life and can testify to its excellent propensities and effect on my system. I am totally free from the above affection and can conscientiously recommend it to those afflicted as I was.—Yours most truly, ALEX. McMIL-

Pain in the Back Cured. SUNDERLAND, AUG. S. 1883. Mr.A.J. McKinnon, Oakwood, Ont.—Dear Sir.

Mr.A.J. McKinnon, Oakwood, Ont.—Dear Sir.
—For over four years I have been a sufferer from pain in the back caused by heavy lifting. I used various liniments and prescriptions, but to no purpose. One bottle of Dr. Warren's Balm of Life cured me All troubled with Chronic pains should try it, NEIL C. McLEAN. Diphtheria Cured.

BEAVERTON, Aug. 18, 1883.

Mr. McKinnon, Oakwood Ont.—Diphtheria came into my family in Aug. of 1882. I applied Dr. Warren's Balm of Life to the eldest and the first of the family that took it. By it she was quickly and thoroughly relieved. In nine or ten days two of the others took the disease but unfortunately had none of the remedy to apply. Telegraphed to Cannington for it, but could not be had nearer than Oakwood. Did not get it at all. The children were medically attended, but both died. I believe the disease could have been arrested had I the Balm. I earnestly recommend it for diphtheria. Yours, etc., MRS. W. CLAYTON. BEAVERTON, AUG. 18, 1883.

w First-Class Specific for Diseases of the Lungs. ISLAY, JULY, 27, 1882. Mr.Arch. J. McKinnon. Oakwood. Ont.—Dear Sir.—I hereby certify that I have used Dr. War-ren's Balm of Life and have found it an excel-lent remedy in checking Asthma. I cheerfully recommend it as a first-class specific for diseases of the lungs. I remain, your servant, ELIZA-BETH BROKENSHIRE.

Sciatica Cured. SEAGRAVE, SEPT. 7th, 1883. SEAGRAVE, SEPT. 7th, 1883.

Dear Sir.—I have suffered so much from Sciatica in my hip and along the whole length of my leg that I have lost hours of rest by it. I used many means given by physicians and patent remedies, but got no permanent relief. I finally used Dr. Warren's Balm of Life and by its use I am to-day a sound man. I applied it with equal parts of fresh beef's gall, and believe if used this way it will cure any rheumatic pain. Yours indeed, JOSEPH TRIPP.
