MUNICIPAL NOMINATIONS.—The nominations took place at Head lake school house en the 31st ult. for the municipality of Laxton, Digby and Longford for a reeve and four councillors. The nominations were as follows: For reeve, John Bailey; for councillors, James Campbell, Henry Davey, Laughlin Matchett, Francis Reid and Richard Rilance. Richard Rilance retired in favor of Francis Reed. This is the third year we have done without an election contest, which speaks well for our council and municipality generally. Mr. Bailey makes an excilent reeve and is highly respected. He always looks well after our municipality in the county council. our municipality in the county council.
Lively Times. - There were lively times.

in this neighborhood on Christmas eve and New Year's eve. In the first place there was a tea at Bethel church, where everything passed off with much enjoyment to all. On New Year's eve a social took place to make away with the surplus provisions when all had a good time. But a studen change has taken place and we fear the lively times are "defunct," for on Sunday morning, 6th inst., the church presented a sad appearance. The benches were piled in the centre, while boards, planks, blocks of wood and various other kinds of rubbish covered the remaining part of the floor and a strip of black craps was tied on the door. We have not heard yet when the "funeral"

Mosday, 31st ult., a disturbance took place at Mr. Allen's. It appears a neice of Mrs. Allen's, who is living with them at present, was preparing to go to the social at Bethel, and young Allen insisted that she should go with him to a tea at Dairymple, which she refused to do. Young Allen thereupon took his cousin's clothes and hid them. Mr. Allen quite naturally interfered with his son to stop the difficulty, and young Allen gof in such a passion that he took his rifle down and swore that if his cousin went out of the gate he would shoot her down. Mr. Allen fearing that the disturbance was getting to a frightful appearance called in John McRea and Alexander McDonald, who happened to be passing with a threshing machine. INCOPORATION WANTED. - Beaverton is [Correspondence of The Post.]

INCOPORATION WANTED.—Beaverton is slowly growing larger year by year, and surely the time has arrived when we should cease to have our municipal affairs managed by others. We have the population—one thousand can be counted inside the would-be limits. We pay more taxes in one year than would pay for the total expenditure during the last or any past five years. Let us wake up and improve our streets, extend and widen our sidewalss, attend to the drainage, and attend to the proper adornment and beautifying of the village. In this we would find as impetus given to the growth of the place as well as the business transacted here. There are some who try to show that we should still remain as we are, unincorporated. With all due respect to those who hold opposite opinions the day of such slowgoing ideas is past. We have paid taxes for ditches, side roads and crossings miles from us long enough. When will it cease? The Beaverton people must decide. Look at every other little village in the district striking hard to be incorporated, and they succeed, even if they have to invite their country country to come in so as to make up the required population on the day the census is taken.

While in the store of McColl & Lee she was noticed to act as if dizzy and a moment afterwards would have fallen but her husband, who would have raised out her husband, who was standing hear, caught her in his arms. She was conveyed to the back part of the store and laid on a bed of blankets. Drs. Belt and Rae were called in but nothing could be done for the sufferer and she died in a few minutes, being unconscious to the end. The doctors pronounced the disease apoplexy. A rough coffin was procured and the body placed in it and taken home. The husband and mother were dazed by their great loss. Mrs. Banbury was between fifty and sixty years old and was highly respected by all who knew her.

The Organ Trouble at Shannon-ville. The opposition to the introduction of an organ in the new Pre-byterian church at Shannonville has not altogether crased. On Sunday morning last Mr. Brown, a leading member of the congregation, went early to church and when hegot the sexton out barricaded the door. The organist applied for admission to practise, but he refused her. Later on Rev. Prof. Mowat of Queen's college, who was to preach a special anniversary sermon, arrived at the church with a large number of the congregation, but Mr. Brown obstinately refused to open the door. Expostulations were in vain. The day was extremely cold, and after waiting halfs nhour outs de negotiating with the recalcitrant member inside the exasperated congregation put their BELLEVILLE. ing with the recalcitrant member inside the exasperated congregation put their shoulders to the door and forced it. The factory was run for five months, the last month of which it was only run every second day: Amount of milk delivered at factory, 319,248 lbs.; amount of cheese manufactured, 31,682 lbs.; which was sold for $3,173.31. The cost of making the cheese was $475.22, and the cost of drawing milk and other expenses $592.71, leaving a balance to the credit of the factory of $2,205.38. The cost of drawing the milk was much larger than it should have been on account of the patrons of the factory being so scattered. Who says cheese factories don't pay?—[Gleaner.

ENTERTAINMENTS.—The giving of presents from the Christmas tree in connection with the Church of England took place in the church on new year's eve. The tree was handsomely decorated, and judging from the attendance we are sure the receipts were satisfactory. Valuable and useful presents were given away... The Baptists had their annual Christmas tree on the evening of the 2nd inst. Although a very stormy evening the church was well filled. Dialogues were rendered by the children, Dialogues were rendered by the children, and an excellent character reading was given by the Rev. Mr. Hill of Vroomanton. MR. COCKBURN REMAINS. - At a third resbytery meeting held at Uxbridge on Thursday week it was unanimously decided to let Rev. E. Cockburn (according to his expressed wish) remain in his present charge. The rev. gentleman's friends will be glad to learn this, as it would have been a critical thing for the Presbyterian church at this juncture to have lost its pastorafter so long a service. The new church build-ing will be gone on with immediately and will be the finest in the village. SAD ENDING OF AN OLD SETTLER. - JSS

San Ending of an Old Settler,—Jss. Terry, formerly an old settler of this place, but of late years very dissipated, was found dead in his bed Saturday morning. Last thursday he had an altercation with his son Joe, and was driving him out of the house with an axe, when Joe caught his hand and giving him a shove the old man fell and struck his hand upon the axe, wounding himself severely and causing the loss of a lot of blood. Instead of attending to the wound he had been drinking heavily ever since and between the two he finally ever since and between the two he finally succumbed Friday night. It is not expected there will be any necessity for an in-

THE ELECTION TRIAL.—Of course the chief topic of interest here for the past week has been the North Ontario election trial. The impression is that no evidence has been given sufficient to unsest Mr. Gould, and as the rebuttal evidence is yet to be heard the probability is that he will hold his seat. One thing is certain, the trial has created considerable feeling in the riding, and a good many moderate conservatives have shown their disaproval of it, and should there be another contest Mr. Madill will find that many of his former supporters will not stand by him. The counterpetition is yet to be heard.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.—The only election in the village was over the reeveship. THE ELECTION TRIAL.-- Of course the MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.—The only election in the village was over the reeveship. R. P. Harman and M. Vicars were the candidates. Some of the tories tried to make the affair a political one, and as they had the support of a good many reformers they were quite confident of electing Mr. Vicars. It was only at the last moment that the reformers became aware of the scheme and Mr. Harman was elected by twenty four majority. The township council remains the same as last year, with the exception that Thomas Todd takes Mr. Shaw's place. Told's election was a surprise to his own friends, but he is tremendous worker and being on the same ticket with Feashy came out ahead of Shaw by ten majority.

DRAMATIC.—"The Colleen Bawn" was given by the amateur dramatic association on New Year's night to a packed house. Everybody was well pleased, as our villagers were not aware they had so much histrionic talent in their midet. There is some talk of repeating it for the benefit of the sufferers by the recent Humber railway accident.

Business.—In spite of the hard times our merebants say that the Christmas week was an excellent one, and as we have splendid sleighing now no doubt business will revive somewhat.

County Council.—As near as I can reckon our county council is pretty equally divided politically, and there will no doubt be the usual acramble for the wasdemehip.

Last Friday evening the mail bag containing the mail matter for Orono, Kirby, Liskeard, Clarke and Newcastle was caught in some unaccountable manner in the car wheels when thrown from the car by the mail clerk, and dragged along, scattering its contents over the track for a distance of two miles. When recovered the bag was torn and burned so that nothing remained but a few blackened shreds.
