

Diament & Dwyer.

WE HEAR TALK

Of a hard summer—that is a summer during which money will be hard—hard to get. This may and may not prove to be the case.

It is imperative at any event that every dollar shall be made to do all it can. It's a level fact that you've got to have Groceries. You'd be poorly off without them.

If you want to get startling value combined with satisfactory quality give us your trade. If you don't feel like buying all you need from us try our house for a share of it.

We give you Groceries, Meats, Household Supplies, or Canned Goods at poor mens' prices.

DIAMANT & DWYER.

Lindsay, April 17, 1884.—84.

A. H. Melville & Co.

EVERLASTING BARGAINS

IN ALL NEW SUMMER GOODS.

We claim to have a Mammoth Stock---one Well Selected.

All the Newest Things in Dress Materials with Trimmings to Match. Our Buyer is in the Markets Looking Up Further Attractive Lines.

A. H. MELVILLE & Co.

Lindsay, April 3, 1884.—78.

A. Campbell.

LARGE FRESH ARRIVALS

A. CAMPBELL'S.

TWO CAR LOADS SUGARS. ONE CAR BRIGHT YELLOW. ONE CAR GRANULATED.

Sugars have fallen lower than ever known before, and I have bought at prices so low that my customers can have the benefit of a very close cut. These sugars are very special value and for quality cannot be equalled in town.

A GENERAL STOCK

of new goods in all departments. All orders carefully handled and promptly delivered. Prices in all lines as low as usual.

A. CAMPBELL.

Lindsay, April 2nd, 1884.—82.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN POST, LINDSAY, MAY 2nd, 1884.

Spring seedling has interfered with the delivery of grain and nothing more being brought in than supplies the wants of local millers. Prices are stationary and not likely to move for a time. In produce the principal articles handled are butter and eggs, the latter coming in in quantities at 11c to 12c.

We have conflicting reports about fall wheat. That on strong clay land has been more or less injured by the frost, and some fields have been plowed up. That on gravelly or light land is doing very well. A good warm rain is badly needed.

Montreal Live Stock Market. At Auer & Kennedy's yards, Point St. Charles, on Monday Mr. R. N. Kennedy was the principal buyer on shipping account, sales being made at 8c to 9c for good choice shipping steers. At Viger market about 200 head were offered and sales were made at 5c to 6c for good to choice steers and heifers, medium to fair grades at 4c to 4 1/2c per lb. live weight. Joseph Richards bought 3 cattle at 8c per lb., 12 lambs for $22, 3 sheep for $27, and 9 calves for $22. J. B. Bourassa bought 2 cattle for $95 and 10 spring lambs for $10.

FIELDING.—On the 20th April, in Minden, the wife of Wm. Fielding of a daughter. PARSON.—At Lindsay, on Saturday, 19th April, 1884, the wife of Mr. John Parson, of a daughter.

MARRIED.—ALGAR—CRESWELL.—On the 18th April, at the Masonic Building, by the Rev. J. R. Craigie, Mr. Wm. S. Algar to Miss Rachel Creswell, all of Boboynton. BOWEN—FLETCHER.—On the 19th April, by the Rev. W. H. Madden, at the residence of the bride's father, Wm. Bowen of Snowden, to Miss Fletch of Lindsay.

CLERK.—GERTLEY.—In Omeme, at the Blackwell house, by the Rev. Dr. Smith, on Thursday, April 17th, Mr. Frederick Clerk of Devonshire, England, to Rebecca Jane, eldest daughter of Mr. Geo. Gertley of Emily. CHAMBERS—MURRAY.—In Eidon, at the residence of the groom's brother, on Wednesday, the 18th April, by the Rev. M. Motherell, Mr. William Chambers of the township of Penelon, Miss Margaret Murray of the township of Brook.

BEST—THOMPSON.—At the residence of the bride's father, 3th con. of Bruce, on Wednesday, 19th March, by the Rev. John Anderson of Tiverton, Richard John Best to Miss Ida, fifth daughter of Mr. Thos. Thompson, late of Oakwood, both of the township of Bruce. DIED.—PARSONS.—In Omeme, on Sunday, April 20th, 1884, Florence Mabel, infant daughter of Mr. T. J. Parsons, aged two months.

J. Riggs. FOR THE LADIES. STAPLE HAIR GOODS. I have now on hand a nice assortment, a very nice lot indeed, of Waves, Switches and all Hair Goods.

The quality in all cases is the best and I guarantee that the goods will give complete satisfaction. Now is a favorable time to bring along your hair and have it made up. Personal attention given to this department.

A fine lot of NEW HAIR NETS just received. J. RIGGS, Kent-st., Lindsay. Lindsay, March 1, 1884.

Davies & Petty. LOOK OUT. Be on the look out for DAVIES & PETTY'S GLADSTONE WATCH AT $12.00.

They are Selling Fast and giving the Best of Satisfaction. New Rockford Watches JUST TO HAND.

Remember, we are sole agents for both of the above watches for the town of Lindsay. Come and see our Elegant NEW SCREW BEZEL CASES. Most suitable for railroad men.

DAVIES & PETTY Next door to the Globe Hotel, Kent-st., Lindsay. Lindsay, April 28, 1884.—86.

F. C. Taylor. INSURANCE. THE CANADA LIFE. Annual Report for 1883.

Assets $5,417,022. Interest on investments $325,998. New policies written 2,178. Amount of new policies $4,550,000. Death claims paid $222,000. Premiums received $812,000.

It will be noticed the interest on investments more than pay the death claims. The Canada Life is a home company and has been doing business for 37 years. Its rates are moderate while its profits are larger than those of other companies. Policies incontestable after two years. Claims paid immediately on proof of death. There is a grace allowed for payment of premiums. Those insuring now will be entitled to two year's profits in 1885. The profits will equal if not exceed those of any previous DIVISION. For every information apply to F. C. TAYLOR, Agent, Lindsay. Lindsay, Feb. 23, 1884.

EYE, EAR AND THROAT. DR. G. S. EYERSON, 2, R. C. F. S. R. Lecture on the Eye, Ear and Throat, Trinity Medical College, Toronto, Supper to the Messrs. Eyer and Eyer, Toronto, Commencing at 7:30 p.m. at the Messrs. Eyer and Eyer, Toronto, and for the Deaf and Dumb, Belleville, Ontario, at the Messrs. Eyer and Eyer, Belleville, Ontario, on Monday, May 13th, 1884, at 7:30 p.m. Tickets 50c. For full particulars apply to G. S. EYERSON, 2, R. C. F. S. R., Toronto, April 4, 1884.

of that bonus was about $18,000, and it has been a good investment for Lindsay. The change in policy has not proved the wisdom of granting the bonus. The action from Fort Perry to Lindsay brings a large and profitable trade to this town. The facilities furnished by this section will be improved shortly, thanks to the exertions of Mr. David Walker, reeve of Ops, and Mr. R. Adam, reeve of Mariposa, as will be seen by the report elsewhere.

We have heard for the first time that reformers were appealed to vote for the Whitty bonus, and as a consequence voted for it. So far as we recollect the bonus was supported by conservatives and reformers, and opposed by them irrespective of party lines. Probably the most active supporter of the bonus in town was a conservative—a good old Tory. Many other prominent conservatives gave it their support. Several prominent reformers opposed it.

Mr. Dundas considers the amalgamation a good thing, while the Warder styles it "iniquitous," an "outrage on the rights of the town and country," and many other similar Warderesque phrases. According to the Warder, Hon. S. C. Wood, Messrs. McIntyre, Taylor, Hugh (messing Arthur) O'Leary, and the editor of THE POST as members of the deputation to Toronto, "had their price in their pockets" for assisting in an amalgamation "formed specially to fleece the people of Victoria."

The same parties also, according to the Warder, "bartered away all the rights and privileges of the county of Victoria in the Whitty railway" to serve political ends, as well as for the "aforsaid price in their pockets." If the amalgamation was such an "outrage" or "iniquity" or "fleeing of the county," then it is only fair for Mr. Dundas to take his share of the blame along with Mr. Wood and the others named. He should have the courage and the candour to do that. But if he is willing to let the Warder take all the rope it wishes in the matter, we shall not object. It will not be our funeral. It may be Mr. Dundas's. The Warder anyway is bound to hang itself. We had hoped Mr. Dundas was sufficiently nice and wise to prefer better company. As a matter of fact, it was mainly through the exertions of Messrs. A. O'Leary, McIntyre, Taylor and the editor of THE POST that the important clauses were placed in the amalgamation act protecting the rights of Lindsay, and securing fair rates. Mr. Dundas did not give them a helping hand. He was engaged in promoting the amalgamation; his siren voice and seductive powers were devoted to the consummation of what the Warder calls the "iniquitous amalgamation," a scheme formed specially "to fleece the people of Victoria." The Warder's charge or insinuation that Mr. Wood, or Mr. Taylor, or Mr. McIntyre, or Mr. O'Leary, or the editor of THE POST "received a price" for their votes or influence in railway matters will be received, we are confident, even by conservatives, with contempt. Mr. Dundas will no doubt perceive the corollary as affecting himself and condemn it also.

Mr. Dundas's commendation of his party as having the "courage of their convictions" so far as to "frequently oppose each other," and as having an "independence and patriotism not to sacrifice everything to one great political goal," is decidedly amusing when read in the light of his vote at Ottawa three weeks ago, when he and other Ontario conservatives allowed nine millions to go to Quebec and was satisfied with a begrudging half-million for Ontario. Mr. Dundas should have had sufficient "independence and patriotism" to protest against such an unwise and extravagant policy, and one so unjust to Ontario. This is a railway vote out of which Mr. Dundas can try to make some of the "capital" he says he has heretofore studiously avoided trying to make. It is a question he will be likely to "studiously avoid."

EDITORIAL NOTES. There sailed from Liverpool last Friday for Montreal four large Allan steamships and two other steamships having on board four thousand immigrants all destined for Canada, largely for Manitoba.

Nothing decisive has been done for the relief of Gen. Gordon, who is still holding out at Khartoum. The situation there and at Berber is very critical. It is quite likely that the English government will have to send a strong force into the Soudan.

By a vote of 140 to 138 the Morrison tariff bill has been taken up for consideration in the house of representatives at Washington. The passage of the bill does not necessarily follow, but if it is defeated it will simply result in the advocacy of a large reduction of the tariff, and this must undoubtedly soon take place.

Winnipeg Sun: "Where this blackmailing system is going to end it is difficult to foresee. When each province knows that it can at any time compel the federal authorities to come to its relief the natural result is extravagance on the part of the provinces, a rapid increase of the Dominion debt, and a gradual weakening of the ties that keep confederation together."

"Grip" in a capital cartoon hits the Mail editor giving Archbishop Lynch a lesson in "culchaw." The Mail editor holds a sash in one hand while he applies the "thumb of derision to the nose of contempt" in an insolent and vulgar gesture that fully describes the character of his attacks on Archbishop Lynch. His grace does not appear to be in the least disturbed.

We are pleased to see that the Toronto World has resumed publication (as in the past under the proprietorship of Mr. W. F. McLennan) after a short suspension. The World is a bright, clever, and enterprising paper, and is working out a career and mission for itself in a line in which it promises to win fame and wealth. It deserves generous public support and we trust it will grow and prosper.

Appropos of the alleged letter of Archbishop Lynch to Mr. Higgins, published by the Mail, and which Mr. Higgins declares has been materially altered in text, it should not be forgotten that some years ago the editor of the Mail when Ottawa correspondent of that organ was convicted of changing the text of a letter written by one of Mr. Mackenzie's colleagues. The forgery was committed to enable the correspondent to make some fancied point against the minister in question. It failed, however. The correspondent barely escaped ignominious expulsion from the press gallery for his base offence. It seems that he has not lost his cunning in that particular line. It is a pity that a leading daily newspaper should be in this way degraded.

Chief Justice Hagarly has been promoted to the chief justiceship of the court of appeal, and it is expected Chief Justice Wilson will take the place thus vacated. The Ontario act imposing a higher fee on tavern-keepers taking out Dominion licenses has been disallowed by Sir John Macdonald. The Dominion act went into force yesterday. As Ontario inspectors will prosecute persons not taking out an Ontario license a test case will soon arise.

The Warder takes up three columns in a laborious effort to get THE POST on the "horn of a dilemma." The only result is another demonstration of Ammalia's faculty of wholesale lying and the impalement of Mr. J. R. Dundas. The more the Warder writes about the matter the worse it gets for the M.P. for South Victoria.

Toronto World: "That the Mail should conduct its controversy with Archbishop Lynch in a manner repugnant to every person of good taste and right feeling is a matter of course. The Mail is nothing if not violent, vindictive and egotistical. Its conception of the use of language is not the diplomat's conception, but the fish-wife's."

The Omeme Herald should be careful not to copy the Warder's would-be blackmailing articles. It did so quite innocently, we have no doubt, because it certainly would not wish to promote the Warder's ignoble tactics. If Lindsay conservative leaders should have to discipline the Herald as well as the Warder they would have their hands full, and unlike their chieftain they could not say after the operation that "these hands are clean"—in a literal sense, of course.

The latest sensation is an alleged attempt to blow up the parliament buildings at Toronto with dynamite. Two dynamite cartridges were found in a venting recess in one of the walls. The find has greatly excited the Toronto papers. The Globe intimates that it had something to do with the conspiracy plot; the Mail declares it was a grit concoction or decoction, and will likely to-morrow assert that Mr. Mowat and Archbishop Lynch are at the bottom of it; the Western Mail charges the Globe with putting the cartridges there in order to make its evening edition sell. It was very likely some practical joke.

THE BURNED CONVENT. AFTER THE FIRE—PLANS FOR REBUILDING AT ONCE—THE ACADEMY TO BE CARRIED ON WITHOUT INTERRUPTION. The bare walls of the burned convent make a stately and impressive ruin, and the scene of desolation is daily visited by large numbers, who express their regret at the calamity and their sympathy for the ladies of the institution. The process of restoration and rebuilding will, however, soon be commenced. Mr. Martin, the Inspector of the Phoenix, has been in town some days for the purpose of arranging the loss, the other companies agreeing to accept his decision, the Phoenix having the largest insurance on the building. He has gone over the building and plans with Mr. Duffus in order to arrive at a basis of settlement. The loss will be large. In addition to the amount covered by insurance there will be a loss of several thousand dollars on such things as gas fixtures, ornaments, many articles of value in the chapel and personal effects.

SYMPATHY FOR THE SISTERS. There has naturally been wide and general sympathy for the ladies of Loretto in the destruction of their beautiful home. This has come freely from all classes and ranks, and has not been merely local in its expression. This has been very gratifying and encouraging to the sisters. Among others they received very warm letters from Archbishop Lynch and Dr. Furlow, head-master of the Fort Hope school, and who was last year an examiner at the convent. The ladies in a card elsewhere convey their grateful sense of the expressions of sympathy and of the heroic assistance rendered by citizens at the fire. Vicar-General Laurent in the course of his remarks Sunday eloquently voiced the gratitude of himself and the congregation to the people of Lindsay for their noble exertions at the fire. Bishop Jamot, who came to town Thursday evening, joins the vicar-general in a card of thanks elsewhere printed.

R. S. Porter. WALL PAPER. Handmade Patterns at PORTER'S BOOKSTORE. The Greatest Variety at PORTER'S BOOKSTORE. The Largest Stock in town or county at PORTER'S BOOKSTORE. English, French and American designs at PORTER'S BOOKSTORE. Lovely Patterns, Rich Colors, Cheap Prices at PORTER'S BOOKSTORE. See R. S. PORTER'S Stock before purchasing elsewhere. Lindsay, March 24th, 1884.—81.

Banking and Exchange. SCARTH, COCHRAN & Co. BROKERS. MEMBERS OF TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE. Stocks Bought and Sold on Margin and for Cash. 51 and 54 Toronto-st., Toronto. W. B. SCARTH, R. COCHRAN, Toronto, Nov. 23, 1881.—50-17.

SAVINGS BANK BRANCH OF THE DOMINION BANK, LINDSAY.

Deposits taken of $1.00 and upwards. No notice of withdrawal required. Interest allowed at current rates from date of deposit to date of withdrawal, and compounded annually.

WALTER DARLING, AGENT. LINDSAY, Jan. 4, 1884.

ONTARIO BANK LINDSAY. DEPOSITS RECEIVED IN SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT.

EXCHANGE. Promptly made at current rates upon all parts of Great Britain, the United States and Dominion of Canada.

Telegraphic Transfers. Made for large or small sums on all parts of Canada. This is especially advantageous to persons living in Manitoba or the North-west, as it makes the funds available at once at the place of payment.

S. A. McMURTRY, Manager. Lindsay, March 18, 1884.—80.

The Canadian Post. LINDSAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1884. Circulation 3,700.

FIRE PROTECTION. The fires of the past two weeks have naturally directed public attention to the efficiency of our waterworks system and other means of protection, and it is quite evident that increased efficiency is required.

MR. DUNDAS AND THE LOCAL RAILWAY SITUATION. It is evident Mr. Dundas feels the ticklish position into which he is being drawn by the foolish ravings of the Warder about the local railway situation, and has written to that paper a short letter which, as it refers to THE POST, will be found on our fourth page. We are informed Mr. Dundas was an active local promoter of the first two Victoria railway bonuses, and in the town council, which honorable body he then adorned, he seconded Mr. John Dobson's resolution for the passage of the by-law almost unanimously adopted by the ratepayers. He must have believed the project a good one, and a desirable one for the interests of the town. We are not aware that he had so far changed his views as to be an active opponent of the $85,000 by-law; nor did he vote against it. Mr. Dundas's opposition to the Whitty extension was perfectly well understood at the time, and was valued accordingly. He is wrong in saying that his "honest opposition" to that project was misrepresented by THE POST, and we have no doubt he will on reflection admit that his statement to that effect is unwarranted by the facts. We do not know what other advocates of the bonus may have said or thought about the "honesty" of Mr. Dundas's opposition; it was not impeached by THE POST because it was not necessary.

We do not require to impeach the honesty of Mr. Dundas when he says the "incomprehension" of the Whitty bonus presses heavily upon the G's. The town's share of that bonus was about $18,000, and it has been a good investment for Lindsay. The change in policy has not proved the wisdom of granting the bonus. The action from Fort Perry to Lindsay brings a large and profitable trade to this town. The facilities furnished by this section will be improved shortly, thanks to the exertions of Mr. David Walker, reeve of Ops, and Mr. R. Adam, reeve of Mariposa, as will be seen by the report elsewhere.

We have heard for the first time that reformers were appealed to vote for the Whitty bonus, and as a consequence voted for it. So far as we recollect the bonus was supported by conservatives and reformers, and opposed by them irrespective of party lines. Probably the most active supporter of the bonus in town was a conservative—a good old Tory. Many other prominent conservatives gave it their support. Several prominent reformers opposed it.

Mr. Dundas considers the amalgamation a good thing, while the Warder styles it "iniquitous," an "outrage on the rights of the town and country," and many other similar Warderesque phrases. According to the Warder, Hon. S. C. Wood, Messrs. McIntyre, Taylor, Hugh (messing Arthur) O'Leary, and the editor of THE POST as members of the deputation to Toronto, "had their price in their pockets" for assisting in an amalgamation "formed specially to fleece the people of Victoria."

The same parties also, according to the Warder, "bartered away all the rights and privileges of the county of Victoria in the Whitty railway" to serve political ends, as well as for the "aforsaid price in their pockets." If the amalgamation was such an "outrage" or "iniquity" or "fleeing of the county," then it is only fair for Mr. Dundas to take his share of the blame along with Mr. Wood and the others named. He should have the courage and the candour to do that. But if he is willing to let the Warder take all the rope it wishes in the matter, we shall not object. It will not be our funeral. It may be Mr. Dundas's. The Warder anyway is bound to hang itself. We had hoped Mr. Dundas was sufficiently nice and wise to prefer better company. As a matter of fact, it was mainly through the exertions of Messrs. A. O'Leary, McIntyre, Taylor and the editor of THE POST that the important clauses were placed in the amalgamation act protecting the rights of Lindsay, and securing fair rates. Mr. Dundas did not give them a helping hand. He was engaged in promoting the amalgamation; his siren voice and seductive powers were devoted to the consummation of what the Warder calls the "iniquitous amalgamation," a scheme formed specially "to fleece the people of Victoria." The Warder's charge or insinuation that Mr. Wood, or Mr. Taylor, or Mr. McIntyre, or Mr. O'Leary, or the editor of THE POST "received a price" for their votes or influence in railway matters will be received, we are confident, even by conservatives, with contempt. Mr. Dundas will no doubt perceive the corollary as affecting himself and condemn it also.

Mr. Dundas's commendation of his party as having the "courage of their convictions" so far as to "frequently oppose each other," and as having an "independence and patriotism not to sacrifice everything to one great political goal," is decidedly amusing when read in the light of his vote at Ottawa three weeks ago, when he and other Ontario conservatives allowed nine millions to go to Quebec and was satisfied with a begrudging half-million for Ontario. Mr. Dundas should have had sufficient "independence and patriotism" to protest against such an unwise and extravagant policy, and one so unjust to Ontario. This is a railway vote out of which Mr. Dundas can try to make some of the "capital" he says he has heretofore studiously avoided trying to make. It is a question he will be likely to "studiously avoid."