LINDSAY, FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1884. "HE KNOWS."

I know not what will befall me; God hangs & mist o'er my eyes. And o'er each step of my onward path He makes new scenes to rise,
And every joy He sends me comes as a glad

I see not a step before me as I tread the days of the year; But the past is still in God's keeping; the future His mercy shall clear,
And what looks dark in the distance may brighten as I draw near.

For perhaps the dreaded future has less bitterness than I think;
The Lord may sweeten the water before I stoop to drink;
Or, if Marah must be Marah, He will stand beside the betake.

It may be there is waiting for the coming of my Some gifts of such rare blessedness, some joy That my lips can only tremble with the thanks

Oh restful, blissful ignorance! 'tis blessed not to know;
It keeps me quiet in those arms which will not And hushes my soul to rest on the bosom that loves me so.

So I go on not knowing I would not if I might:
I would rather walk in the dark with God than go alone in the light;
I would rather walk alone with Him by faith,
than walk alone by sight.

But my heart shrinks back from trials which the future may disclose; Yet I never had a sorrow but that the dear Lord So I send the starting tear back with the whis-pered word, "He knows."

SERIOUS COLLISION WHILE PLAYING Ball. During the forenoon recess Friday of last week Mr. Cundell, the school teacher at Cameron, was playing ball with some of his scholars, and while he and a youth named Pratt were running as fast as they could from opposite directions to catch a ball that had been knocked high into the air they collided with such vio-lence that both were barly hurt, Mr. Cundell being cut so severely over the eye that Dr. Wilson of Fenelon Falls had to be sent for to dress the wound. Both were badly bruised and shaken, and Pratt had the cap of one of his knees partly displaced, be-sides being struck in the face so hard that his nose bled copiously.

MILLBROOK. SUDDEN DEATH. - On Monday, 12th inst., Mrs. Joseph Armstrong of Cavan died very audenly at the age of sixty-six years. Mrs. Armstrong had been ill about a week previously, but had quite recevered apparently, and on the day she died expressed herself as feeling better than usual. She and her daughter were passing from one room to another talking over various matters, when momentarily she exclaimed, "Oh, Millie!"
Her daughter caught her just in time to save her from falling. Other members of the family hurried to her assistance and laid her on a sofa, but she never after

JANETVILLE. OBITUARY. - It is our painful duty to chronicle the death of an old and respected settler of this place, Mr. Robert Armstrong, who departed this life on Tues-day evening, May 20th, and was buried in the Church of England new cemetery on the boundary line between Cartwright and Manvers. He was followed to the grave by a very large circle of friends who came from a distance to pay their last respects to the remains of one who was well known and respected throughout the township. Rev. Mr. Burgess of Bethany, his pastor, conducted the services both at his late residence and at the grave. Mr. Armstrong was born in the townland of Mullaghbey, county Cavan, Ireland, 'I years ago, and emigrated to Canada in the year 1840. Stopping at Bytown, as Ottawa was then called, for nearly two years, he then came to Manyers and settled on lot No. 4, in the 13th con... where he made a good living for 13th con., where he made a good living for himself and family, of which he had seven, five sons and two girls, all of whom he has left in good circumstances. Although the weather was not all that could be desired it was a pleasant day for the game. The ground was in fair condition. Numbers visited the field during the day, which showed the appreciation of the game by our villagers. The foreigners arrived on the nine o'clock train and after breakfast adjourned to the ed for 31, small scoring being the order of the day. The bowling of A. Williamson and the fielding of the Midland team was praiseworthy. Freel's 10 innings materi-ally repaired the score. Adjournment was then made to Card's hotel, where lunch was partaken of, after which play was resumed. In the second innings our bowling completely captured the visitors, the team retiring for a total of 15 runs. Course of Revision.—On Monday, May 26th, the council of the township of Georgina met pursuant to adjournment at Low's hotel in the village of Pefferlaw as a court of revision. There being little business before the court, only a few changes in some parties assessed and a few names to be added to the roll, the court wound up its business before dinner. After dinner on meeting for general business there was a great rush made for the treasury, each one appearing to think that his particular piece of road was the worst in the township and therefore must of necessity have a liberal grant. The council, however, made quite a number of grants in different parts of the township amounting to between $300 and $400, the largest grant being $125 to the Sutton line. A few accounts and communications were received, after SUTTON AND VIRGINIA.
