It appears that Hanlan was leading at the end of the pears that Hanian was leading at the end of the first mile, when Beach crossed into Hanian's water and in so doing Hanian allowed himself to foul Beach. A steamer ran very close to Hanian and to save himself from swamping he stopped rowing. Beach headed him and was never overtaken. Hanian claimed a foul which the referee would not allow. Another race will be rowed but not before six months.

Twenty river men have been engaged at Peterboro to take part in the expedition up the Nile for the relief of Gen. Gordon. The men are allowed $40 per month and all expenses paid. -The boys are generally pleased to find that a small keg of "W. F. L." was to be sent up "to my rooms." The rooms will be a popular resort until the keg runs dry—if there is a keg at all.

The steamers are deing a large business between Lindsay and the Point and Bobcaygeon. One of the boats made six trips to the Point one day this week. A full complement of passengers each trip.

-A large excursion party of Orangemen went north from Port Hope to Midland on Wednes-day morning by special train. The train ran through Lindsay about nine o'clock. A large number from town joined in the trip. -The chancery sittings open here next Tuesday before Chancellor Boyd. This will prevent a number of our legal friends taking part in the Mowat demonstration, but they can adorn their gowns with a badge in honor of the occasion.

The directors of the central fair have spent over $200 in moving the stables and are now fixing the question of spending an additional $100 in working up the extended horse track. The tower question has not been decided yet. The salvation army have secured an additional number of torches and now have an illuminated parade each evening. The effect is striking—not in a theological sense, but as an advertisement. The usual runaway accidents may be looked for.

-The fire brigade go to Toronto by the morning train on Monday and will while there take part in the grand demonstration on that and day following. The brigade will probably be accompanied by the Citizens' band if one or two members can obtain leave of absence.

-The Peck's Bad Boy company played to a slim house on Wednesday night of last week. The character of the play is one that should be discountenanced by all. The alleged humor is of the lowest brand—the systematic playing of tricks on his parents by a bad boy. -The fire alarm bell was successfully hoisted

The fire alarm bell was successfully noisted into its place on Thursday morning. The contractor bought a brand new rope for the purpose. When he got through he found he had about seventeen feet more rope than when he started. This story looks as if it was considerably stretched—but not more so than the rope. The new town fife bell has been somewhat of a nulsance during the last week. The carter dumped it on the sidewall: in front of the fire hall. About every passer-by sounded it. The last played tricks with the clapper and got their lingers jammed in the wheel. The bell should be hanged as speedily as possible.

-The fall exhibition of the Mariposa agricul-tural society will be held at Oakwood on Tues-day and Wednesday, October 7th and 8th. The posters have been issued and the prize lists are in the printer's hands. Our friends of the ban-ner township are putting forth extra efforts this year to make their show even, more success-ful than ever.

In general the dealer declines that you shall hold an inquest on the watermelon. You may be trying to find out whether the fruit is sound and catable. A lady friend says that the fol-lowing is a sure way of testing. Give the melon a sharp blow with the knuckles. If the response is "punk" the fruit is sound. If the reply is "pank" buy another melon.

On Friday last Miss Guiry of Ops while making purchases in town lost aer purse containing a sum of money. The purse was, fortunately for Miss Guiry, nicked up by Mr. La Archambault, who had a small bill posted advertising the find. On Saturday Miss Guiry claimed the purse. Moral: Advertise, advertise, —That's it exactly. How the mischief was it missed before. The thing's as plain as possible. The Orillia Times points out that the recent squabble between the Orillia and Peterboro lacrosse clubs grew out of "two clubs of equal or nearly power coming together, each with an indomitable determination to win the match." That settles it. Next!

The most uncomfortable place during the storm of Wednesday last was the high school building. Some of the children on reaching home were consured by their parents for "being out in the wet." "But," pleaded the youngsters in extenuation, "we weren't outside when we got wet; we were in the school." The puzzled parent will visit the school himself to see if that's so.

if that's so.

—Under the attractive title of "Orange Blossoms" the Whitby Chronicle records a pleasing event of local interest in this part of the country: "Wednesday afternoon a wedding was celebrated on Euclidest at the residence of Mr. Joseph Lake, when Miss Melissa Luke, his second daughter, was joined in the bonds of holy matrimony to Mr. John E. Jarvis, of Jarvis & McDougall, merchants, Fencion Falls, Miss Saunders was bridesmaid and Mr. Fred, Luke, brother of the bride, groomsman, Rev. N. R. Willoughby, M.A., tied the knot. The happy couple left by the 320 p.m. train for the northern mkes,"

An excursionist who went from Lindsay to attend the regatta tells us that great improvements have been made in Midhand during the list two of three years. Three fine brick churches have been erected Church of Engand. Catholic and Methodist. Some large brick stores, with plate glass windows, on the whole finer and perhaps more worthy than any in Lindsay, are now occupied by men who appear to be doing a good husiness. Several brick residences have lately been added, and from every appearance Midhand is destined to go ahead. We are also happy to learn that our late townsman, Mr. A. Farton, is likely to become as useful and as popular in Midhand as he was in Lindsay.

A meeting of the church wardens and official of St. Paul's church was held in the church rooms on Thursday evening at which it was decided to advertise for tenders for the erection of the new church according to plane already pre-pared by Dennistoun & Rogers of Foronto. Tenders are to be in by the 28th inst. If a suit-able offer is made the work of building will be gone on with at once. The new church will be built on the size of the present church on Kent street.

Central Exhibition Notes Although a large amount of work is in progress about the central fair grounds things are being hammered into shape with all possible speed. Mr. Geo. Thomas has taken the contract speed. Mr. Geo. Thomas has taken the contract for the additional fencing required to enclose the extended grounds. About thirty-five rods will be required, which will be a pine board fence eight feet high. A gang of men are at work laying out, ploughing, scraping and levelling the ground upon which the track will be laid out. The track will be 30 feet wide except opposite the judges stand and the score, where it is 66 feet. The track will be enclosed by a fence around its entire length, and at a future day an inside fence will be built parallel with that outside so that the competing animals will run between. Other matters about the grounds are in the hands of efficient committees.

The annual picnic given under the auspices of Father McEvoy came off at Kirkfield on Wednesday of this week. The pleasure of the day was somewhat interfered with by the rain, was somewhat interfered with by the rain, which came on during the afternoon. A large crowd were on the grounds from points surrounding and from a distance. The great sporting feature of the day was a base ball match between the Kirkfield club and the Unions of Lindsay, assisted by Messrs. McAdams, Scully, Hungerford and Little from the Lindsay club. The ground was rough and the players on either side were at a disadvantage, and could not exhibit superior play. The Lindsay club went to the bat and scored five runs. Kirkfield followed with two. Lindsay seld the lead from the beginning. The Lindsay club in its fourta innings scored nine runs and were in a fair way of getscored nine runs and were in a fair way of get-ting a lead which the Kirkfield club could not reach, when play was called. Local Brevities.

All and especially young men are earnestly invited to attend. The meeting opened very well Wednesday evening despite the rain and will be continued to night and suggesting evenings in continued to night and succeeding evenings in St. Andrew's. ## WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

It may rain, it may snow, and it may do neither; but one thing is certain, the latter end of summer is hotter than the beginning, but, nevertheless, he is shaping to skedaddle suddenly, and the result to those who have not cultivated the bump of precaution will be cold or cough, pneumonia, neuralgia and other ills whose name is legion, and causing them to wear a face as long as a pumpkin vine. Be wise, cultivate the bump of precaution while you have the opportunity, by making a business visit to the City Store without further delay and providing yourself and family with Woollen Underwear and Flannels, &c. Prices never were so low since Adam was a boy, and our Stock never was so large, and the quality, owing to the low price of wool, is superior to any hitherto produced. Hasten hither, be prompt, act suddenly and in earnest and we will supply you with Goods that will defy the freaks of this fickle climate.
