THE LINDSAY CENTRAL.

The arrangements for the forthcoming Lindsay Central Exhibition are making excellent progress, The directors with commendable and indicious enterprise fident exhibitors as well as the public will appreciate the public spirit of the society ed if the weather wonly favorable, and as Mr. Mownt has charge of these things he has promised the worthy secretary, as "abrither Scot," that bright days will prevail, From what we have heard there will be a splendid exhibit of live stock of all kinds. This district has of late made a marked and this year should bring them out in ontribute largety, and in this respect the years. There are many new and varied attractions. The enlarged half-mile track will provide ample facilities for speeding, and will afford an excellent opportunity for the Woodville, Ferreion Fallwand other horsomen to see if they can best the landess normal and lower the record of either Mand S of Jay-1-See. The rallway arrangements will be on a liberal scale, and will be found convenient for a very wide

It is with refuetance, says the Loudon Advertiser, that our esteemed cotemporary the Rat Portage Progress changes its headline, altering the word "Manitoba" to "Ontario," But, so the Progress explains, "the Judicial committee of the British privy council has said so, and we are fore-ed to comply." It's all right, Mr. Progress, we won't send any field batteries up to your burgh. Mind your business, and you will find no cause for complaint with On-

The Inland Sentinel, published at Kamloope, B. C., says: "We are in receipt of a desit with in his removal from office, contrary to the usual practice in such cases. Political favoritism should never be permitted to de injustice, and we believe Str John will some day regret that he countenanced a wrong upon a worthy man and faithful official. It would appear that merit has little encouragement at present,"

The New York Nation is commenting on the Maine state election mays: "In several ways the vote of Maine will tend to weaken his [Blaine's] canvas. There is no sten of the promised labor or Irish vote in hin favor, any more than there was in Vermont, but an ominous sign that the repubican dodge is not working well this year is found in the fact that several factory towns, including Biddeford and Lewiston. have reversed their usual republican majority and have gone democratic. The laboring man is discovering that a protective system which promises him high wagen but does not give him work is a doubtful kind of blessing." It is indeed an ominous sign when eastern manufacturing towns go back on the Yankee N. P.

The conservatives of the neighborhood take the same view; and no doubt the Warder has remore sense if it cannot be a little less men-dacious. That it should knowingly repeat lies whout Mr. Brokenshire in this matter betrays a singular smallness of mind and

The military critice in Welceley's preparations, but the general will go shead and win, as he has done be fore. The warithe preparations now in progress and the magic of Wolseley's name will no doubt have great moral effect on the tribes in the Soudan, and many will leave the Mahdi. But the work before the expedition is of a formidable and danger-one character.

The World of Tuesday cleverly puredies the customary Mail editorial on the Mowat construction: "As we prophesied, the Mowat demonstration turned out to be a complete fizzle. Mowat appeared as if he had been on a six mouthe' spree, while the reception committee who went to meet Mowat at Niagara rolled out of the cars in a way that led the observers to imagine lindway and two Toronto papers that have taken up the case of Mr. James Lenihan, formerly Dominion government Indian agent in New Westminster. Our space forbids extended remarks, but we would say that Mr. Lenihan has been unjustly dealt with in his removal from office, contrary to the usual practice in such cases. Political favoritiem should never be permitted to de injustice, and we believe Six investment of the converted than ever that Mowat must go."

> Somebody played a practical joke on the Mowat procession. As it passed the Mail office a dark object was precipitated from a top-most window in the tall pulp-tower. It hurtled through the air with a low moaning sound, and struck the pavement with a "dull, stckening thud." The reformers in the procession stood sphast with amazement and pity; the conservative countenances lighted up with joyful glances. One thought filled the minds of the first with dread, and of the others with joy. That thought was that the editor of the Mail, filled with despair, envy and remorse, had gone to the top of the pulp-tower and cast "hisself" down upon the cold unfeeling sidewalk. That would have been a great calamity for the reform party; and would have

Dr. Dowling, twice elected for South Renfrew, has been again unseated. The point at leave was a purely technical one. It will be remembered that in the first case Judge Cameron held that he was disqualifled, though his associate judge did not basis of the second attack, which has proved successful, though the leading members of the bar were evenly divided on the question. The Mail discusses the case with unexampled coarseness and attacks Dr. Dowling in the most ferocious way. We give a specimen paragraph from a column for the edification of our readers: He Dr. Dowling! represents the depth of degradation to which Mr. Mowat and his friends have descended in order to retain the power which was slipping from their hands. The moral atmosphere surrounding the local government is bad; so bad that it can be but with a distressing effort that any honorable man can breathe in it." There must be something in the grim re-mark that Me. Mowat is hiring Griffin to write in this abusive way, fer the Mail is thereby doing more good than harm to the
