BOBCAYGEON. MINERALS IN THE BACK COUNTRY. - The mpression that our back country contains minerals of a valuable character has been considerably strengthened of late by numrone and important discoveries. These discoveries have been made chiefly on the north shore of Lake Superior, and the result of them is to establish beyond all doubt that there are many lodes of copper bearing ores of considerable value, and that these lodes assumbly arrived throughout these odes propably extend throughout a strip reaching from L. he superior to Kingston. No Moses, and a Hiding Joshua.—A number of very smart conservative papers are quoting a statement to the effect that Mr. Blake, in a recent speech in Kingston, ommand the sun to stand still;" and that, in reply, a particularly bright Tory ex-change reminds Mr. Blake, that "the people have no Joshua, either, to lead them through the wilderness to the promised land." Prodigious! Without thinking it necessary to say that Mr. Blake never made any such reference to Moses, it might be noticed that the remark about Joshua and the promised land is borrowed from an old American election gag. But these people forget—they have a Joshua; though he is at present off hiding somewhere, for fear of being placed in the box. He made a bold dash, at the head of his host, for the pro-mised land. He saw that the old tramping process, through the wilderness, had got them no nearer the gaol; and he bethought him to buy their way in. "To buy up the members," said he to his pals, "will be cheaper than to buy up the constituencies."

AN EXPLANATION ABOUT BINDERS. AN EXPLANATION ABOUT BINDERS.—Int. C. G. Cody, general agent, Lindsay, wishes to intimate to the farmers of Whitby and Pickering and other adjoining townships that the reason why the "Little Brantford Binder" was not entered to compete at the Whitby field trial held on the 23rd of July last was because all the binder manufacturers in Ontario gave their word as men and signed an agreement that they would and signed an agreement that they would not be at the trial with their respective binders. Those who wish to be convinced of the truth of the above should apply to the Messrs. A. Harris, Son & Co., Brant-ford agents agents for a statement of ford, or their agents for a statem their case in detail. The Mesers. Maw Bros. of Brooklin, who really were the ones that got up and conducted the match, ones that got up and conducted the match, have already given their order for a Brantford Binder for the harvest of 1885; thus showing that in their opinion the Brantford is the best binder on the Canadian market. This binder is for sale by the Harris & Co.'s agent, Mr. J. W. Smith of Others and intending pureless will do Oshawa, and intending purchasers will do well to call on him before leaving their orders elsewhere.—[Chronicle.—8-1.

FALL SHOW.—The North Ontario fall show will be held at Port Perry on Oct.

15th and 16th. FIRE PROTECTION.—The fire by-law was carried in Port Perry on Friday last by a majority of 98. Great satisfaction is felt by the citizens at the result. A first-class steam fire engine will now be purchased, and the village, which has been rebuilt with marvellous rapidity, will have ample protection from fire.

Horses v. Cattle.—It is often wondered why there is such a large number of bovine breeders and so few of the equine when the object to be gained is the same in both cases. If we reflect an instant it is quite surprising that a large majority of our breeders raise exclusively cattle. True, it does not require so large an amount of capital to breed and raise cattle as horses, and it is just as true there is more profit in breeding horses than cattle. With the same amount of care and no greater expense a 3-year colt can be raised as easily as a 3-year old steer, and if the colt is half Clyde it will sell for $150, while the steer, if he is half Shorthorn or Hereford, will only bring $85 or $90, and this is figuring him at export prices. There is a great demand for good craft horses and they always bring good prices. In some cases it is a matter of taste, but generally there are as many lovers of the horse as the ox. The industry is on the increase but it will take industry is on the increase, but it will take years at the present rate to become as widespread as that of cattle-raising. Those who are now in it are rapidly amassin fortunes, and those who enter the field early are the ones who have the best chance.—[Whitby Gazette.

IMPORTANT ARBITRATION.—We notice in the Port Perry Standard of the 18th Sept. a statement of an important arbitration under the municipal act in regard to letting water from the highway on to private property, doing the property some damage, but benfitting the road. Matters of this character, says the Uxbridge Journal, frequently come before our municipal councils, where the highway would be benefitted by the surface water thereon property, and farms would be equaly benefitted by having deep ditches placed on the sides of the highways for the purpose of draining the surface water off of such farms. But we are of the opinion that all water should find a natural outlet, whether through farms or on the highway, whilst no municipal council possess the power by statute to submerge a farm by draining the highway thereon, nor should any farm be drained by making a common ditch of the public highway. And when disputes arise between the municpal authorities and private individuals touching such matters the difference should be left to men well versed in the knowledge of the muni pal law, from whom both parties may look with confidence for justice to be done. The following is from the Standard: On Thursday and Friday last an important trial in the nature of an arbitration under the municipal act was heard before Mesers. John Lezsk, Wm. Nelson and Peter Christie. Mr. Joseph Reader, owner, and Mr. John Turner, tenant of part of lot 22nd, con. 5, Scugog, claimed damages from the corporation of Scugog for injury done by throwing water from the highway into their lands. The facts as stated go to show that originally the water crossed the oad from north to south in five places in the spring of the year. The first or easterly one in time was carried east along the road. The second, which flowed between Mr. Reader's house and barn, was turned west on the north side of the road, in the direction of the bridge. There was evidence to show that Mr. Reeder was partly instrumental in doing this, while he contended that one Lundy had done it. The third was very sin. and of no importance. The fourth and much crossed the road through a stone culvert at Shaw's gate (on Reader's farm). In time the culvert was stopped up, and by ditching the north side of the road the water was sent down the road to the lake, so that all the courses were flowing in the one channel. There was evidence offered to show that Mr. Reader pointed out the place to put it, being that where it now is, but this he denied. There was also evidence that any pensated for by having the other for channels closed. THREE BURGLARS BAGGED.-Three welldressed men, supposed to be professional burgiars, entered the farm house of Mr.B. Gibson, railroad contractor, near Whitby. Mrs. Gibson was alone at the time. She ran out and symmoned the men from the barn. Coming back she found that a watch and other articles of jewelry had been stolen. The men, aided by a neigh-boring farmer, chased the burglars, who fired three times. Chief Constable Bryan joined in the chase, and the burglars were captured after a hard run.
